Interesting Letter from California. We received by yesterday's mail, a long and exceedingly interesting letter from Mr. A. M. Swaney. formerly foreman in the office of the Morning Post, dated San Francisco, California, July 21, 1849, which we shall publish to-morrow. The letter is replete with interesting facts, and will be eagerly sought after. We shall print an extra edition of the paper so as to supply an anticipated large demand.

Porty-six young women from New Brunswick (British dominions,) have arrived in Lowell, via Lowell and Lawrence rulfroad. They have been employed to work in the massachusets man. They are a stout, heavy looking troppe of damsels, and would instantly be recognized as belonging to another blood than the pure Yankee. We copy the foregoing from the news of the day" column of "The Washington Reporter," of the exchanges, is a proud monument of the truth of Democratic principles.

Resolved, That we hall with unmingled pleasure tablishments. A high tariff, a tariff for protection, a tariff amounting to an exclusion of articles of foreign competition, is what the wealthy Whig manufacturers imperiously demand at the hands of the national government. They say it is what the (rich? manufacturers require to secure their inteecte and what is necessary to enable them to fu their promise to " take care of the poor." We stop not here to inquire as to the justice or in justice of the demand ;-we stop not to speculate upon the disastrous effect a compliance with the Kinnard, Londo lordly requisition would have on the agricultural, cial and other great interests of the country; we stop not to demonstrate the monopoly it would confer on the heavy concerns possessing most capital and influence, and the power it would place in their hands to crush, without a moment's warning, the humble competitors of limited means; -we stop not to present to the reader's notice those considerations which modern researches in political economy, which intelligence, enlightened statemanship, and the progressive spirit of the age, interpose;we stop not here, we say, to dwell on all or any of those considerations which crowd upon the inquiring mind, and which so imperatively forbid a compliance with the monopolist's unjust, unequal and exorbiand we merely invite notice to the naked paragraph above extracted.

Here we find it stated, by Whig authority, that the wealthy whig Manufacturers of Massachusetts have mported from a foreign country to work in their Mills 46 forty six stout, heavy looking damsels, who would instantly be recognized as belonging to anothex blood than the pure Yankee." We learn from the Harrisburgh Union that the Harrisburgh and Lancaster railroad company are now having delivered along the line of their new road, some two thousand tons of Danville T raifroad iron, for which we learn they pay $50 per ton at Danville. The Farmer's Wife. The wife of the farmer is so often may bject of complimentary remark, so often praised r its peacefulness and independence, that the farmer's wife might very rationally be supposed to be the happiest woman in the world. From her relation to the "lords of the soil." she should be the lady of the soil, a peaceful, healthy, inde general fact will be universally conceded by the

A young farmer arrives at age when he thinks t time to get married and "settle down." He has had a respectable education, and wants a wo-man who is his equal. He looks about him, and makes his choice. She is a girl bred beside him in the country; has been well educated; reared by careful parents, and is in the truest sense a la-dy. She loves books, possesses skill and taste in mustc, and is in all points fitted to reign the queen most devoted drudge.

From thenceforth her life is one of the most

the husband grows wealthy, becomes important in the community, rides to town every day, takes his Gutta percha tubes are now laid down in some ease when he chooses; but the cares of his faded predecessor, through a quiet old age of rest This is no fancy sketch; it is drawn from the and in every country town and neighborhood its truthfulness will be recognized. Now we despise the good for-nothings of fashionable life, as much as any one, and have no affection for drones in any hive. We are aware that circumstances sometimes demand extreme labor of the farmer's wife, as in New England those scircumstances do not have cared so much if they had left a part of them, but to take all he had h eat the bread of idleness, we would see the class of which we are speaking released from the circle of everlasting drudgery, which deprives them of the privilege of relaxation for a day, and the time From this life, the girls of our day learn to shrink—not because they are lazy, but because they know they are to be sacrificed. Not because Korpanay, and is the brother of the famous polks because they do not wish to become his mistress themselves, and to teach the lords of the soil tha there is something to live for besides potatoes, and that life can be enjoyed more truly by a proper preservation of the health, beauty, accomplishments and good spirits of their companions.

LOCAL MATTERS.

THEATRE.-The comedy of the Irish Attorne was performed on Saturday evening, to a fair house. Miss Heron hardly come up to our ideas of excellence in the character of Pierce, O'Harra, and we were really sorry to see her attempt its representation. She has earned an enviable reputation in a lighter range of comedy, and if she wishes to pre. 1800 bales poltries for the American Für Company. serve it, we would advise her to eschew such char. The news she brought is incompetent. The cholera acters as Pierce O'Harra. Mr. Roys, although act. was subsiding among the Indians. acters as Pierce O'Harra. Mr. Roys, although act ing a part far beneath his talent, was well received by his numerous friends, and in return they were compensated by tresh proof of his artistic excellence. Charlcot, by Mr. Reynolds, was creditably perform ed. This gentlemen has more than ordinary ability and we expect to chronicle a rapid rise in the pro fession he has chosen. Fielding seemed to feel that his hands were a nuisance, and we imagined the o verturning of the post chaise frightened his voice into a delicate tremor. Get pockets my boy, or else tuck your hands in those enormous boot tops. Mrs.
