L. HARPER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

PITTSBURGH:
MONDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 11, 1847.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR GOVERNOR,
FRANCIS R. SHUNK,
OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER,
MORRIS LONGSTRETH,
OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY.

SENATE—ALEX. BLACK.
ASSEMBLY—JAMES B. SAWYER,
J. H. M'ELHENNY,
JOSEPH COOPER,
JAMES S. LONG.
TREASURER—JOHN C. DAVITT.
COMMISSIONER—R. DONALDSON.
AUDITOR—EDWARD M'CORKLE.

☞ Democrats, turn out to the Meeting to-night. Let none stay away. Maryland has set us a glorious example. One more fire, Boys, and the day is ours!

"Come as the winds come when forests are rended.
Come as the waves come when navies are stranded."

GRAND DEMOCRATIC RALLY!

THE DEMOCRACY WILL HOLD A

GRAND MASS MEETING!

At Murray's, (Broadhurst's Old Stand,)

On Monday ev'g, 11th inst., at 7 o'clock,

Where all friends of sound Democratic principles are expected. If true to ourselves, Nativism, and its ally Whiggery, will be routed. Remember Democratic Baltimore!!! A triumph as glorious awaits the sons of Pennsylvania to-morrow.

Messrs. Shaler, Burke, M'Candless, Heidleburg M'Graw, Sawyer, Shannon, Kerr, and others, will speak on the occasion. By order of the County Committee. A. WYLIE, Sec'y.

☞ The Whigs publicly deny that they are co-operating with the Natives for the defeat of Shunk and Longstreth, and the election of Irvin and Patton; and affect great sympathy for our adopted fellow-citizens, and charge upon the Democrats of Philadelphia city a bargain with the Natives there. This is all gammon. The Whigs and Natives united in 1844 to defeat Shunk—the Whig authorities of the city and county of Philadelphia did not interfere to stop the outrages committed by the Natives upon the lives and property of the Catholics—the packed Whig Juries of Philadelphia refused to convict the Native rioters and murderers who were arrested; and convicted an Irishman for defending his own property, and sent him to the Penitentiary, from which he was released by a pardon from Governor Shunk, upon the recommendation of the Judges who tried the case. For this act of clemency the Governor was denounced by Whigs and Natives. The Whigs of Allegheny got up and paid for the false affidavits in relation to Governor Shunk and the Catholics;—they printed them in their papers and gave them circulation, with endorsements of the characters of the oath makers. They disregarded the decencies and proprieties of social life, and published the conversations of Mr. Shunk in the house of a friend, on the Bible question. One of their most prominent and talented men wrote the Constitution of the Native association for this county, and with nine hundred of his party, signed it.

If the Whig party did this portion of our fellow citizens injustice, then let them, like honest men, come out and say so now. They denounced the Democrats for sustaining and advocating religious toleration in 1844, and for adhering to the doctrines of the republican party of the revolution.—If they were in error and the democrats right, why not confess it? This they dare not do; their "Native" allies would vote for the Native candidates; and to defeat Governor Shunk they must have the Native vote.

The Whigs and Natives.

At a Native meeting, at Cowan's tavern, in Baldwin township, on the 21 instant, Mr. M'Gibbonay, a whig, presided; and Thomas Varner, Esq., the Chairman of the Whig County Committee, acted as Secretary. They kept it going, we are informed, all afternoon; and had an adjourned meeting in the evening. The orators, were "Joe Barker" and Mr. Morgan, the Native candidate for Assembly. Does this not look like a union of forces? Who ever heard of a Democrat assisting at the meetings of Natives—keeping order that the ravings of Joe Barker might be heard?

☞ The Gazette of Saturday, referring to our statements in relation to the hostility of its party to the Irish and German emigrants, and adopted citizens of this country, says:—"We desire neither to court their influence nor their votes." Do not be at all alarmed, neighbor. We have never intimated that you had any such desire, and we do not think you are likely ever to be charged with it. You are much more anxious to court the smiles, and gain the support of "the rich and the well-born"—those who, according to the old leaders of your party, "ought to have a permanent share in the government." Even if you should make the attempt, it would prove an entire failure: for the Irish are not very easily cajoled, and the Germans know your horrid antipathy to any thing "Dutch."—They are not likely to forget your slurs upon them, whenever you have had an opportunity offered in one of your "sketches."

