Their oracles had forefold that such a resting place would be denoted by their seeing an eagle devouring a serpent on a rock, and at Chapultepec this prediction was verified. From it they beheld the eagle on one of the tocks in the lake devouring a serpent. The event was at once symbolized in their records, and subsequently represented on the flag and the coin of the nation. The hill is surrounded by a belt of noble cypress trees, one of which, known as Montezuma's cypress, from having been planted before or during the reign of that Prince, measures fifty one feet in circumference.

The Lots are very handsomely situated, affording the best sites for dwelling house or manufactories, and being in the midst of a busy and increasing population, must increase rapidly in value.
