GREAT ITALIAN REMEDY.
PHILADELPHIA, April 26, 1846.

Being afflicted for some 8 years with that most distressing disease, the asthma, and for the last 3 years much of the time confined to my room and at several different times my life was despaired of; I concluded to obtain some of Mattoni's Sicilian Syrup, which was recommended to me by a friend from New York who stated that it had cured some of the most inveterate cases known to the medical profession. Suffice it to say, that, after using the above medicine for about 4 weeks, I was entirely relieved, and I believe radically cured. Yours with respect,

PULMONARY BALSAM—Messrs. Reed & Cutler: I feel it a duty I owe to my fellow creatures to state something more in regard to your valuable Pulmonary Balsam. Since I first used the Balsam, about eleven years ago, the happy effect of which I then gave an account of, I have had several severe complaints and attacks at my lungs, one a few days since, and in every instance I have used the Balsam alone with complete and perfect success. It has effected relief and cure within a very few days. It is certainly a safe medicine. I do not know that it will cure a fixed consumption, but I believe it will be in many cases a preventative, and prevention is better than cure. I do therefore, for the love of my fellow beings, earnestly recommend the use of this Balsam, in all pulmonary complaints. I am confident that it has been the means of preserving my life to this day.