☞ The apologists of Mexico say that the supporters of our country are "soul-less partisans," who are sacrificing their fellow citizens on the altar of a mad personal ambition." The Congress of the United States authorized the employment of men to carry on the war begun by Mexico, and appropriated money for their support. Some of the purest patriots in the country are engaged in conducting it to an issue; and yet such is the language of the Federal press!

☞ The editor of the Gazette, who wrote down Judas Iscariot as the first Loco Foco; and who is now the apologist of Mexico; says that the cause of Democracy should "fall to the earth, or to some depth profound beneath it;" and all this because we have told the truth about his party—their opposition to our adopted citizens, and their persecution of the Roman Catholics.

The recent rise in the river will set coal afloat again, and bring it down. It now holds at 13c in the market.—Cin. Com.

A Base Federal Trick Exposed.

We cut the following article from the American of Saturday, and pronounce the charge contained in it—so far as the Democratic party is concerned—to be infamously false:

Whigs, be on your Guard.

We have just learned of a trick attempted to be played off by the Natives. They were this morning in the Market House distributing tickets to the people from the country, with all the Whig candidates for Assembly, but one—the name of Lewis C. J. Noble stricken off, and that of some Native substituted. One of the distributers of the false ticket was caught in the act. He excused himself by saying that it was a Whig and Native ticket. No such ticket is known or recognised. The fellow on detection sloped.

Since writing the above, one of the sheets have been brought to us, by which we learn that it is partly a Native, and partly a Locofoco trick, or more probably a joint one of the two. Some of the tickets have the name of "Joseph Bowman," and others that of "James B. Sawyer" substituted for that of Lewis C. J. Noble. We may therefore call it, what it truly is, a "Native and Locofoco ticket."

We have reliable authority for stating that these tickets were got up by members of the Whig party, and printed at the office of a neutral paper in this city; and one of the most prominent actors in the business is a Mr. McPherson, who was a Whig delegate, from Indiana township, to the Convention, at which Mr. Noble was nominated. We were told at the time, that several of the delegates to that Convention stated that they had voted for the nomination of Mr. Noble, to get Catholic votes for their ticket, but that they would not support him at the polls—and the conduct of this Mr. McPherson looks as if they were going to keep their word.

The American should not be so indignant at this opposition—by members of his own party—to Mr. Noble, because he is a member of the Catholic persuasion. In many of the election districts in this county, in 1844, when a Democrat went to the window to deposit his vote, the Whigs would cry out, "There goes another Catholic vote—another vote for Polk and the Pope;" and yet the editor of the American, if not the very foremost, certainly the most reckless, in this crusade against the Catholics then, is now condemning his own people—those who battled with him shoulder to shoulder in the contest of 1844—for scheming to defeat Mr. Noble. The Whig party created and fermented this religious prejudice, and if they can't manage it to their advantage now, when they desire to head another course, it is no concern of ours. The Democratic party, as a party, never has and never will mix up religion with politics. In its faith, members of all religious sects can meet on common political ground; and in its numbers are embraced people of all creeds.

That Mr. Noble's name is scratched off the whig ticket, should rather be a rejoicing on the part of the American. Look at the conduct of that journal in 1840, when it published a gross and outrageous libel upon the Rev. Mr. O'Reiley, an eminent and wor hy Catholic Priest; and when an investigation was desired by the friends of that gentleman, a whig and anti-masonic jury refused to find a bill of indictment against the libeller. Turn over the file of that paper in 1844, and see the vile and disgusting attacks printed at that time against the people of Mr. Noble's creed. How can the author and publisher of these shameless and truthless charges be indignant at the attempt of his own people to defeat Mr. Noble, who, we are free to confess, is a worthy and good citizen. He can't condemn them, because they are honestly living up to the doctrines taught and practised by the whig party in times gone by.

