Wistar's Balsam of Wild Oherry. We have not unfrequently called attention to this arricle in the columns of our paper, and we have done so with the full confidence that it was a good one, and descrying the patronage of the public. We have had a chance to witness its effects upon some of our friends, which, in addition to the bigh encomiums passed upon it by our brethren of the press, not in paid puffs, but in honest, candid statements, from having derived a bene-fit themselves; makes us desirois of advising all those who have occasion to resort to a remedy for pulmonary affections, to avail themselves of it. We have too much confidence in the proprietors to believe they, would thrust this or any other medicine upon the community, unless they had fall faith in its effectag—in confirm-ation of which the proprietors offer a mass of testimany from the most unquestionable sources. Neither would they be understood as saying that this will always cure consamption after it seated, although it seldon fails to relieve the worst cases—but at this seasen of the year almost every bady is liable to a cold, which, if ne-glected, will lead to fail results—by taking this medi-cine we doubt not many lives may be saved.—New Wistor's Balsam of Wild Cherry.
