Letter from Hon. James Buchanan. ed a most serious, if not momentous, aspect:

Washington, 25 August 18-17. GENTLEMEN: I bave been honored by the receipt of your kind invitation to unite with the De-28th instant. I should esteem it both a pleasure without the consent of the husband—the articles prehensible to them, or contrary to the received and a privilege to be present on that interesting oc-casion: it is therefore, with regret I have to inform I rejoice to observe that the glorious Democracy of "Old Berks" are buckling on their armor, and We observe that the death of this great states preparing for the approaching contest. It is long bright particular star in a moment disappearing, passing away forever, while the eyes of half a continent were fixed upon it. Silas Watour was a date well-tried, able, and honest; and he has been good many and our loss is his gain. He loss the regularly nominated by the regularly nominated by the regularly nominated by the pasty. Should be he said articles with them, and lived in the same way they may be the refrection of some great tout.

All traveling bag, &c., the property of her husband—and that there they lived some days in adultery—with them, and lived in the same way they may be the refrection of some great tout. tinent were fixed upon it. Silas Water was a good man; and our loss is his gain. He left the world with his honor, usuallied, his patriotism undoubted; and though he had reached three score and five years, yet his intellectual faculties were more bright or powerful. Democracy has lost one of her strongest and most beautiful pillars; the people have lost one of the itruest fields—one of the stoutest champions of their ruest fields—one of the stoutest champions of their will heave it sights; but though the heart will heave its sights, and tears will flow unbidden, yet submission to the dispensations of Providence is our duty, and the great in intellect.

The necture of the prival some days in adultery—that then they came on to Pristburgh, carrying the said articles with them, and lived in the same custody that then they came on to Pristburgh, carrying the said articles with them, and lived in the same on the prisoner is goulty of larceny of the trunk and traveling bag; that then they came on to Pristburgh, carrying the said articles with them, and lived in the same while there is a probability that then they came on to Pristburgh, carrying the said articles with them, and lived in the same whether is to be found. Under this state of facts, the question arises—is supplied by a set below the horizon." And Edmund Burke asy: "Nothing tends so much to the corruption of science as to suffer it to stagnate; these waters must be troubled before they can exert their vir. The counsel for the prisoner is gully of larceny of the trunk and traveling bag; that them they came on to Pristburgh, carrying the said articles with them, and lived in the same was the then they came on to Some great truth as yet below the horizon." And Edmund Burke asy: "Nothing tends so much to the corruption." And Edmund Burke asy: "Nothing tends so much to the corruption." And Edmund Burke asy: "Nothing tends so much to be for they may be the refraction of some great truth asy with the horizon." And Edmund Burke asy: "Nothing tends so such that then the dispensations of Providence is our duty, and that-without murmuring. The great in intellect, the good, the wise, the honored must die, as well as they have done in some other states. Our vigil as they have done in some other states. Our vigil and that even if the prisoner did carry of the wife, and her trunk, and apparent it was supri causa, or non largery, but there is another and a better world, where Death cannot enter,—where affections as weets, has been recently revived and threatens to the dispensations of Providence is our duty, and then their removal (which is denied) there is no largery, because the animus furandi—the intension of appropriating to his own agrees; wanting; and that even if the prisoner did carry of the wife, and her trunk, and apparent it was supri causa, or non larger causa, and, therefore, he cannot be lower heads is likely to take place before one of the mineral causal and the trunk, and apparent it was supri causa, and, therefore, he cannot be lower heads is likely to take place before one of the mineral causal and the trunk, and apparent it was supri causa, and, therefore, he cannot be lower theads is likely to take place before one of the mineral causal and the causes which have set the world at lower theads is likely to take place before one of the cause with largery. GREAT ITALIAN REMEDY. GREAT ITALIAN REMEDY.
PHILADELPHIA, April 26, 1846.

Being afflicted for some S years with that most listressing disease, the asthma, and for the last lyears much of the time confined to my room and at several different times my life was despaired of; I concluded to obtain some of Matom's Sicilian Syrup, which was recommended to me by a friend from New York, who stated that that cured some of the most inveterate cases.

I had cured some of the most inveterate cases hat, after using the above medicine for about 4 street, to make a veeks, I was entirely relieved, and I believe radi-No 175 Bertram st., Philad'a.

(T) Whooping Cough.—Messrs Editors—I observed some time ago a communication over the signature for "A Parent," stating that Dr. Jayne's Indiar Expectorant had been the means of saving the lives of three of his children, who were suffering severely with whooping cough; and having, but a short time before, lost one of my children by that dreadful complaint, and having another, and my only child, suffering the greatest agony with the same disease, and in hourly expectation of its death, I was induced to purchase a bottle of it, and commenced using it according to the directions—and to the surprise of all it began to mend in fitteen minutes after we commenced using it, and the child has now completely recovered.

I have no acquaintance with Dr. Jayne, but I hereby return him a husband's and a father's grateful acknowledgments.
