ret when it once seizes the lungs, all the other paris of he body will be sympathetically affected, and a confirm-d Consumption and premature denth will be the inevi-able result. A little care would save many a life, and he timely use of a proper remedy might have arcested may a consumption. But many persons have an invin-lible repugnance to taking uny medicine, and rather hun use the means towards arresting a disense, simply ceause, the remedy may not be a pleasant one, would uffer and languish for a long time, before they would re-ort to the aid of medicine. B. A. Folmestock & Co.'s Cough Balsam has a great dyantage in this respect over many clier Cough prepa-tions, as its pleasant tay a pennits it to be used without neorvenience. But its value as a Balsam consists in the peciliness of its cure. We have known some of the, nost despertie coughs, some of which had been running in for a considerable length of time, yield almost imme-interty to its power.
