I was prostrated by that terrible acourge, Consumption, in May last. The attack was truty horrifying to me, for five of my family, (my brothers and sisters,) had died of Coasamption. We was afflicted with nearly all of the worst features of the disease: I had a distressing cough and expectorated agreat deal of blood, hectic fever, severe pains in the side and chest, cold chills, alternating with flushes of heat and copious night sweats.

I was under the care of a skilled physician from the time I was taken sick until about six weeks slace, being then about helpless, and my fitneds considering my case hopeless, or at least beyond the reach of our physician's skill; advised the use of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry.

I have taken four bottles of the medicine, and now consider myself perfectly well. I make this statement to induce others that are afflicted as I have been, to make trial of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, which remedy has, under the blessing of Providence, restored my health.