☞ "A Catholic Layman," an extract from whom appears in the Gazette of Saturday, pronounces it a lie that the Whig party in any manner countenanced the destruction of Catholic Churches in Philadelphia; and tries to throw the blame of the horrid scenes in Kensington upon General Cadwallader, and the other military officers on the ground, during a part of the time when a mob governed the city. This "Catholic Layman," whose attachment to the Catholic Church we are led to doubt must have forgotten that Morton McMichael, Sheriff of Philadelphia county at the time, was a Whig; that it was his duty, as the chief civil officer of the county, to take immediate steps to protect the property and the lives of all the citizens, whether Catholics or members of other religious societies, and whether natives, or citizens who happened to be born in Germany or Ireland;—that the "mob could have been easily quelled in the first outbreak of disorder," if the Sheriff had done his duty; and that, when the military were assembled, they were under the orders of the civil authorities—under the orders of Morton McMichael. If this "layman" does not know the truth to be as we have stated, he is ignorant of what every one else knew at the time, and is also ignorant of another fact; that the Whig native Federal member of Congress from that district threw himself between the authorities and the mob, to sustain them in the work of Church destruction; and to encourage the manly employment of abusing and maltreating women and children, because they were the wives and offspring of Catholics. This "layman" may also learn that it was the Whig authorities of Boston and Charlestown who sustained those who sent the inmates of a Female Seminary, shrieking and half clad, from their beds at midnight, and drove them to seek shelter where they could, guided by the light of the burning edifice. He may also learn that it was Whig natives, who in this city reproached Governor Shunk for having appeared in a public procession of his Roman Catholic fellow-citizens. All these facts are too well known to be successfully contradicted; and they will long be remembered against the Federal Whig Native Party.

Release of the Encarnacion Prisoners—At length we have the pleasure of announcing the release of our brave countrymen who were taken prisoners at Encarnation and other places by the Mexicans. It will be recollected that Col. De Russy, with his command, was despatched from Tampico, some months since, to effect the release of the American prisoners. Yesterday the United States steamship McKim arrived in the river from Vera Cruz, having on board a number of these men. The McKim will probably reach the city to day. About thirty five of the released prisoners (teamsters) remained at Tampico, in the employ of the U. S. quartermaster at that place.—N. O. Pic. Sept. 28.

☞ The Cincinnati Herald announces that Mr. D. Jones, a colored tragedian, will be there in a few days! What an Othello!

More Federal Capital.

Under this head we referred, a few days since, to the base manner in which Governor Shunk had been assailed by the Federalists, in the eastern part of the State, for having granted a brief respite to an unfortunate being, who was under sentence of death at Easton. Some of the Federal party have alleged, as we understand, that our statement was made exclusively with a view to political effect; that the Whigs had said nothing about the matter, if it had taken place; and that it was even doubtful whether any thing of the kind had taken place. With a view to satisfy our friends on this subject, we copy the following letter from Gov. Shunk, which will explain in his own way, the state of the case.

In copying this letter, we need only premise that Mr. Hoskel addressed the Governor with a view to ascertain the truth in relation to this reprieve. A Federal sheriff was cognizant of all the facts; but when asked to inform the public, refused to do so; preferring to let the misrepresentations and calumnies of his political friends go forth to the people unrebuked and uncontradicted. A more noble, benevolent and truly touching appeal to the reason and best feelings of his friends, few men could make, than will be found in this letter:

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30, 1847.

W. G. HOUSEL.

Dear Sir—I have received, and thank you for your friendly letter of the 25th inst., in which you state "that your community was thrown into quite an excitement in consequence of the respite your Sheriff received for Tearney, who was to be hung on Friday.

I very much regret that there should be any excitement produced by this act of mine, and I am quite certain that when the reasons for postponing the execution are rightly apprehended, it will receive the approbation of all your people. You are right in taking the ground that I had some higher motive for the respite than political effect. I would despise myself, and render myself despicable in the estimation of all good men, if I could not, in deciding a grave question like the one submitted in this case, realize motives that range far above the influence of selfishness.

The warrant for the execution of Laurence Tearney was not issued until some time after the conviction, because of an application for his pardon, which, a full copy of the testimony given at the trial was presented, and a strong exhibition of the reasons in favor of the application was made.

