The Morning Post. L. HARPER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. PITTSBURGH: THURSDAY MORNING, JANUARY 27, 1845 VOICE OF ALLEGHENY COUNTY! FOR PRESIDENT. JAMES BUCHANAN, Subject to the decision of the National Cons

The Democratic National Convention. The Washington Union of Monday night, Jan. 24th, says. A full meeting of the republican members of both houses of Congress was held to-night in the Capitol. A report from the joint com of both houses, appointed at a former n cetting, was made, recommending to the republican party to hold the national convention for tion of President and Vice President, at the usual time and place-viz: at Baltimore, on the 4th Monday in May. Motions were successively made to substitute Cincinnati as the place, and the 4th of July as the time of meeting; both of which were rejected. And then the original report of the joint committee was unanimously adopted; and the meeting adjourned at an early hour in the best feeling and spirits. We avoid further details, because an official account of the proceedings is directed to be published in the dem

Meeting of the Whigs. In the Telegraph of yesterday morning, we find a call for a meeting of the Whigs, of Allegheny county, friendly to the nomination of HERRY CLAY for the Presidency, to which is appended about a thousand names. The call is for Saturday evening next, at the old Court House. It surprised us not a little, to see this call in the Telegraph alone; while there are so many professedly Whig presses, and adjuncts to that party in the city. Has either of the other " Whig journals, pursued too questionable a course in relation to the war! Has Mr. Brooks, since he has been in Washington, lost the confidence of the party by defending Hampton, and vouching for his soundness ? or, is he too much desposed to fa vor the claims of Gen. Taylor? Intimations of this kind, have been thrown out in certain quarters, at any rate. And then where were the mon grels and the piratical concerns, whose influences are expected for the Federal party! They are supported by that party. Did they refuse to insert the call? If they did, they are a more aban doned set than we have believed them to be. party confidence towards the Telegraph, at all events. We think it is much more deservedly given than more substantial proofs which are given elsewhere. The Telegraph is not liable, even to a suspicion of charity itself for either the men or the measures of the Democratic party: and though we can neither commend or approve the political course of its editor, towards his opponents, we are at liberty to say, that, in his intercourse with his fellow men, his conduct is that of a gentleman. Again we say, we are really plea-
