"Il scarcely know what opinion to express of this war, nor what would be the best policy our Government could pursue. I had hoped, that the profound judgment, the long experience, and extraordinary ability of such eminent Statesmen as Henry Clay and Daniel Webster, could have distated some remedy, to have extricated our country from the unpleasant situation in which she is now placed—but how sorely are we disappointed. The late speech of Mr. Clay has already done more to profung this war, than anything that could possibly have been desired by our bitterest enemy. The Mexican people derive encouragement and hope from such sentiments as Mr. Clay and a number of Whis prints promulgate; and if they and, from their experience know the value of liberty. Thirtieth Congress.—First Session.

Washington, March 1, 1848. SENATE. The body was called to order at the sual hour, and a large number of petitions and memorials presented. Mr Houston presented a resolution protesting against the relinquishment of any territory acquired from Mexico without indemnity, and also against the introduction of the Wilmot Proviso into any law relating to such territory.

Executive Session. House .- The Speaker announced as the first thing in order, the motion of Mr. Johnston to amend the bill in relation to the new examiners in the Patent

The amendment proposes a salary of $1,500 instead of $2,500. Upon this amendment the year and mays: were called, and the motion lort-Yeas 79, Nays Mr. McLelland made a motion to re consider. Mr. Clingman moved to lay the motion to reconsid er upon the table, upon which the year and nays were called, and the motion lost-Yeas 63; Nays 116. Mr. Andrew Johnson then opposed the bill most earnestly. The bill was then laid saide, and on motion the House went into Committee of the Whole culty of making freight engagements for the West, on the State of the Union, and proceeded to the conand prices have declined from 20@21 c. for fair to sideration of the deficiencies in the Appropriation Bill, Mr. Hunt in the Speaker's chair. Mr. Rockwell, of Connecticut, then proceeded to criticise the estimates of the Secretary of the Treasury, and to show the errors, not only in the statements, but the statistics. Mr. McLean of Baltimore, then replied to the speech made some time since, by Mr. Thompson, of Indiana. Mr. Thompson next obtained the floor in reply, when the Committee rose and adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Maach 2, 1848. SENATE.-Mr. Dix offered a Resolution instructing the Library Committee to inquire into the expediency of directing the Secretary of the Treasury to transmit the standard weights and measures of the government, to the French government, through Mons. Vatterman, which was adopted. The House amendments to the bill making attachments issuing out of United States Courts, (proposed by Mr. Webster,) conform to the practice of the State Courts, was confirmed.

Mr. Sevier from the Committee on Claims, reported the bill for the benefit of the heirs of John Paul Jones, and recommended that the Senate concur in the House amendment. The Senate, upon motion of Mr. Sevier, then went nto Exceutive session. oner -Mr March offer zing the Speaker to fill the place of Mr. Adams, on Committees, which was agreed to.

Mr. Couger, from the Committee on Printing. made a report authorizing the printing of 500 cupies 1848, which shows the exports of sugar for made a report authorizing the printing of our cupies the from Havana, in 1848, to be 14,076 box- of the report from the Committee on naval affairs. Upon this motion a debate rose in relation to the gross delay of the public printers; in which Messrs. Ashmun, Palfrey, Hunt and Conger participated. The bill appointing additional examiners in the Pension office was then called up, and passed, and sent to the Senate for concurrence. The House then went into Committee of the Whole, and proceeded to the discussion of the bill relating to deficiencies in the appropriation bill. A discursive debate arose, in which Mr. Thompson, of Indiana, made an argument against the administration. Mr Truman Smith denounced the Mexican war in all its length and breadth. Mr. Ficklin replied in defence of the administra Mr. Levin defined his position in reference to sending a Minister to the Court of his Holiness Pope Pius IX., and opposed it in the most violent manner. The Committee then rose, and the House ad-PHILADELPHIA, March 2, 1848
