The Democratic ticket, for Allegheny County, i now printed at this office, and ready for delivery .-Our friends in the country are requested to call, and get a supply for the different voting districts.

Whig Promises before the Election. It is an old adage and a true one that "falsehoods and young chickens come home to roost." The Whig party before the last Presidential election made a thousand plausible promises to the People-every one of which have been violated! Gen. TAVLOR, the candidate of the whigs, in all his electioneering epistles, declared that he would be a no-party President; that he would imitate the early Presidents; that he would proscribe no man for opinion's sake; that he had no friends to reward and no enemies to LY UNFIT" for use! Instead of being a "no-party President," Gen. Taylor has proven to be the most ultra bitter partiman Executive the country has ever had. He has dismissed moderate Democrats from office, who were | Franklin, Somerset, and Union; "honest, capable and faithful to the Constitution," sober and industrious officers, and appointed in North; their stead brawling and bitter politicians, whose only recommendation was that they were uncompro- delphia; mising federal whige, and had sung the praises of A Native American in Southwark; Zachary Washington. Federal Humbug Exploded! The Old Hunker Whig Monopolists and Conser-atives, who are prating eternally about high protection, have been in the habit of declaring that the Iron interest has been "ruined," because a few tons of very inferior English railroad iron have found their way to this country. This cheap iron is a perfect cheat, and those who bought it in presence to the substantial and superior article manufacture by the skilled workmen of our own country, now see

News of Tuesday last: "The Camden and Amboy Railroad Company have just made a contract with the Trenton Iron Compa ny for 500 tons of railroad iron, at something ove ny lor 500 tons of railroad iron, at something over $650 per ton, in preference to buying iron at $45 per ton. Our railroad companies will, before the lapse of many years, find that they have made a very great mistake in laying down their tracks with the cheap iron rails imported from England. English rails are made of three qualities of iron, the best being upon the top where the most wear comes. A short time after these rails have been used, this surface wears off, and the wear then comes upon the second layer and in a little while the rails become so much worn that they are useless.' American rails are the chear est in the end; they are made of one quality of iron, and that is the best, and the wear is alike throughout. On our railroads of bad grades and bad curve the low priced English rails are totally unfit. The New York Herald states that at any of the curves New York Herald states that at any of the curves on the Eric Railroad, handfuls of iron dust, that has been worn off the rails and wheels, can at any time be scooped up. This shows how necessary it is have rail manufactured of iron of the best quality. Here is the important fact furnished in the col

THE CHILD'S DREAM.

BY WILLIAM BARR. O, stay by my couch to night, mother, And sing me some beautiful song; For I fain would dream as I dreamed last night, And my eyes would gaze on that wondr Amid the archangel throng.

I dreamed that I roamed last night, mother Bright spirits of light on their shining plumes Where sun light no longer that land ills There hovered in shining bands. Bright forms on their dazzling wings, mother

Went by on their flaming rounds;
And trembled the chords of their golden lyres; And anthems of praise from the heavenly cho Through the star-lit courts resound. And happier forms were there, mother, Than bloom in this time-bound sphere;

And the swelling acclaim of that blood washed thro by chanted the strains of the heavenly song There fell on my raptured ear And sweet sister Emma was there, mothe As fair as an angel of light: She stood in the ranks of that angel throng,

And chanted the notes of the seraphim's song; And she sang the song we sang, mother, Her voice was as sweet as a scraph's tongue

That high in the arches of glory rung, Enrobed in celestial white. I thought of the long, long night, mother We sat by her dying bed;
And I saw the tear in your mournful eye, As dying, "sweet mother good bye, good bye, I'll meet you in heaven,"-she said

O there was no misery there, mother Away in that beautiful land ; Nor sun with its blazing flame was there; Nor angry how) of the wintery air

She quitted the blazing ranks, mother, And quick to me hastening sped; And the shining curls of her golden hair, Were kissed by the gales of that redolent air,

COLORED SCHOOL .- From the disposition manifest ed at the Meeting of Directors on Thursday evening last, we do not doubt that ample and satisfactory provision will now be made for the education of the School Boards, and others present, were called upon to express their views on the subject, and each declared an opinion in favor of the immediate erection

Mr. Jones, a colored man, was allowed to spea He said he had been a tax payer for twenty-five years, and had many children. Notwithstanding he had paid a school tax regularly, he had been required to educate his children in private schools, at his own expense. This statement exhibited the injustice of the system that has been practised towards the colored population, in a strong light. Another colored man, whose name we did not hear, said that the black people did not desire to have their children put into the schools with the whites. But no separate school had ever been prepaied for them, and the object in demanding admis sion to the white schools was simply to get a refu sal, so that they could with propriety appeal to the laws of the State for redress. We trust there may not be found one man in eith er of the School Boards who will hesitate for a mo ment in contributing liberally to the support of school for colored children. A man is unfit to be a Director who will throw obstacles in the way of th oject now contemplated. We urge the Directors to be prompt in appointin their committees to meet on next Thursday evening. We urge them also to attend the mass convention to be held on Monday evening the 15th inst.
