And again, to descend meanest and lowest of all low and mean things, we have observed with what facility it could buy up a hireling scribbler to write, and a venal press to publish, false and defamatory articles, for the purpose of gratifying a depraved malice against eye," then they knew that the hour of their triomph the Rost and its humble editor. But, while wealth is thus powerful, while it has done, and can do, so again presented ; and again was heard hissing in the much, there is one thing in which it is powerless We tell our defamers, those scoffers at the " claims of honest labor," those tramplers on the " rights of .man," that all their wealth combined cannot cause integrity to sworve from its bonest course, nor seduce entions judgment from its sincere conviction. And now let us see what is the true issue which these men have forced before the public : On the 28th day of March last, an Act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania was passed, entitled "An Act to limit the hours of labor, and to prevent the employment, in factories, of children under twelve Ye neither know the magnitude of the sacrifices years of age." This act declares, "that labor performed during a period of Len hours, on any secular day, in all cotton, woolles, silk, paper, bugging and agony by which that sacrifice was exacted ! flax factories, shall be considered a legal day's labor; and that hereafter, no minor or adult, engaged in any such Actorics, shall be holden or required to work more than ten hours on any secular day, or sixty hours in any secular week." And the act further (as if to make it more solemn and to clothe it proprietor's patronage and gold f t with more patriotic associations) designated and fixed the Nation's Jubilce, the 4th day of July last, as bied ; but not as had been their wont. They seemthe date on and from which, for certain purposes, it should go into operation. The law was passed in obedience to the loud demands and pursuant to the known wishes of at least four-fifths of the people of the commonwealth; and its enactment was deemed the was signed by some? But others there were, the commonwealth is and its enactment was deemed the was signed by some? But others there were, the common wealth is and its enactment was deemed the common wealth is and the common wealth is and the common wealth is a set the date on and from which, for certain purposes, it ed ashamed ; they went round the dark corners; unwilling to bend the knee in abject submission, and factory proprietors towards the poor and helpless sign the fatal contract. And they gathered around children in their employ, and subject to their conthe factory to see what was going on ; curiosity naturally attracted them. There were to be seen on The POLICY of this enactment is clear and unambiguous, -it is, "to limit the hours of labor." The the streets around girls of all ages, from the tender

The goop to be effected by it is as evident by inference, as the evil to be remedied is by words,-it is, to afford sufdark vista of their future lives, that lay open before ficient time and leisure and opportunity, for the improvement and cultivation of the physical, moral and them. And the girls gathered more and more ; and intellectual health of the children whom destitution or the youngest, ever the most curious, crowded closest poverty may force to seek such employment.
