If Europe becomes involved in a general revolution, and England should become affected in a similar way, she may not need our cotton; and, therefore, the southern planter should see at once the necessity which will exist for affording protection to the northern manufacturer! But it must have been a young "whig" who argued | mer. thus logically - none but one of that genus is capable of resorting to such profundity! If a young Democrat should inquire what shall become of the English cotton manufactures, during the time referred to, we suppose that he would have ready an qually profound answer; and if he were asked what need there would be for protecting our manufactures, when the English should not require any cotton, we know not but he would answer, because they might be started again! This, however, is a fair appeaimen of "whig" arguments in favor of a protective Tariff.

A. Fact worth noting. During the canvass for the Presidency which resulted in the choice of the Apostle of American Democracy to the Presidency, in 1808, the People of this country were told, by the Federal party, that the election of Thomas Jefferson would be a curse the country; that it would be a triumph of French infidelity and jacobinism : that the Bible would be banished from our country: and, in short, that if Mr. burning of the Bible publicly, in the streets. Our attention has been called to this subject, by the statement of a fact, a few days since, by a friend who thought it was worthy of notice. This fact is, that an agent of the Bible Society, whom he was recently conversing with, told him that, after having called upon every family in the townships of Elizabeth and Mifflin, with a view to ascertain who were unprovided with the Bible, he found but one family in Mifflin township destitutes, while there were forty-seed in the township of Elizabeth who had no Bible!

It is with profound regret that we have to state the death of Chester Ashley, Esq., one of the U. S. senators from the State of Arkansas. He was walking about in perfectly apparent health on Monday, was attacked on Tuesday, and is now no more This rapid and melancholy event has filled both houses of Congress and this whole community with the deepost commisseration. Yesterday the Senate remained but a short time in session, and adjourned of Cass county, in this State, held on the 8th of April, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted: in addition to which resolutions, sustaining adopted: in addition to which resolutions, sustaining adopted: in addition to which resolutions, sustaining and appear an djourned.
Mr. Ashley was an influential and respected mem

He was beloved in his domestic circle, and amiable in his private relations. We cannot adespect. He was beloved in his domestic circle, and amiable in his private relations. We cannot adequately express the sympathy which the whole community feel for his amiable wife and daughter, who administered the last offices of love to the expiring senator. We leave it to his other friends to sketch his political life, and do full justice to his portrait.

That Railroads benefit the wealthy, more than the men, who live by the sweat of their brow, cannot successfully be controverted. Let men of wealth, there were 72 Federslists, and 62 Democratis; being a Federal majority of ten. In the counties thus far heard from, there is a Democratic gain of eleven, and a loss of fire—making a clear gain of six. In addition to this, we have a gain of one Democratic Senator in the senatorial district composed of Jefferson, Frederick and Clarke; and another in the Rockingham district; while in the senatorial district composed of Accomac, Northampton, Elizabeth City and Warwick, there is a Federal gain. We did not see any real merit in the controversy, though motion upon motion was made, and each member had something to say. We believe the whole matter was laid on Another trifling question was brought up, as to what question was debateable. Here again was another opportunity for a rare display on the part of those who took no note of time. A motion was made that in all questions of order, not provided for by the Rules of the General Conference, the Rules of Congress should be adopted. This was passed, and afterwards reconsidered. They finally decided that a motion to lay on the table was not debateable, and thus passed this difficulty.

The order of the day was then announced and the delegates from the various Conferences were called upon to present their communications. A number of memorials were presented for and against the proposed division of the New York Conference. A memorial was presented from the Maine Conference, signed by two members of the Church .-They stated in substance that: About twelve years ago, one of them had contributed $100, to re-estab lish the New York Methodist Book Concern, which but if the General Conference now assembled should conclude to divide the church property with the south, they will ask to have their money returned, as they cannot consent to give their means in support of slavery. [I] IMPRITANT WARNING TO THOSE WHO NEGLECT A COLD.—It is evident, and decided by the most experienced physicians that Consumption is mostly encouraged by a neglect of a Cold at the first attack. How many persons are there that put off from time to time procuring a suitable medicine, until the disease begins to assume a serious character, when in all probability they are past the power of medicul sid. May these few lines prove a warning to those afflicted with the first symptoms of Consumption, that they may immediately use "Dr. Duncan's Expectorant Remedy," which is expressly for the disease of the respiratory system. It is certain to remove a Cough in a few days, at the same time relieving the pain in the side and breast, and arresting the progress of this fatal disease—Consumption! The "Expectorant Reme-