The subject was a serious one, and while it was under consideration, I took a journey to the West. I returned in poor health, and being unable to attend regularly to business, some further time elapsed before I came to a decision; hence the period between the conviction and the date of the warrant was extended. The 1st of October was the day fixed for the execution—I heard no more upon the subject until within a few weeks, when I was informed by the Hon. J. M. Porter, and the Rev. Thomas Reardon, that owing to circumstances which could not have been foreseen, the unfortunate criminal was excluded, for a considerable period, since his death warrant was issued, from that religious instruction which he so much needs to prepare him for death. And I was asked by these gentlemen, in view of these facts, to postpone his execution, so that he might have time and means to prepare himself for his doom. The law being secure of its victim, my humanity was invoked, under these painful circumstances to, prolong his days, for a few weeks. What could I do? What could friends or enemies expect that I would do? What would any mortal man do, armed for the time with the power of life and death? Who, that feels the responsibility of the position I occupy, and his capacity to meet and do his duty, would shrink from its conscientious performance!

This poor man, in whom dwells an immortal soul, and his friends, expressed the hope that his everlasting destiny might be changed by the redeeming power of the religion of our Saviour, and I was implored in the spirit of mercy, and in the most solemn manner, to grant a little more time, in order that the effort might be made.—Could I hesitate, while a hope remained that such an object might be accomplished? No! I freely granted the reasonable and humane request; and I know and feel that this act will meet with universal approval. I would do great injustice to a christian community, by supposing, that after the facts are known in this case, there would be a thirst of vengeance felt so strong, as not most cheerfully to grant its imploring victim a few short weeks for repentance.

I have thus, in compliance with your suggestion, made the desired explanation, and am,

Respectfully your friend,
FRS. R. SHUNK.

THE IRVIN "PASS."

Our whig friends are so tickled, says the Centre Democrat, at that pass which they pretend was given by the President to Santa Anna, that they forget that their own candidate, Gen. Irvin, has given the swindling community a "pass" which Santa Anna himself, scoundrel as he is, would scorn to use. It was called the Bankrupt Law, and said in effect:

"Let this rascal 'pass' through all his difficulties, and cheat his creditors out of their just dues and hard earnings."

This is the Irvin "Pass." Think of it, ye honest and upright citizens of Berks county, of all parties, when ye come to the polls on election day

Correspondence of the Morning Post.

Great Freshet.

BLAIRSVILLE, October 8th, 1847.

Editor Morning Post: The Section Boat Westmoreland, Capt. Ford, went over the dam above this place last night about 12 o'clock. The crew are all safe. The boat will be an entire wreck.—Very little of the cargo will be recovered. A few bbls. of flour have been saved. The damage done to the Canal is not known. The ground between the Canal and River, below this place, is all covered with water. There must be serious breaks on the canal, or at least it is feared so. It is presumed that the boat above referred to was loaded by Mr. Taaffe, of your city. The loss is regretted, as he is a gentleman much esteemed and deservedly respected wherever known. The river is higher at this place than it has been for the last ten years.

Very respectfully yours,
D. H. B.

Steamer Hibernia on Fire.

STEAMER HIBERNIA No. 2,
Wednesday Evening, Oct. 6, 1847.

EDITOR OF POST—While on our downward trip we were suddenly startled by the cry of fire and the smoke come up thick and fast, from the hold towards the bow, under the boilers. The pilot at once ran us ashore; and then began a scene of yelling and confusion which I never saw equalled. But one plank was put out, in consequence of the crowd impeding the crew, and men and women were jumping into the river, or falling in on all sides.—After the passengers had all got their baggage, or what was left of it, on the shore, all hands turned in to put out the fire, and after an hour's work, the danger seemed over, but after many had quit work, it burst out more fiercely than ever. So great was the danger that the captain ordered all the furniture to be thrown over board, which was done.—All now set to work with redoubled energy, and after a time subdued the flames. The boat was not much damaged; nor any part of the cargo except that in the bow. Whatever could be injured by water is spoiled. The captain with his usual promptitude has got matters pretty well arranged and will start in about five hours.

