PETROLEUM OR ROCK OIL; PETROLEUM OR ROCK OIL;

It is not more than one year ago since this great remains and the promise of the public, for the relief and cure of disease. Its great powers to heal, have, since then, become fully appreciated by the community, and we allege that the longer it is tried the more certain will its great fame spread. It is not the remedy of a day, got up for the sole purpose of making money; but, one, which we conceive, will continue to be used when all nostrums have been forgotten. The PETROLEUM is a Natural Remedy, elaborated in the depths of the earth by a power and agency that laughs to scorn all human competition. It is our duty, when we write shout a medicine, that we write TRUM—that we say nothing calculated to deceive those who may trust our word, or put confidence in our statements. The sick are very apt to catch at any thing that promises relief from discase. A story can hardly be too highly wrought to answer the object of golling or humburging some of them. Now, we do not desire to do this; we are anxious only that the truth in relation to our Remedy should be told, in order to secure for it a reputation far exceeding any single article of the materia medica. Plain, unvarnished facis—facis that may be ascertained in our own city and neighborhood, bear ample testimony in favor of the Petroleum.

SCIENTIFIC EVIDENCE!

Baron Likelo, in biscelebrated work on Animal Chem listry, says: "An artificial Digestive Fluid, analogous the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the calf, in which various articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be so softened, changed and dirested, just in the same manner as they would be in the human stomach."

Dr. Perstra, in his famous treatise on "Food and Diet." published by Fowlors & Wells, New York, pag. 35, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira.

Dr. Comb, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a diminution of the due quantity of the Gastric Juice is a prominent and all-prevailing cause, of Dyspepcia;" and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, finding everything else to fall, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomach of living animals, which proved completely successful."

Dr. Gaaham, author of the famous works on "Vegetable Dict," says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology, that the stomachs of animals, macerated in water, impart to the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, may be successful."

Dr. Simon's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," (Lea & Blanchard, Phila., 1846, pp. 321-2) says: "The discovery of Pigestion. From recent experiments we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natural digestions."
