To our friends abroad we may mention, that Charles Avery is a gentleman of fortune, retired from business, who owns a share in a cotton factory, whom we have never yet alladed to; and who is the last man on God's earth who would violate the huhane laws of the state, or order scalding water to oe dashed in the faces of little helpless girls. We were not aware, until told by the attorney of the conspirators, that Nathaniel Holmes held an investment in the cotton factory. Mr. Holmes is a Banker and Broker, of preverbial integrity. His property may be in bank notes, bank stock, or factory stock, and he holds his means there for the emoluments which capital brings in every branch of business; and he has nothing, as far as we can learn, to do with the management or direction of any factory

In the year 1846. Ohio changed her policy, by which the valution and taxation of the State were made. Pre vious to that time, property was apprised, without reference to the value, and taxed very unequally. The object of the present law is to value propert t its true cash value, and tax all property equally There may be and are some exceptions to the ile; but, generally the principle is carried out .--In valuing property at the cash value, houses and ands are necessarily valued in general, at less than what they would sell for on time; but at an average , not very far from the worth. > The following excellent remarks on the subject of destroying birds, originally appeared in the Bos-"We are of opinion, that the labors of the scientific ornithologists are of far more practical util-ity than the casual observer supposes; and that even in the business of legislation, a regard to his researches might prevent many errors, which may much effect the public welfare. Legislation on the subject of birds has been marked by some essential errors, which have led to real evil. By it woodcocks, snipes, larks, and robbins, are protected at a certain season of the year, whilst war to ted at a certain season of the year, whilst war to the knife is declared against crows, blackbirds, owls, blue jays, and hawks; these last are treated as a sort of pirates, subject to a suspension at the yard-arm, with the least possible ceremony. It so happens that the character of these very birds has been singularly mistaken, for while the ordinance of legislation has been thus systematically levelled at them, they, on the principle which man would do extremely well to imitate, have been returning good for evil; they have been diligently engaged in exterminating all sorts of vermin. whilst never were the vilest vermin half so ill treated by the human race. To the Sick and Afflicted.

If any one still doubts the efficacy of JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT, in Aethma and other Pulmonary Affections, let them read the following letter from Mr. F. S. Robbins, a merchant of Marion, Dewitt country, Illinois, who says, April 14th, 1848—"My wife has been afflicted with Ashma for 35 years, and at times suffered more than death. She has applied to many eminem physicians, and also used many of the patent medicines recommended for that complaint, and received but little relief from anything, until test fall, when she heard of your EXPECTORANT, and being very much afflicted at that time, she with much trouble obtained a bottle of it, and a box of SANATIVE PILLS. After using the medicine a few hours, she was relieved of hard breathing, and though very much emacinted, in a few days was able to be about the house, and since taking three bottles of the EXPECTORANT, enjoys better health than she has done for many years, and continues quite well, except when she takes cold, and then a few doses EXPECTORANT give her entire life. In short tits a "cure all" with her. All your other medicines have beganifed in this section of country with great success.