Secretary Walker.—Bankruptcy.

The Federal editors, with a view to prove that their candidate for Canal Commissioner is execusable in having taken advantage of the Bankrupt law, and to palliate the act of their candidate for Governor in supporting the bill throughout, have asserted that the Secretary of the Treasury (Hon. Robert J. Walker,) also voted for this bill; but they fail to tell their readers that he did so under express instructions of the Legislature of his state, and that, (even if he had seen fit to violate the will of his constituents by voting against it,) his vote would not have prevented its passage. They have unblushingly asserted, too, that Mr. Walker had taken the benefit of this law; thus defrauding his creditors and avoiding the payment of his debts.—This they know to be a wilful and malicious, or it is an ignorant falsehood. Mr. Walker never, in any way, availed himself of the provisions of the Bankrupt Law of 1841, or of any other bankrupt or insolvent law; nor has he ever taken any step what ever to obtain release from his pecuniary responsibilities, except by paying all the claims standing against him, as fast as he has come into possession of the means to do so. He has acted throughout as an honest man; who is not ashamed to be poor, notwithstanding the inconvenience of poverty.

☞ Parker Pillsbury, an abolitionist of the Garrison school, calls the United States Government "a communion of organized pirates, for whose utter extermination every civilized nation on the globe should feel bound to labor."

This man was a Whig; and on the entire disbanding of the Abolitionists will doubtless be found battling with his old associates.

☞ The Kittanning Democrat very properly says:—

Keep it before the People—There is one thing we wish to keep before the people, which is, that the Democratic party is, and always has been, the friends of the poor; the friends of equal rights—the friends of free suffrage; and that the Federalists have always gone against the popular rights, whenever, and wherever they have been attacked.

For the Morning Post.

The Telegraph has recently been very ardent in its support of the rights of our adopted citizens and particularly the Catholic portion of them.—Some of us would like to know whether C. B. M'Smith, Esqr. the reputed author of the Telegraph's editorials, did not in 1844, carry about though this County, and circulate in the Protestant settlements, the whig papers of that day, containing the lying affidavits, charging Shunk and the Catholics with deserating the American Flag? Whether one of the speeches made by him to his Whig friends in the County, he did not repeat these lies, and say if Shunk was elected, that the Bible would be thrown out of the Public Schools, and Catholicism reign supreme in the land, and that Shunk's election would be a Catholic triumph? Will the sensible people of this county be fooled by a man who, to excite religious prejudices, and make votes for the Whig candidate, blows hot and cold in this way—

DEMOCRATS OF '41.

JUSTICE OF THE WAR.

Extract from Gen. Taylor's Proclamation to the Mexican people, issued and circulated by him after the victorious battle of Palo Alto:

☞ "For many years our citizens have been "subjected to repeated insults and injuries, our "vessels and cargoes have been seized and confis"cated, our merchants been plundered, maimed, "imprisoned without cause, and without re"paration. At length YOUR GOVERNMENT "ACKNOWLEDGED THE JUSTICE OF OUR "CLAIMS, AND AGREED BY TREATY TO "MAKE SATISFACTION, BY THE PAYMENT "OF SEVERAL MILLIONS OF DOLLARS; "BUT THIS TREATY HAS BEEN VIOLATED "BY YOUR RULERS, AND THE STIPULAT"ED PAYMENTS HAVE BEEN WITHHELD. "Our late efforts to terminate all difficulties by "peaceful negotiations, have been rejected by the "dictator Paredes, and our minister of Peace "whom your rulers had agreed to receive, REFUS"ED A HEARING. He has been treated with in"dignity, and PAREDES HAS ANNOUNCED "THAT WAR EXISTS BETWEEN US. This "war, thus first proclaimed by him, has been ac"knowledged as an existing fact by our Congress "and President, with perfect unanimity and will "be prosecuted with vigor and energy, against "your army and rulers, but those of the Mexicans "who remain neutral will not be molested."

COMING OUT FROM THE FOUL PARTY!

READ, READ.

