Darkness. But again the voice sounded, and said: "Before you is the Future.— See," and instantly, as she turned, she grew dizzy with intolerable splendor. It seemed as if seven suns were blazing at once from a firmament of sapphire and garshe saw through a soft, purple haze, interminable plains, profusely decked with the odoriferous plants; bright colored birds and butterflies were flying in and out of the branches of gigantic, but graceful trees, under which beautiful wild animals bask ed in harmony; countless children sported on velvet lawns, and amid dewy under woods, which passing streams reflected in various brilliancy; the forms of noble wo men, of heroic towering men-ministered to by innumerable gracious spirits, who laughed from the rose buds, and danced in the rainbow beams—sat in lofty circles, conversing in tones more inspiring than music or the most delicious wine.

unucoci wabie peace and joy: all disease fell from her limbs, and all sorrow from her mind. She would have rushed with the wings of an eagle to join the multiplying groups of happy and free people that sprung up on every hand; but she was arrested by a hallowed awe. One prospect after another opened and revealed to her new splendors of appearance, new delights of life. She saw each separate society wheeling about the other like the celestial gion of blessedness and undying growth, inmost residence of the gods. Saying this, she was in a moment transmuted into a Nightingale of stupendous size, and then hovered away beyond the reach of mortal eyes, into an ineffable Blaze.

The Morning Post. L. HARPER, EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR. PITTSBURGH:

WEDNESDAY MORNING, JANUARY 1, 1850 III 16 No American citizen can ever cease to esteem the front of all plessings. Distunion! God for DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION JOHN B. GUTHRIE.

To Advertisers. The Mornico Post has a larger circulation than any sabscription pager published in Pittsburgh. To husiness men it affords an excellent medium for Advertising; and being the only Democratic paper issued in Alleghony county, it goes into the hauds of a class of readers reached by no other paper. Advertisers will be good enough to bear this in mind.

According to custom, no paper will be issued from this office to morrow. Color of Tickers. The candidates for city offices, who may wish to have lighers printed at this office, will be good enough to leave their orders immediately. NEW YEAR. On the beginning of the New Year it is customary to pass compliments, to moralize on the changes of Nature and the vicissitudes of human affairs. It is a difficult thing to break from custom, even if one felt disposed to do so; and though everse to compliments and forms, we will let our full heart flow over in expressing to our readers its gratifude for the many tokens of approba-tion, we have received from them during the past year; and we assure them that it shall be our endeavor in striving to merit a contingance of their good will, to make the Paul keep up with the progressive improvements of the age, and be equal at least to any of our coemporaries in the essential qualities of a good news-aper. Readers and Friends! from the fullness of our heart we wish you all the happiness that earth can afford you? May the future be bright to you, and if clouds should guther over you in your journey, may their shalows only come to temper the intensity of the sun-tained in the above. It seems that he was of the opinion, when writing the foregoing, that Judgo BLACK was an enemy of Mr. Buchanan; but learning afterwards that the kindest personal and political relations existed between these patriotic and distinguished sons of the Keystone State, the Times man turns around and villifies Judge BLACK in the most outrageous manner, and opposes his election to the U. S. Senate.

In his paper of the 17th of December, in writing on the same subject, (probably while under the influence of liquor,) the Editor of the Times says:
