THIS MEDICINE has an action in affections of the Pulmonary lissues emirely different from any of the Expectorant and Cough Remedies now in use. It is one of the most speedy, as well as the most pleasant, medicines now in use. It does not open the pores and expose to a fresh cold. One or two doses frequently alays all irritation and tickling sensation produced by a harassing cough. Singers, public speakers, and those who are required to use the vocal organs to a great extent, will find in this Pectoral Symp a sure and instant remedy for houseness and laryngeal irritation. It clears the throat perfectly of all collections of mucous, and gives tone and clearness to the voice.

SYMPTOMS—The symptoms which usually asher in a Cough or Cold may be enumerated as follows: This disease in the books is calle catarrh, and is preceded by an increased discharge from the nose, fances and bronchia; there is a feeling of lessitude over the whole body, and very often cold shiverings are felt; at least the body is more than usually sensitive to the action of the air: the pulse increases in frequency, and there is generally more or less fever. These symptoms are soon followed with hoarseness and a sense of roughness and soreness in the windpipe and vocal organs, together with a difficulty of breathing and a sense of constriction of the chest. There is also attending a dull pain and sense of weight his the forchend, as well as a heaviness in moving the eyes. These feelings, sometimes at the very beginning of the disease, and always soon after, are attended with a distillation from the nose and sometimes from the eyes, of a thin acid fluid, which frets and irritates the parts over which it passes. The cough is at first usually dry; but as the disease progresses there is an expectoration of thin mucous, which gradually becomes the kera and more copious, and having some appearance of pus-Capital, £500,000-Equal to 22,600,000.

J. W. W. respectfully informs his friends and customs or start he has now completed the argest and fines, stock of household furniture ever before seen in his city, as he is determined to uphold the quality with well-seasoned materials, best workmanship, and newest, designs; and from the extent of his orders and facility in manufacturing, he is enabled to produce warranted furniture, at the lowest prices.

He has adopted the principle of identifying the customers' interest with his own, in quality and price, and keeps always on hand the greatest variety of every description of furniture, from the cheapest and plainest, to the most elegam and costly, that a house, or any part of one, may be furnished from his stock, or manufactured expressly to order. He therefore solicits an inspection, that the advantages of his establishment may be known. The following articles consist, in part, of his stock, which for richness of style and finish, cannot be surpassed in any of the Eastern cities:

It has become customary in the Atlantic cities for congregations to insure the lives of their Pastors, and on Christmas or New Year's day to make the family a present of the policy. This is certainly an excellent way of showing their regard for their Ministery whose salary in very many cases is scarcely equal to his immediate wants. To the man of family, at his death, it is a consolation beyond expression to know that his shelpless little ones are thus provided for.

As to the SPARKLED WINES of the subscriber, it is well known that the MOET EXTRA CHAMPAGNE and the splendid SPARKLING MOSELLE, imported by him are superior to any other Wines; and are sold at prices as low as most of the inferior wines now in the market which are put upon buyers as first class.

He has also CHAMPAGNE WINES of various brands and qualities, at very low prices; retail or wholesale. In the article of CLARET WINES, generally, the subscriberholds himself to be a judge, and he offers the finest sock here, from the very lowest price, by the single dozen, to the first class or "premier cru" of MEDOC.

Of BURGUNDY WINES he has a large stock and can assure customers that he can present to it em, from his vaults, as good a bottle of Burgundy as France affords. In the articles of COGNAC and other BRANDIES he has now a fine stock, embracing some very old extra of 1800, of Orabo Doury & Co., and some celebrated and "CLAVIER of 1821" in eighth casks, and 1842 in hids. and "DBOUCHE," 1844, in hids. on consignment, which was a second consignment, which was a s Wall Paper and Bordering W. Dr. Gorms, in his valuable writings on the "Physiolo-Dr. Gorms, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a diminution of the due agantity of the Gastrie Juice is a prominent and all-prevailing cause of Dyspepsia;" and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, fluding everything clase to fail, had recourse to the Gastrie Juice, obtained from the stomach of living autimals, which proved completely successful."

Dr. Graham, author of the famous works on "Vegetable Diet," says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomachs of animals, macerated in water, impart to the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestive process." tested to turnish, on the most reasonable terms, every testeription of Cabin Furniture and Chairs of the busierial and workmanship. Dr. Sixon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lea & Blanchard, Phila, 1646; pp. 521-2) says: "The discovery of PEPSIN forms a new era in the chemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natural disserted like tisel?"

Professor Denalison, of the Jefferson College, Philadelphia, in his great work on Human Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examination of this sobject. The experiments with Dr. Beaumont, on the Gastric Juice, obtained from the living human stomach and from animals, are well known. Philosophy of Brandreth's Vegetable

WHEN the theory of the circulation of the blood was established, the secret springs of vitality were then partially exposed to our view. We saw and understood that the food we cat, was converted into blood, which repaired the woate of the animal machine; the food is fact, which keeps at a life heat the Internal fires that warm and invigorate our inner man. The blood is an electric fluid which carries this heat to every ramification of the body, even to the extremities of the hair and horry nail. While the blood is thus the sent of life, it is also the seat of disease. Food gives the body strength; Braudreth's pilis give blood the necessary power to throw out from itself all importities, thus removes the control of the property of Fresh Arrival-New Goods! .
