""" Some time about the year 1703, upon the occasion of the Indian War, came forth "Province Bills," which we call paper money, which at first were of good credit, and have then, and since, done considerable service in the expeditions, paying off the sollege; castle, forts, &c. But they have also done considerable snrying silver coin has been sert out of the country; and by its being undervalued, many quarress and law saits have been occasioned. Men that have salaries, and set fees, have been very much whose double; and what will be the event of it God name would or would not be presented to the missing reserved to him self, and to himself alone, the right to determine upon that subject at the proper time." And I will further say, that if the friends of Taylor's nominating him, it would have been rejected by an overwhelming majority; that the wire-workers knew this, and that in my opinion it was for this and for no other reason such a resolution was not offered. February 25.

G. J. JOHNSTON.

This is sufficiently explicit in relation to the assertion that Mr. Clay would not be a candidate; and another statement, made by "five gentlemen of the highest respectability," (according to the Journal,)

HARVEY LINDSLY, M. D., Chairman Washinoton City, February 29, 1848.

Democrats, when they tell the people of the "The immense meeting held in the capitol, on worthlessness of the trash circulating in the name of Monday night, was one of the largest congregations quested to give this an inserting the delegation of .cause men can get whatever they want with it : and that it is so much more convenient than silver or gold. But that which was true in 1703, is true now.

From a resort to paper money then, all the "stirring silver coins" were driven out of the country; and silver coins? were driven out of the country; and yet, when, a few years since, the advocates of a hard money system told the People that every promise to pay dollar drove f om circulation a coin of the value of one dollar, they were accounted as demagogues or fools. That which has not, in itself, the property of value, cannot be made so by a mere resolution to call it so. Gold and silver are peculiarly adapted, from every consideration, for being property of value, cannot be made and property of value, cannot be made as a solution to call it so. Gold and silver are pecually assed as the circulating medium of a country, and of the world; and no other substance can be made to that overwhelming meeting, it would have result to the country, we begy you to make public these statements. They will be sustained by the united voice almost of the great crowd which assembled in Frankfort at our whig State convention."

From these statements, we can only infer, that, Buffum, Lillibridge, and Townshend, in support of the resolutions, which were in substance as follows:

There is another point established by the experience of this writer of a past age. The adoption of tucky. Sept. as a circulating medium "raised the price of We are certainly glad to find, that Kentucky has per system? The wages of the man who has to depend upon his daily exertions for a living, are among the last things to take a rise, in a time of expension, and the first to sustain a fall, when the day for contraction comes. This acts most operously upon all operatives-because the prices of those articles which they are necessarily compelled to buy, are the first to feel the effect of expansion, and the last to fall, under a contraction. Then, " many quarrels and law suits" were occasioned. This, too, is incidental to a paper money system; and should therefore be well considered by all who profess to regard the morality of their fellow men. It begets a disposition for gambling, (or, an undue desire for speculation, and getting rich by the shortest way, which is the same in effect.) and thus tempts men to the commission of acts, which would necessarily be very soldom attempted, under

These thoughts were suggested to our minds, from the perusal of this brief extract; and, from this | contemplated object. The following named gentletestimony from the experience of the past, we derive additional confidence in the doctrines so often

From all accounts, the Convention must have been most miserable failure—a perfect abortion. James Madison Porter, Secretary of War under John Tyler, presided. The Democratic Union says of the Convention, that "it was a very sickly affair. I am astonished to find a gentleman whose moral character stands so fair in this community as the Editor of that paper, say: 55 We shall see for ourselves before hazarding an opinion." It is well known that Model Artists exhibitions have been denounced by nearly every Christian minister in the gross injustice inflicted on the property holders on the north side of 2nd street, in the 8th ward east—it is well known that the Legislatures of some states have deemed it proper that new laws should be enacted, to prohibit these infamous exhibittons—it is also well known that they have been the subeast-it is well known that the Legislatures of some ject of presentment by grand juries—and it is like—wise known that the Mayors of several cities have utterly refused to grant license to these deprayed on the opening of spring, together with their inutterly refused to grant license to these depraved beings to exhibit their nakedness; and notwithstanding all this, my friend of the Journal, for whose morality I have always entertained a high regard, vishes to "see for himself," before he condemns Really this is a strange species of morality! J. PORTER, Pres't. S. W. M'SHERRY, Sec'y. IJ-In the town of Paiermo, in the State of New York resides a gentleman by the name of Gardner, a well known and highly respectable minister. Elder Solomon Gardner's diaughter, in the month of October, 1845, was aken with dropsy, and went through the successive stages of that disease, and was at last given up by the first medical men of the vicinity. "At this stage," writes Mr. Gardner, "we heard of your Lithontriptic—sent in great haste for a large buttle—she took it in nine days, and was better—sent for four more, and at this date, May 10th, 46 my daughter is now at work, and free from that dreadin disease; to all human appearance, as well lasever."

TA Word to those that are Consumities—It is a known and decided fact, that Consumption of the Lungs leads to a speedy death, unless there are some proper medicines used to arrest the further progress of the disease. Have you not witnessed the departure of many of your intinate friends, hastened thither by the strong hand of that disease? Then why not be slarmed for the safety of your own health, and endeavor to secure a longer lease upon this world! Have you not been prevailed upon, time after time, to use "Dr. Duncan's Expectorant Remedy," which is prepared expressly for the removal of disdignaring the property of the removal of disdignaring the safety of the removal of distime after time, to use "D. Dinican's Expectorant Reme-dy," which is prepared expressly for the removal of dis-cases of the Lungs and Bronchial tubes. A few bottles of this medicine, at the first attack, always prevents the dis-case from settling upon the Lungs.

D. R. WILLARD'S Oriental Cough Mizzure—LET ITS works praise IT. Those who have not had an opportunity of trying this great remedy for the permisnent cure of every affection of the lungs, should not fall to give it a trial. Certificates of its efficiency, from our own citizens, which we are constantly receiving, cannot fail to convince the skeptical. Read the following from a lady of high standing in Allegheny:

"Messra. Hays. 4 Brockway: It affords me great pleasure to be able to add my testimony in favor of Dr. Willard's truly valuable cough medicine. About three months since I was attacked with a violent cold, and was much distressed with the cough, from which I could get no relief, until I was a short time since induced to call at your store and purchase some of the Oriental Cough Mixture. I am happy to state that the use of the second bottle has entirely cured me; and, having great confidence in it, I have, and shall continue to recommend it to my friends.
