Gen. Taylor in Pittsburgh!

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Democracy of this county was held in the city of Lancaster, on the 22d instant, to respond to the nominations of the State Convention at Harrisburg. The convention bore the most unequivocal testimony to the window and patriotism of the Presidentand the general administration in all its prominent measures, sympathised deeply with, and heartily encouraged the friends of human progress in France; and adopted the firlends of human progress didate for the next Presidency, and rejoice at the flattering promise that our wishes in this respect, as entertrained, without interrogions, for a long series of years, are at length to be consummated.

"Resolved, That the services of JAMES BUCHAN-AN are recorded in our hearts, not less than in the pages of national history. His brilliant career in the House of Representatives and Senate of the United States, in which he often met and vanquished the intellectual giants of the opposition—his successful mission abroad, conferred by the patriot Jackson—and his truly able administration of the grave duties of Secretary of State under President Poux—have stamped him as one of the most enlightened Statesmen of the age, well fitted, not only to occupy, but to adorn, the presidential office.

The Union is a broad expanse. It embraues multifarious interests. It is the common protector of interests and institutions that are unlike in character, and about which it is natural there should be diversity of opinions; but the great idea of the Equality of the States, as members of the Union, should never be lost sight of. Each, whatever its characteristics, has its equal claims to consideration.

The oldest son of Louis Philippe was Ferdinand, Duke of Orleans, born 1810; killed by jumping from his carriage, July, 1842. He married, in 1837, Helena, daughter of the Grand Duke of Montpensier, born 1824; married to the sister of the Queen of Spain.

And although we think that the northern, as compared with the southern section of the Union, has not had its just proportion of occupants of the presidency, yet the great question in the case is: Who is the man who best represents the democratic principles of the government.

A national convention promises but little good to the party, unless it acts upon national grounds. It must be national in character as well as in name. I this view of it, we have seen with infinite regist a considerable portion of the democratic party of New York, with some affiliations in other States, break-surely fair, therefore, if Mr. Walker can be held to be incompetent, or unfaithful to his trust, (when he points out a large balance in possession of the government, beyond the amount believed to be in the Treasury, to recognize some of those who preceded him as no more competent, when they passed over a large deficiency, without calling the attention of Congress to the fact. The same course of reasonthose who thus adhere to it, personal considerations are paramount to the success of the democracy and its principles, which have been well developed by the past, and are no less essential for the future.

In view of the coming election, we are more and more convinced daily, that New York will be lost to the democratic party. The breach there in the party becomes wider every week. It is very apparent that the Wilmot men cannot have a plurality of the that the Wilmot men cannot have a plurality of the votes, unless it is gained by a union with he wiles; and we fear the rest of the party will be deficient in numerical force as against all its opponents. The idea, therefore, which we have heretofore expressed, comes back to us with augmented pertinency—that to democracy of the other States of the Union will be compelled to make their arrangements to carry the election without the sid of New York; and it that cannot be done, then to submit to the discrete Me learn from Captain Bearse, of the bark D. Godfrey, arrived yesterday from Palermo, 12th ult. that the difficulties in Sicily had not ceased. King Ferdinand VII. had made the concession that the people at first required, but they refused all propositions from him, tearing in pieces the despatches he sent. The only place in the eatire Island in possions of the King and his troops, was the castle at Messina, and that was hotly besieged by the citizens. The whole population were in arms with such as they could get, and were getting supplied as first. presonal objects to attain; but they will be as light as air with those whose only object is, as it should be, the ascendancy of the democratic party, and the predominance of its principles in the administration of the government.

A Recipe for the Human Hair!

TO FORCE IN GROWTH AND HEALTH. MAKE
IT SOFT, SILKY, CLEAN AND FINE.—Persons in consequence of the many things sold, set down every article, (be it ever so good) as a humbug. If people could be made to try a 's. bottle of Jone's Coral Hair Restorative, and sed how it makes dry, rusty, red, light beir moist, soft, auburn and dark, and keeps it so; and by its use for sometime, causes it to grow naturally beautiful; if people could see the number of poor respectable mechanics that use it, taye, and find it the cheapest thing they can use,) for dressing and beautifying the Hair; for keeping it soft and in order three times as long as any other article made; and

Forces it to grow, stops its falling,
And costs but 3 shillings to try.

We formerly sold nothing less than 31 bottles, but we wish people to try it. Sold only at 82 [mind &2] Chatham street, New York, and by
