We now have it in our power to announce, howearth, come here and participate in a convention o Tariffiles, whose whole cry, week days and holy itelligence, and great experience in the growth of days, is, "More Money; More Money !" Is no here a reason for the spread of infidelity ? These teachers of Christianity are themselves the greatest minners. Not content with the ample competence which their congregations afford them, they join i the terrible hant for wealth, and hesitate not to asl Congress to give them laws, the tendency of which is to add to their piles, while the masses of the people are thereby degraded. Because, prices will be so enhanced by the sudden influx of Money that foreign manufactored and agricultural articles will at once rush in. Our money goes out. But in a short time it is all gone. Then we can import no more. Then will there be a protection amounting to prohibition of all articles which can be made and raised in this country. This is the position which Mr. Stewart takes, and he is right. But why introduce such protection ? The nominal value of real estate, of labor, and everything else would be lower but the real value would be enhanced. Is there any man so stunid as not to see the truth of this. "Give us a sound currency and we need no Tariff laws." We hope our readers will look into the doctrine of Mr. Stewart, that " Protection reduces prices." It is true as he states. And yet he proposes protection, and says that protection will reduce prices of manufactured articles, and of course, labor must be reduced also. This question seems to us to be " mixed up." but it is certain that the man who works with his hands is to gain no permanent benefit by the system. If he is, let our judgment be corrected.

It is perhaps a little strange that Mr. S. did not notice the matter of emigration, which has caused considerable newspaper comment of late. Here he would have broken down completely. We defy any Tariff man to stand up under the pressure of the argument used by the Natives, to wit: " That there can be no protection to American laborers while pauper laborers are permitted to rush in." Now, as no humane and Christian man can propose seriously the putting of restrictions upon emigration, we cannot see where the American workingman is to gain only beginning to make money. security under Tariff laws.

compelled to work at such prices as afforded them from 84,50 to $9,50 per week. In order to earn the latter sum they would commence at 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning and continue until midnight and often till 2, 3 or 4 o'clock ! The compositors on the Post have always received the highest rates given in the city. to wit: 20 cents per 1000 ems. The

Gazette has invariable paid the protective tariff rates. to wit: 12 to 16 cents per 1000 ems. . It is well known that the printers have asked an advance. They only want the minimum sum paid five thous in other cities, to wit : 25 cents. We think this reasonable and just--so do the proprietors of the Journal, Dispatch, Chronicle and the Weekly papers. But not so the Gazette Editor. He is too busily engaged

The Gazette's sincerity in advocating "protection " to HOME industry is beautifully illustrated in this matter. We presume our neighbor wishes by his advertisement, to bring the wages of the poor journeymen down to a level with the " pauper labor of Europe," or starve them by importing pauper la borers from abroad.

 teelf quite visibly in the pleased countenance of Capt. LUCAS. As the hour for retiring approached, it was discovered that there were at least double as many passengers on board as there were berths to accommodate them; and the idea of sleeping upon the floor was by no means delightful, especially to those who were accustomed to soft cushions and downy pillows at home. The demand for births became pretty general, and consequently they commanded a high premium. This was the time for Jonathan to excréise his organs of acquisitiveness, He accordingly rented his birth at $2,00 a night, and slept in it himself during the day. When he arrived at St. Louis he found himself a wealthier man, than when he left Pittsburgh ! "It takes the Yankees!"

President-Hon. Walter Lowrie; Vice President-CHARGE OF COURT. A question of infringement is one of fact, of which the jury are the judges. The construction of the patent is for the Court. After reading and commenting on the specification of Plaintif's patent, the Court to express any opinion of the tacts of the case; but in this case the facts are un-idispated, and the Court think it is proper to state, as the opinion of both the Judges on the true construction of Plaintif's Patent, that the Defendant's Patent is a gross and palpable planey of the Plaintif's invention. It has evidenily been obtained on the ground that it was an improvement on Plaintif's patented invention, and now seeks on suprise the source of an improvement-sperence which is proved also to be un-founded.
