PETROLEUM OR ROCK OIL; ern times!

T is not more than one year ago since this great remely was brought before the public, for the relief and cure of disease. Its great powers to heal, have, since then, become fully appreciated by the community, and we allege that the longer it is tried the more certain will its great fame spread. It is not the remedy of a day, got up for the sole purpose of making money; but, one, which we conceive, will continue to be used when all nostrains have been forgotten. The PETROLEUM is a Natural Ramedy, elaborated in the depths of the earth by a power and agency that laughs to scorn all human competition. It is our duty, when we write about a medicine, that we write rawn—that we say nothing encludated to deceive those who may trust our word or put confidence in our statements. The sick are very apit to earth at any thing that promises relief from discase. A story can hardly be too highly wrought to answer the object of gallinger humburging some of them. Now, we do not desire to do this; we are anxious only that the truth in relation to our Remedy should be told, in order to secure for it a reputation for exceeding any single article of the materia medicae. Plant, unvarished facts—facts that may be ascertained in our own city and neighborhood, bear ample testimony in favor of the Petroeum.

I has become eastomary in the Atlantic cities for congregations to insure the lives of their Pastors, and on Christmas or New Year's day to make the family, a present of the policy. This is certainly an excellent way of showing their regard for their Minister, whose salary in very many cases is scarcely equal, to his immediate wants. To the man of family, at his death, it is a consolation beyond expression to know that his helpless little ones are thus provided for.

Charches involved, would do well to insure the lives of one or more of the trustees, at, whose demise the amount would be applied to liquidate the debt.

Baron Limio, in his celebrated work on Animal Chem istry, says: "An artificial Digestive Pluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the call, in which various articles of food, as ment and eggs, will be so softened, changed and digested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach."

Philosophy of Brandreth's Vegetable Pills.

WHEN the theory of the circulation of the blood was established, the secret springs of vitality were then partially exposed to our view. We saw and undersmood that the food we cat, was converted into blood, which repaired the waste of the animal machine; the food is fuel, which keeps at a life heat the internal fires that warm and invigorate our inner man. The blood is un electric fluid which carries this heat to every ramification of the body, even to the extremities of the hair and horny sail. While the blood is thus the seat of life, it is also the seat of diseare. Food gives the body strength; Brandreth's pills give blood the necessary power to throw out from itself all impurities, thus rendering the stream of life pure and healthy. If men were more sincere, there would be fewer religious creeds; said if they kept close to nature's laws is the management of their bodies, they would require little medicine. As men grow intelliligent they will become wiser and happier; even now, their wisdom is proved by the fact that, when sickness assails them, they are Brandreth's Vegetable Univeral Pills, which soon restore them to health. They are peculiarly adapted to the climate, and require no extra care when they are used, in either dictor clothing. They should be always in the house, so that upon the first Indication of sickness they may be used. One dose in the beginning is more potent for good, than a dozea after the sickness is fixed in the system. In colds, coughs, assima, rheumatism, costiveness, fevers, and in all acute, heavy or deep-scated pains, their effects will be found beyond all praise. Three or five will act like a charm, often curing a dangerous malady at once, saving months of sickness and the ovils thoreunto attending. Remember, Brandreth's Fills are a known and fully seted medicine, one that is used by hundreds of thousands in this country and throughout the civilized world. They are guiety 10 do extra fine do;

Dr. Coxar, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a diminution of the duo quantity of the Gastric Julice is a prominent and all-prevailing cause of Dyspepsia;" and ho states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, finding everything clas to fail, had recourse to the Gastric Julice, obtained from the stomach of living animals, which proved complettly snecessful."

Dr. Grahlam, author of the famous works on "Vegetable Diet," says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomachs of animals, macerated in water, impart to the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digesttive process."

Dr. Simon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lea& Blanchard, Phila, 1836, pp. 321-23 says: "The discovery of PEPSIN forms a new cra in the chemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments we know that food is dissolved as repidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsia, as it is in the natural Gastrie Julice itself."

Professor Dwollson, of the Jefferson College, Philadelphia, in his great work on Human Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examination of this subject.

Juice, obtained from the living human stomach and from animals, are well known. "In all cases," he says, "digestion occurred as perfectly in the artificial as in the natural digestions."
