Political Scoundrelism. During the campaign of 1840, before Gen. Taylor wictory had crowned the arms of our country, led on to show how sacred with them was the great grint. by his provess and bravery, that aby portion of the Federal harpies—rever watchful for something upon die an unnatural death by strangulation. Northern which their sortid ambition may feed, --raw that there was aught of glory, connected with the name fear that the South would not sustain the nominaof Gen. Taylor, which they might possibly approtion; and Southern Whiggery was indisposed to priate to their unholy purposes. But they at length found out that he was "a Whig, though not an ultra Whig ;" and, learning this, they at once set about it to appropriate his fame, acquired in a war which they had declared unholy, unjust, and unconstitutional, to their own purposes. In view of the facts in the case, we have held the Federal editors and orators up before the country, as a hand of most unprincipled political scoundrels, ready to seize upon and appropriate to their own use, any man who has posed to any further extension of slavery. Of a wrought for himself a name, of whatsoever party he may have professed to be a member, and regard. less of the abuse they may have heaped opon him, at any former period. [Correspondence of the Morning Post.1 Federal Meeting in Florence. RACCOON, October 9th, 1848. Ma. HABPER :-- As your correspondent B. has better look to the morals of their eitizens. Such ex-bibitions as we have described since the opening of the Quarter Sessions, do not speak well for the municipal regulations of the borough. bibition bibition constant of the second s Ms. HARPEN: --As your correspondent B, has said so little about the great whig mass meeting at Florence, on the 6th instant, I will just take the liberty to say--that, after having it duly announced, according to whig law, in such cases made and pro-vided, for weeks, the day came--and with it about a log cabin full of Whigs-(a very small one, atthat,) including those who reside in Florence. After waiting until a late hour, for the masses of whige f on Wash igton, Beaver, ad the adjoining counties, according to calculation; they formed, or rather got together, and went to the grove. The procession reminded us, very forcibly, of a very small militin muster--particularly, when there are a good many young substitutes. They had a drum and fife, and an piece of muslim, with stripes on it, fastened to a

 Bearsions of the Pence, in and for the county of Alle-gleny:
 The petition of John Forsall, 2d Ward city of Pints-burgh, in the county aformand, humbly sheweth That your petitioner that provided himself with materials for the accommodation of travelers and others, at his dwell, monors will be pleased to grant him a license to keep a public house of entertainment. And your petitioner, as in the Work are bound to record all ordinan-cea within thirty days, and no Resolution can antho-rize them to refuse to make the record.
 It seems to us that the work on the street will be completed, as all the efforts that have been made to repeal it have failed.
 Hewrr's EDITION or THE PICTORIAL CATHOLIC NEW muster-particularly, when there are a good many young substitutes. They had a drum and fife, and a piece of muslin, with attpes on it, fastened to a pole. A Mr. J. Collier, who once was a Col. in the Ohio Militia, (in time of peace; of course,) took the stand, and made one of his, very best speeches. He said Old Zack had once been a young man; that he had been in the Florida war-did'at say blood-hounds once, and the pioneers of Pennsyl vania were making the wilderness a settlement, old Zack was scaring the Indians off, them; -we tho't he must have been a ferocious boy, -maid he had since been is the Mezican war, at Point lashel, Matamoras, &c. No doubt, the whig friends were pleased with the knowledge he evinced of the histo-ry of his country. Finally, he said Old Zack was very much opposed to slavery. He scolded a good deal about the Pittburgh Peat publishing a list, of Old Zack's estra pay. From the way he talked about the Post, I concluded he'd had a potatoe out of that pot-or, that he was like the Dutchman when he fired his gun-after putting three charges in it-when it kicked him over : he requested his friends, and to go near it, as there were two more in it Amongst other reasons, why we we should have a whig administration, he said, that during John Q. Adama's administration, he sage left in the trasary.---This, sir, is a fair specimen of the speech of James Collier--one of the old Colonels of the Ohio Millius, in time of peace. I move itat the Florence Rough and Ready Club vote him a dozen of coon skins. PAUL PRY.
