Hon. James Buchauan. We have a letter before us from the Hon. JAMES Buchanan, in which he states that he will probably reach Pittsburgh this day (Thursday.) We feel confident that our citizens generally, irrespective of party, will be pleased to take by the hand this distinished Statesman and true-hearted Pennsylvanian. Immediately after Gen. Taylor succeeded, by fraud and deception, in being elected President the United States, every Whig and Whigling from Dan to Beersheba, exclaimed-"the Democratic Par-

Capt. H., writes that nothing occurred worthy of remark until the seventh day, the crew having, in the meantime, been without a particle of food of drink, and not a drop of rain having fallen. In this dreadful state of suffering, it was mutually agreed to cast lots as to which of the number should be sacripached so near the boat as to fall a prey to the ecessities of the crew, administering greatly to eir relief. On the 13th of July land was discovered in an easterly direction, which proved to be Cocus Island, (uninhabited) lying in lat. 5 deg. 27 min. N.,

Capt. H. and the other survivors succeeded in reaching: it, but in an almost helpless condition.—
They, however, secured a pig and drank its blood, which revived their exhausted energies, and also obtained a plentiful supply of birds and fresh water.—
After remaining two days on the island, they were witnessing the approach of a boat, overjoyed by winessing the approach of a boat, which proved to belong to the ship Leonidas, Capt. Swift, whaler, of this port, then lying in Chatham Bay, for the purpose of procuring wood and water, and were relieved from their dreadful sufferings by being taken on board the ship and treated with every possible attention and kindness.

It will be one of the most important elections ever held in that State; and we confidently look for the complete and overwhelming triumph of the Democracy. If the union of our party is perfect, as we believe it is, whiggery will receive its death blow in the Empire State; and the proscriptive, imbecile, persecuting, contemptible Administration at Washington, will receive such a rebuka as will not soon be forgatten. The following are the candidates for State Officers in New York:
