"Mestrs. Hays & Breckray: It affords me great pleasure to be able to add my testimony in favor of Dr. Willard's truly valuable cough medicine. About three months since I was attacked with a violent cold, and was much distressed with the congh, from which I could get no relief, until I was a short time since induced to call at your distressed with a short time since induced to call at your distressed with a short time since induced to call at your store and purchase some of the Oriental Cough Mixture. Thom the New York Gazette, Oct. 6, 1809, a duily paper deservedly at the head of the daily press, in this country.

Bristol Estract of Sarsaparilla.—It were but courtesy to call the attention of our readers to this invaluable preparation which will be found advertised in another column. Mr. Bristol is a brother, and issues a highly interesting newspaper, every now and then, one or two numbers of which we have already noticed; and the medicine itself has been eulogised by nearly all the press of the weatern country, and, we doubt-not, justly eulogised. It has in its favor, moreover, very flattering testimonials from the most eminent practitioners in every part of the country where it has been used. There is beauty and taste enough in the bottles, and in the engraved labels in which they are enveloped, to induce a purchase, even if the preparation itself were not one of the "sovereignest in the world," as every person must believe it is—that is, every one must believe it is—that is, every one must believe it is—that is, every one who would not resist a mass of documentary evidence conclusive enough in the bottles, and in the engraved labels in which they are enveloped, to induce a purchase, even if the preparation itself were not one of the "sovereignest in the world," as every person must believe it is—that is, every one must believe it is—that is, every one of the bottles, gentle reader, and see whether you do not agree with uo on this point.
