Don't Hubry.—We heard a pathetic tale of a gentleman, now very poor, who was deprived of a large estate in consequence of being in too much of a hurry.—A dying man had quarrelled with his heirs and was determined they should not have his money. Ho had made a will, giving all his money to this individual, which only wanted his signature. His sands were running low and calling his friend, bade him take the will from the drawer and bring him the inkstand.—Tears blinded the fortunate done's eyes as he hastitily executed the command. He seized a small bottle from the mantlepieco, and dipping the as he hastitily executed the command. He soized a small bottle from the mantlepiece, and dipping the pen, the testator wrote his name, lay back and died. That will was put back in the chest, and the old man was buried, but when they came to look for the will, they found it had no signature: Alas!—the truth was plain—in his baste for the ink he had got the wrong bottle, and the will was signed with paregoric. So the heirs got it after all.—Pathfinder.

HARRISBURG, January 27. My unavoidable absence from the Capitol for several days past, must be my apology for not having kept you fully advised of the progress of affairs here. Upon looking over the proceedings, since Thursday, I observe but little has been done; consequently, your readers will have lost but little; if any thing. The proceedings of the Canal Board seem claim more consideration now, than those of any other body in session at the State Capitol. The apintments which were to have been announced on Friday have been delayed, in consequence of a difference of opinion in regard to several removals of importance. For these places there are so many applicants, whose claims are backed by the most powerful influences, that the Board has as yet been. unable to decide which shall have the preference. A calm, careful and deliberate course has been pursued by the Board in regard to appointments; and the result will be, the selection of such officers as will be most likely to promote the best interests of the State. Upon the choice of good men, depends, of course, the efficient operation of the works; the delay, therefore, in making appointments, merous applicants, the best men. I some time since suggested, through one of the Philadelphia dailies, the propriety of a change in the time of making appointments by the Canal Board; and I am led to believe that the suggestion will be eventually adopted. Every one, at all conversant with the affairs of the State Works, cannot fail to see that a more inappropriate time than the month of January, for making appointments, could not been selected. It is the very senson when repairs, necessary to a vigorous spring trade, should fuse to do so, because their continuance in office is a matter of uncertainty-are delayed until February, and in many cases, entrusted to new and inexperienced men. The result of this has been inefficient repairs, and oftentimes delay in the opening of the canals-extremely prejudicial to the revenue of the State. The month of August is the proper ime. Business is then slack, and officers retained would have no excuse for not giving early attention EVIDENCE IN OUR MIDST. Mr. Kier:—Sir, I cheerfully comply with your re-lest, that I would give you an account of the almost iraculous cure of my little daughter's eye, by the use your "PETROLEUM." of your "PETROLEUM."

She was attacked with a very sore eye, in February or March last, when I immediately applied to the best medical aid in the city, by whom it was pronounced "a very had eye!" and all gave me "no hope of doing her any good. After which I took her into the country to an old lady, who had been very successful in curing eyes. She told me that her case was hopeless, as she vereld excitable to the country to h yes. She told me that her case was hopeless, as she could certainly lose not only that one, but, also, that se other would follow—it being a scroulous affection of the blood. And I do certify, that at the time my father I. B. Vashon.) came to the conclusion that we had beit try your." Petroleam," she was entirely blind of one ye. It is now about two months since she began its use, and she can now see with both eyes as good as she ever lid; and, as far as I can tell, I believe she has, with the clessing of the Almighty, been cured by "Petroleum." Yours, respectfully,

M. Frances Vashon Colden.
