unable, by indisposition, to deliver the paper yesterday to subscribers; and it may be some days before he is restored to health. In the meantime another carrier will be put on the route, and every effort. will be made on our part to have the paper delivered punctually, and at an early hour in the morning .-Those who may not receive their papers will be few days, and will be happy to see our Democrati good enough to leave word at the office to that effect, and the matter will be attended to at once.

We are indebted to the Hon. H. S. FOOTE, Senator from Mississippi, for the Report of the Sec retary of the Treasury, on the Warehousing System It is a very valuable document.

The Approaching Sessions of Congress. In about six weeks from this time the Thirty-first Congress will begin its session. Although it is not anticipated that there will be any important changes in the political policy of the country, yet the people will look forward, with no little anxiety, to the approaching session, to see a development of whig measures. The message of the President, or rather the document prepared for his signature by John M Clayton & Co., will, doubtless, descant at length upon the prosperous and bappy condition of the cour try, brought about by the policy of the Democrati party. We do not think that it will recommend any material change in the existing laws, although some recommendations may be made, more for the sake of form, than with the expectation of their adop-

The Independent Treasury law will not be disturbed, however much it may be desired by monopolists and speculators. The Bankers may wish to obtain possession of the people's money, to loan out to stock jobers and favorites, but a Democratic Senate will not sanction an innovation upon the established policy of the country. There may possibly be some slight modification of the Sub-Treasury, but it will not be in consequence of any recommenpurpose of facilitating the delivery of goods at the different Custom Houses.

Cligman, or North Carolina, has written to Simeon Draper, of New York, (says the Boston Post,) in relation to the establishment of banks throughout the country for the issue of bills based on government stocks, or for an issue of treasury notes to banks already incorporated, and to private bankers, on the deposite of government stocks with the secretary of the treasury. The object of this scheme, of course, is to have such secured bills or treasury notes received and paid for government dues. We hardly think either of the plans deserves much of a paragraph. The bills of the New Engstockholders, are as good as any bills that can be contrived; and as to treasury notes, we cannot perneither right nor reason to do more. The constitution and the laws recognise no currency but gold and silver, and until these be altered gold and silver should be the only money received or paid by the government for the time being.

The Next State Legislature. The Pennsulvanian of Wednesday last has the ollowing remarks in reference to the great array of sient found in the Democratic members elect, and also to the important duties that will devolve upon Gamble tem-in all of which we fully concur. In fact, we do not recollect the time when there were as many able men sent to the Legislature by either party. It augurs well for the sound intelligence and discrimination of the people:-

We read over the list of Democratic members elect M to the next Legislature with real pride. The contract with those which have gone before, is healthy and promising. It would be folly to deny that, for nany years, both parties in this State have been too ipt to pass over the good, and to advance the obnable candidates, in their selection of nomiees for Legislators. Some of the Democratic repsentatives heretofore have been the mcrest effigie of men, and have either truckled to the power of he Banks, on the one hand, or swerved in the performance of a plain duty, on the other. The result has been to awaken the attention of our political friends to the importance of placing our best men before the people for the high trust of delegates in the State Assembly. Burning with the recollection of 8 the shame which a departure from this golden rate has reflected upon us, the Democrats this year took care to put up no candidates for Legislators, who Gamble were not, in all respects, competent, faithful, and honest. The list of members elect to both branches of that body, show how well and how wisely this duty has been discharged. The names of J. N. Conyngham, W. F. Packer, Andrew Beaumont, Thos Fernon, Charles Frailey, John S. McCalmont, J. Rhey, William Brindle, Dr. Wm. Smith, Dr. J. R. McClintock, John B. Meek, Dr. Joshua Y. Jones, He Henry A. Muhlenberg, J.
