Baron Luence, in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An artificial Digessive Fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be readily prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the calf, in which warious articles of food, as meat and eggs, will be so softened, changed and digested, just in the same manner articlet which was they would be in the human stomach."

Dr. Perrina, in his famous treatise on "Food and Distribution of the fact, and describes the method of preparation. There are few higher authorities than Dr. Pereira.

Dr. Comer, in his valuable writings on the "Physiology of Digestion," observes that "a diminution of the due quantity of the Gastric Juiceis a prominent and all-pite vailing cause of Dysopsia;" and he states that "a disinguished professor of medicine in London, who was severely affilicted with this complant, faning everything else to fail, had recourse to the Gastric Juice, obtained from the stomach of living & minals, which proved completely successful."

Dr. Gariaka, anthor of the famous works on "Vegetable Distributions of the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of them in no wise different from the natural digestion of the fact where the minimal property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of the fluid the property of dissolving various articles of food, and of effecting a kind of artificial digestion of the fluid the property of dissolving various BOUT TWO HOURS, out of the stomach.
