The Human and Pulmonary Organs.

The Human and Cough Remedies now in use. It is one of the Expectorain and Cough Remedies now in use. It is one of the most speedy, as well as the most pleasant, medicines now in use. It does not open the pores and expects to a yaran colm. One or two doses frequently at lays all irritation and tickling sensation produced by a harassing cough. Singers, public speakers, and those who are required to use the yocal organs to a great extent, will find in this Pectoral Syrup a sure and instant remedy for hoarseness and laryngeal irritation. It clears the throat perfectly of all collections of mecous, and gives ione and elegances to the voice.

Synthoms—The symptoms which usually usher in a Cough or Cold may be enumerated as follows: This disease in the books is calle catard, undis preceded by an increased discharge from the nose, fances and bronchis; there is a feeling of lassitude over the whole body, and very often cold shiverings are fell; at least the body is more than usually sensitive to the action of the air: the pulse increases in frequency, and there is generally more or less fever. These symptoms are soon followed with houseness and a sense of conginess and soreness in the windpipe and vocal organs, together with a dimentior of breathing and a sense of conginess and soreness in the windpipe and vocal organs, together with a dimention of the chest. There is also attending a dull pain and sense of weight in the forehead; as well as a heaviness in moving the eyes. These, fedings, sometimes at the yery beginning of the disease, and always soon after, are attended with a distillation from the nose and sometimes from the eyes, of a thin acid fluid, which frets and irritates the parts over which it hases. The cough is at first usually dry; but as the disease progresses there is an expectoration of thin mucous, which gradually becomes thicker and more copions, and having some appearance of pus. N. W. It has become outstumary in the Atlantic cittle for congregations to insure the lives of their Pasiors, and on Christmas or New Year's day to make the family a present of the policy. This is certainly an excellent way of showing their regard for their Minister, whose salary in very many cases is scarcely eighal to his immediate wants. To the man of family, at his death, it is a consolution beyond expression to know that, his helpless little ones are thus provided for.

Churches involved, would do well to insure the lives of one or more of the trustees, at whose defines the amount would be applied to liquidate the debt.

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE!

Bayon Liebio, in blacelebrated work on Animal Chem listry, says: "An artificial Digestive Fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the call, in which various articles of food, as ment and eggs, will be so softened, changed and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach."

Dr. Perestal, in his famous treatise on "Food and Diet," published by Fowlers & Wells, New York, page 35, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira.

Dr. Comes, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a diminution of the duquantity of the Gastric Juice is a prominent and all-prevaiting cause of Dyspepsia;" and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, finding everything else to fail, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomach of living animals, which proved completely successful."

Dr. Garnam, author of the famous works on "Vegetable Diet," says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomach sof animals, macerated in water, impart to the duid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of the digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of the digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of the digestion of the digestion of the digestion of the dige Queenmoure and China George Breed, 94 Wood street.

Dr. Simon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lea & Blanchard, Phila, 1846, pp. 321-2) says: "The discovery of PEPSIN forms a new era in the chemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natural Gastric Juice itself."

Professor Dunglison, of the Jefferson College, Philadelphia, in his great work on Human Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examination of this subject. His experiments with Dr. Benumont, on the Gastric Juice, obtained from the living human stomack and from animals, are well known. Phitosophy of Brandreth's Vegetable Pills.

WHEN the theory of the circulation of the blood was established, the secret springs of vitality were then partially exposed to our view. We saw and understood that the food we cat, was converted into blood, which repaired the waste of the animal machine the food is fuel, which keeps at a life beat the internat fires that warm and invigorate our inner man. The blood is an electric fluid which carries this hent to every ramification of the body, even to the extremities of the hair and horny nall. While the blood is thus the seat of ille, it is also the seat of discuss. Food gives the body strength; Brandreth's pills give. blood the necessary power to throw out from itself all impurities, thus rendering the stream of life pure and healthy. If men, were more sincere, there would be fewer religious creeds, and if they kept close to nature's lawais the management of their bodies, they would require little medicine. An men grow intelliligent they will become wiser and happiet; even now, their wisdom is proved by the fact that, when sickness assails them, they use Brandreth's Vegetable Univeral Pills, which soon restore them to health.
They are peculiarly adapted to the climate, and require noextra care when they are used, ing either diet or clothring. They should be always in the house, so that upon the first indication of sickness they may be used. One dose in the beginning is more potent for good, than a dozon after the sickness is fixed in the system. In colds, coughs, asthma, the manatism, costiveness, fevers, and in all acute, heavy or deep-seated pains, their effects will be found beyond all praise. Three or five will act like a charm, often curing a dangerous malady at once, saving months of sickness and the ovils thereunto attending. Hemember, Brandreth's Pills are a known und fully tested medicine, one that its used by hundreds of thousands in this c and other vessels, for the above old and responsible Company. [ap3] Will P. JONES, Agent Lap3] Will P.