The following letter was sent to the editor of the Bedford Gazette, a few days ago, for publication—The Gazette says: Mr. Karns is a gentleman of great respectability, and has hitherto occupied a prominent position in the Federal Mexican party. We hail his entrance into the Republican party with great pleasure. Who comes next? Listen to the sound and logical reasons adduced for this decided step:

Gen. Bowman:—I have always voted the Whig ticket; but I cannot at present go with that party,—I cannot go against my own country—the land that gave me birth! I am a friend of the existing war; and cannot see, on due reflection, that it could have been honorably avoided;—and as the Democratic party appear to be the exclusive friends of the war, I enrol my name under their banner.

DANIEL KARNS,

Formerly a citizen of Monroe tp., but at present of South Woodberry tp., Bedford county.

A Pretty Idea.—Prof. Schoolcraft, in his forthcoming "Notes on the Iroquois," says: Had the imaginative Greeks lived in Allegheny county, Pa., they would have pictured the Genesee and Allegheny rivers as two girls shaking hands, parting, the one to skip and leap and run eastward to find the St. Lawrence, and the other to laugh thro' the Ohio valley, until she gradually melted in the Gulf of Mexico.

GLORIOUS NEWS!

"THE GOOD OLD STATE OF MARYLAND!"

Triumph of the Democracy!!!

Nativism and old Federalism Banished!!

Owing to the inclemency of the weather, delaying the Eastern Mail due early last night, we were unable to give any news of the election in Maryland, (which took place on Wednesday last,) in our paper of this morning.

By the Baltimore Sun, of Thursday morning, we have returns from the whole City of Baltimore, a part of Baltimore County, and also a part of Harford County, in which the vote was as follows:

In the City of Baltimore, Philip F. Thomas, the Democratic candidate for Governor, has a majority of FIFTEEN HUNDRED AND SIXTY-SIX VOTES over Wm. T. Goldsborough, his Federal opponent.

Robert M. M'Lane, a young man, and a new candidate, has received a majority for congress, of FIVE HUNDRED AND FORTY ONE VOTES, over John P. Kennedy, the Big gun of Federalism in that city. This is the 4th Congressional district, composed of the first 15 wards of Baltimore.

The entire Democratic Ticket for the House of Delegates is elected by a majority of FOURTEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-FOUR VOTES.

In the 3d Congressional District, composed of the remaining five wards of the city of Baltimore, Carroll county, and Howard District, in Baltimore county, the returns are not complete. Mr. Ligon, Democrat, leads Pitcher, (an Independent, supported by the Federalists,) in the five wards of the city, and three of the polls in the county, NINE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-SEVEN VOTES, and Mr. Thomas' vote at these three polls exceeds that of Mr. Ligon by SIXTY-FOUR.

From Harford county, in the fifth Congressional district, there are returns from only one poll, (Havre de-Grace,) where Thomas is ahead of Goldsborough FOURTEEN VOTES, and the Democratic candidate for Congress leads his Federal opponent five votes. This is in the strongest Federal election district in the county.

From these returns, we have not a doubt that the good old State of Maryland, God bless her, has put to route the Federal, Native, anti-war, anti-American Whig party—that she is re leemed, regenerated, disenthralled;" and will nobly sustain henceforth, the glorious standard of Jeffersonian Democracy!!!

A Democratic Governor;
A Democratic House of Delegates;
And Democratic reform will now, we trust, distinguish Maryland.

LATEST NEWS!

SUNDAY NIGHT.

From the Baltimore Sun, of yesterday morning, we have official and reported returns from the whole State; which show that Mr. Thomas has been chosen Governor, by nearly FIFTEEN HUNDRED MAJORITY!

The Democracy have made a clear gain of SEVEN members of the House of Delegates.—The federalists will, however, doubtless, have a majority in both branches of the State Legislature;

In the Congressional canvass, we have elected but two members; while in the last Congress we had four, and the federalists two.

The handsome majority given to Mr. Thomas, indicates the true sentiment of the People of Maryland; which is decidedly Democratic: as local causes are made to operate in the Congressional and Delegate elections.

Georgia Election.

By a Telegraphic Dispatch from the city of Washington, the editors of the Sun have received intelligence respecting the Georgia election—from which there is every reason to believe the Democratic candidate for Governor is elected.

The Late Rains.

From the Sun, we learn also, that parts of the city of Baltimore have been completely flooded. The damage along the Baltimore and Ohio Road, and also, along the Washington Road, has been very great. As far as we can learn, along the whole route from Baltimore to this city, there has been a great destruction of property, from the rise in the streams. We will give further particulars to-morrow.

THE OSAGE RIVER IN MISSOURI.—The St. Louis Union says:—

"The citizens interested directly in the navigation of this river, have gone to work on it as volunteers. They have already improved several shoals, so as to give 30 inches of water, where only seven were before; and their improvements are said to be of a permanent character. From 50 to $60,000, it is said, will improve the whole river to the Indian line. A call for volunteers has been made; and the people seem disposed to prosecute the work until winter. This is a novel, but sure mode of improving rivers."

We would add, that it is a plan, the constitutionality of which will not be doubted. It would save to the country a great deal of time, that could sometimes be better employed, in Congress, if a similar manifestation of public spirit should be witnessed in many other quarters.

Greek Girls.—Dr. Valentine Mott, in his sketches of travel, states, that while at a ball in Greece, he was presented to the daughter of the celebrated Marco Bozzaris. She was studying English, she said, that she might read in our tongue, the spirit-stirring lines of Halleck addressed to her father.—The doctor asked her to dance, and she replied that a true Greek never danced, unless with her own sex.

LOCAL MATTERS.

THE FLOOD IN THE ALLEGHENY.—We cannot say how many feet high the Allegheny was on Saturday, as the channel is not measured; but it was certainly a big river. The island below Allegheny city was entirely covered, and one dwelling at least surrounded by water. The drift wood came down in immense quantities; the piers of the bridges are loaded with logs, slabs, &c. We noticed a number of men, with axes, saws, &c. busily employed in hauling in and piling up whatever of value appeared within their reach. This is a profitable business while it lasts. A frame went down on Saturday, which had the appearance of a bridge. We have heard of a death by drowning, a few miles up the river. A man is reported to have fallen from a raft, and was carried off by the swift current, before his friends could rescue him. The lumber merchants had considerable trouble on Friday night; the piles of boards, &c., upon the wharves, were removed three times. We are told that considerable lots were swept away. A flat boat was snatched from its moorings below the old Allegheny bridge, and taken down: Some poor persons may get it down the river so that society will lose nothing, though the real owner of the flat may.

☞ A friend has loaned us a little book entitled "Revelations of Rights," which has been lately published in this city by A. A. Anderson. It was written by E. S. Ellmaker, Esq., formerly of Lancaster, brother of Hon. Amos Ellmaker. It is a very interesting little work to a person who takes an interest in the new ideas of political and social rights which now agitate the world. We commend it to the public, but cannot tell where it is to be purchased.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On Saturday, a little boy (whose name we did not learn,) while playing near a team, was kicked by one of the horses, on the head, so severely, that a portion of his brains oozed out. Medical aid was called, but in vain. After lingering in the greatest torture, until yesterday, he expired.

DROWNED.—On Saturday, a man whose name appeared to be Rhey, fell from a coal boat, while opposite the mouth of Wood street, and was drowned. He floated down some distance, and was then picked up by some persons who went out in a yawl. He was dead. A Coroner's Inquest was held; and a verdict made up in accordance with the above facts.

MR. MORRIS.—The Cincinnati Enquirer says in reference to the death of this young tragedian:—

"We are informed that he was in a perfect state of health during the day, and that he made his appearance at the Theatre at rehearsal hour, he being cast in the character of "Master Walter," in the play of the "Hunchback." He went to his room at Holmes' Hotel, for the purpose of making him self perfect in his part, and was stretched out on his bed in an easy position, with his 'part' in his hand, when he died. He died about 6 o'clock, and some say that his death was occasioned by a sudden rush of blood to his head, and others that he had taken poison, mistaking it for a slight purgative medicine."

The Signal Says:—

"We learn that Mr. Morris was to have been married to an amiable young lady of this city, next week. His premature loss is deeply deplored, not only by his affianced bride, but by a large circle of friends."

