PETROLEUM OR ROCK OIL;

This not more than one year ago since this great remedy was brought before the public, for the relief and cure of disease. Its great powers to head, have, since then, become fully appreciated by the community, and we alliege that the longer it is tried the more certain will its great fame spread. It is not the remedy of a day, got up for the sole purpose of making money; but, one, which we conceive, will continue to be used when all mostrams have been forgotten. The PETROLEUM is a mostram have allowed in the depths of the earth by a power and agency that laughs to scorn all human competition. It is our duty, when we write about a medicine, that we write Taurn—that we say nothing accidented to deceive those who may trust our word or put confidence in our statements. The sick are very apt to catch at any thing that promises relief from disease. A story can hardly be too highly wrought to answer also object of galling or humbugging zome of them.

Now, we do not desire to do this; we are anxious only that the truth in relation to our Remedy should be told in order to secure for it areputation far exceeding any single article of the smateria medica. The Gentlemen's Furnishing Department is plentifully supplied with a variety of superb and delicately wrought articles of dress. All that we can say in this connection is, that at our Establishment the gentlemen of taste can be supplied with any article in our line, manufactured out of the best materials and by the most experienced hands. We solicit an examination of our stock; it composes a variety which challenges comparison. Dr. Persirsa, in his famous treatise on "Food and Distry "published by Fowlors & Wells, New York, page 35, states the same great fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira.

Dr. Comb, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a diminution of the duc quantity of the Gastric Jaice is a prominent and nil-prevaling cuse of Dyspepsia;" and he states that "a distinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely afflicted with this complaint, fading everything else to fail, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomach of living animals, which proved completely successful.

Dr. Gasham, author of the famous works on "Vegetable Diet;" says: "It is a remarkable fact in physiology that the stomache of animals, manerated in water, impart to the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no ween the cash and the cash and the cash a A second price of the company of the luxury which a gentleman of good taste would fancy.

Dr. Strow's great work, the "Chemistry of Man," Lee & Blancbard, Phila., 1840, pp. 321-2) says: "The discovery of PEPSIN forms a new era in the chemical history of Digestion. From recent experiments we know that food is dissolved as rapidly in an artificial digestive fluid, prepared from Pepsin, as it is in the natural Gastric Juice itself."

Professor Duralison, of the Jefferson College, Philadelphia, in his great work on Humah Physiology, devotes more than fifty pages to an examination of this subject. His experiments with Dr. Beaumont, on the Gastric Juice, obtained from the living human stomach and from animals, are well known. "In all cases," he says, "digestion occurred as perfectly in the artificial as in the natural digestions."

Dr. Houghton's preparation of PEPSIN has produced the most marvelous effects, curing cases of Debility, Emaciation, Nervous Decline, and Dyspeptic Consumption, supposed to be on the very verge of the grave. It is impossible to give the details of cases in the limit of this advertisement—but authenticated certificates have been given of more than TWO HUNDRED REMARK.
