WEEKLY REVIEW OF THE MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE POST,
FRIDAY MORNING, Sept. 24, 1847.

REMARKS.—During the past week there has been a decided improvement in business, as compared with previous weeks. Prices, however, remain without any material change. There is every evidence of a large business being transacted this fall. The stocks of all kinds of goods are very heavy, and the supplies of Pittsburgh manufactured articles were never better than at present.

If Providence should send us a good rain, it would be quite as acceptable to our merchants and manufacturers as the golden shower of Danæ. The water must be at a good stage, at this season of the year, to give life and animation to business.

MONEY MATTERS.—The Money market still continues easy. The demand for currency is limited. Good business paper is readily discounted in our banks, and the business of out of doors negotiators is decidedly dull. The Notaries complain terribly of the times, and wonder why somebody don't break up, just for the novelty of the thing. The recent failures in New York and London, have no more influence here than if they had occurred in Tombuctoo or Pekin. The fact is, the Great West has her coffers full, and John Bull will have to change his habits and wake a little earlier in the morning to empty them. "Currency" is purchased by the brokers at 1 per cent. discount Eastern Exchange continues at ¼ per cent. premium for par funds.

NEW AND DANGEROUS COUNTERFEITS.—Messrs. Hill & Curry, Brokers, on Wood street, have shown us a new counterfeit on the Merchants and Manufacturers' Bank of Pittsburgh, which is a very dangerous one, and well calculated to deceive even good judges of paper money. It is a $5 bill, dated March 1, 1845, payable to S. Herron; No. 4134; and signed T. Scott, Pres't., and W. H. Denny, Cash. The signatures are much better done than the engraving, which is rather coarse, particularly the figure $5 in the corners. The circular name of the Bank in the genuine bills, nearly touches the border of the notes, while on the spurious issue there is a space of 1-16 of an inch. The counterfeits are ¼ of an inch shorter than the genuine notes, and the paper is much thinner, and of a more yellow complexion.

Lost.

ON the 14th, somewhere between Peanock & Mitchell's and the Point, a small Wallet, containing six pockets, in which was about $30—$10 on the Bank of Harrisburgh, and $2 on Tennessee—description of the rest not recollected. It also contained a bill of goods rendered against me. The finder will be liberally rewarded by leaving the wallet and contents with William S. Keller, on Wood street.