STOCKINGS, &c.—W. Daly, 5th street, has the most extensive collection of stockings, &c., that is to be found in the city, perhaps west of the Alleghenny mountains. He is an honest and clever man, and merchants and others would do well to patronize him.

☞ "The Albatross" has made its appearance, but we have not been favored with a sight of it.

☞ Mr. Joseph T. Smith of Mercer is to fill the place made vacant in the Second Presbyterian church by the death of Rev. Dunlap.

THEATRE.—The friends of Mr. John Dunn should not forget that this evening he takes his benefit. His bill is excellent, and his professional claims are sufficient to ensure a good turn out.

"Richarde Ye Thirde," is a new piece here; and will shake the blues most horribly. If any of our friends are sorely afflicted with any diseases in the neighborhood of hypocondriacism, we advise them to call on Dunn to-night.

MADAME ADLAMOWICZ.—We need scarcely call the attention of our readers to the announcement of another Concert by this lady to-night; and yet it is due to her that we should invite all, who wish to enjoy a rich musical treat, to call and hear her—as it is the last opportunity which will be enjoyed in this city. The sweet and touching strains of "The Exile of Erin," "The last rose of Summer," "Where hae ye been a' the day," "Dear Harp of my Country," and others which she sings, are not often to be heard, in the course of a lifetime, as she sings them. We hope her last meeting with our citizens may be a memorable one—most profitable to her, as we are sure it will be delightful to them.

☞ Mr. and Mrs. Kent are living in Cincinnati. Mr K. is a cripple and Mrs. K. has retired from the stage.

☞ A raft was crushed upon a pier of the St. Clair street bridge, on Saturday; and the men barely escaped with their lives.

CATCH THE RASCAL.—Mr. Sproul has offered a reward for the discovery of the persons who fired his house on Thursday morning.

New Counterfeit.—The Ohio State Journal says, a new counterfeit three dollar note on the Bank of Sandusky, has made its appearance. It is signed B. Higgins, President, and W. W. Wetherall, Cashier, dated October 1st, 1844, letter A., payable to O. Smith. Their general appearance is well calculated to deceive and the signatures extremely well done; the general appearance rather lighter than the genuine. No notes have been issued by this bank, of a date since 1842, and none payable to O. Smith.

Mammoth Potato:—Mr. Isaac Park, of Obion county, Tennessee, has sent us a sweet potato, the product of his farm; which weighs five pounds.—This, we are informed, was dug from the poorest piece of ground on his plantation. If the poor lands of Obion produce such potatoes, what may we expect from the rich ones?

We have also a stalk of corn, from the plantation of Mr. John G. Warner, 15 miles from Memphis, with eight nearly full sized ears on it. Tennessee is hard to beat in corn and potatoes.

[Memphis Appeal.

CHRISTIE'S Galvanic Remedies for all kinds of nervous affections they have been used with entire success in all cases of Rheumatism, acute or chronic, applying to the head, face or limbs; gout, toleroux, bronchitis, vertigo, nervous or sick headache, indigestion, paralysis, palsy, epilepsy, fits, convulsions, cramp, palpitation of the heart, neuralgia, general debility, &c. In cases of dyspepsia, which is simply a nervous derangement of the digestive organs—they have been found equally successful.

These applications are in the form of Rings and Magnetic Fluid, Bands, Bracelets, Belts, &c.

Brigadier General Sterling Price has returned home. We learn he purposes returning to Santa Fe this fall, to take command of the forces in New Mexico. General Price has gained a high and enviable reputation for his conduct and bravery while acting as colonel, which will live when the names of his traducers will be forgotten. His promotion is the just meed of reward of a gallant and brave officer. His country in future time will still delight to honor him.

(Jefferson (Mo.) Inquirer, September 25th.

Troops for the War.—We understand that the General commanding this division of our army has under his command at least 7,000 men, distributed in the towns along the Mississippi, between this city and Memphis. They consist of the new regiments of volunteers which have been raised in Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky, and Tennessee. We understand that this large force will be ordered immediately to join General Scott; and with the force he now has, and which will join him from General Taylor's division, will swell General Scott's army to near 30,000 men.
