[IP Hints to Parents. -- One great source of discase in children is the unhealthiness of parents! It would be just as reasonable to expect a rich crop from a barren soil, as that strong and healthy children should be born of parents whose constitutions have been worn out with intemperance and disease. A sickly frame may be originally induced by hardships, accidents, or intemperance, but chiefly by the latter. It is impossible that a course of vice or imprudences should not spoil the best constitution; and did the evit terminate here; it would be at just punishment for the folly of the transgressor. But not so. For when once a disease is contracted, and through neglect in applying the proper means it becomes rivited in the habit, it is then entailed upon posterity. Female constitutions are as chapable of improvement as family estates—and ye who would wish to improve, not only your own health, but that of your own offspring by eradicating the many distressing diseases that creations are some contents. new system has been adopted, and for the first time, I will venture to assert, in the history of this country, a jury has been called upon to give land, Butler, Beaver, and Armstrong, where a to sunset. Female constitutions are as chaple of improvement as family estates—and ye who would wish to improve, not only your own health, but that of your own ofspring, by diredicating the many distressing diseases that are entailed through neglect or imprudence, lose no time in purifying the blood and cleansing the system. Married persons, and those about to be married, should not fall to purify their blood, for how many diseases are transmitted to posterity. How often do we see Scalds, Serofula and a thousand other afflictions, transmitted to the rising generation, that might have been prevented by this time, before the public, or the whole world, so effectively as the state of the rising before the public, or the whole world, so effectively as the state of the rising before the public, or the whole world, so effectively as the state of the rising before the public, or the whole world, so effectively as the state of the rising before the public, or the whole world, so effectively as the state of the rising before the public, or the whole world, so effectively as the state of the rising before the public, or the whole world, so effectively as the state of the rising before the public of the world as ofference of the rising the rising the state of the rising the rising the state of the rising t 50 miles distant from Pittsburgh. Weak indeed must be the intellect, that could ascertain the idea that the words, "Officers and men in a public capacity," in the section of the Constitution above quoted, meant the Chairman of a public meeting. The idea is preposterous! absurd!! nonsensical!!! I shall not argue this point, for I hold it to be perfectly clear. Nor is it necessary to the clucidation of my subject that I should; for, in truth, it has nothing to do with it, and I have only made the preceding remarks, for the purpose of denouncing what I am fully conscious is a dangerous inroad upon the proper administration of justice and to enter my protest against it.
