CITY INTELLIGENCE.

Allegheny Bridge Case.

Court of Common Pleas.—Before the Hon. Judge McClure.

FOURTH DAY—AUGUST 14.

Mr. Anderson's evidence continued:—The stock paid in was $84,000; the State subscription was $40,000; there was between $48,000 and $44,000 of individual subscription paid in. Were any of the tolls or revenues of the bridge applied to the payment of individual subscriptions?—Objected to on the ground that the books of the company were the best evidence. Overruled and exception noted.] There never was a dollar, to my knowledge, so applied; the cost of the bridge was greater than the subscribed stock about $14,000 or $16,000; we had the bridge pretty nearly all paid for before we commenced to take toll; we declared the first dividend in 1824, and they have, up to the time of this information, been regularly declared; was present when the dividends were so declared by the Board, at their regular meetings on the 1st of July, and 1st of January; the dividends declared and the amount appropriated to the sinking fund covered the total receipts, after deducting the expenses; the sinking fund was ordered to be laid out in stocks for the best advantage of the bridge; the contingent fund has been kept so invested; had the tolls not been commuted and reduced, there would not have been to-day, in Allegheny, one house where there are ten; had we have stuck to the tolls specified in the charter, we could never have declared six per cent.; there never was a resolution passed by the Board, prohibiting James Todd and his family from crossing the bridge by commutation, or otherwise, to him in any manner.

Cross-examined.—I know that he did not pass by the year; he was excluded for bad conduct. Who did exclude James Todd from crossing the bridge? I don't think that's proper for me to answer; I don't know who were the committee at the time Todd was excluded; it is the duty of the committee to regulate tolls and matters pertaining thereto; don't remember the time when Todd was excluded; had this man Todd have come to me, this matter could have been fixed in five minutes; but he was above that; he wished to bully us and the toll keeper, and we would not be bullied by him; have remedied such cases; I don't remember of the exclusion of Todd ever having been spoken of before the Board; I might have conversed with some of the toll committee in reference to the matter, but don't remember the conversation; can't say whether it was generally known to the Board; don't tell the amount of tolls received from the opening of the bridge until the first dividend was declared in 1824; the bridge company purchased a lot of ground on this side of the river susequent to the erection of the bridge; there was nothing on it at the time we purchased it; the ferries continued to run but a short time after the completion of the bridge; had but one contingent fund; when there was a surplus, the Board would direct the secretary to invest it as he thought best for the benefit of the company; this direction was given by resolution of the Board; expenses for the bridge were drawn from this fund; the interest of the contingent fund was carried into the receipts of the tolls, and the dividend struck therefrom; the clerk and treasurer, under the direction of the Board, have the management of the fund; this fund, as I understand it, is for general purposes, such as rebuilding or repairing the bridge; there has never been any action by the Board with a view of preventing or extending the time of the redemption of the bridge. The lot of ground spoken of was purchased to prevent works from being erected on it, from the fear that the bridge might be destroyed by fire therefrom. It was not the business of the Board to facilitate or take part in the redemption of the Bridge. The Directors are the servants of the Stockholders, and the fund is at their disposal. Did the Stockholders or Directors ever take any action for the purpose of setting apart a fund for the redemption of the Bridge? There is a fund for what purpose I don't know.

John Morrison, sworn.—Reside in Allegheny city, was manager of the company; once was on the toll committee; if trip toll had been required of all persons, the revenues of the Bridge would have been greatly enhanced; a system of trip toll would not have been submitted to by the people of Allegheny, and if there was competition, the business of the bridge would have been diminished; the commutation was in operation before I went into the Board; it was, as I understood it, for the purpose of equalizing the tolls.

Cross Ex.—Couldn't tell the number by the year who passed the bridge, in proportion to those who passed by the trip; from one-half to two-thirds of the citizens of Allegheny passed over this bridge; it is the natural route and channel for that proportion of citizens in crossing to this side; a great many more pass this bridge from this side, than any other bridge; am well acquainted with the customers of that section of country north of the Allegheny. The population of Allegheny city in 1830 was 20,000; the oldest is the lower part of the city, from Hand street below Federal; they commenced building above Hand street, about the time the canal was located. I don't remember when the upper bridge was built, but think it was after the Hand Street Bridge was built; the corn above Hand street to the upper end of the city it was built since 1830; Federal street, leading to the old bridge, is the great thoroughfare into which the country roads come in. If the system of commutation had not been adopted by this bridge, persons would have sought some other crossing.

Mr. Morrison asked leave to explain in reference to his answer about the effect on the revenues of the bridge, by the commutation of tolls; he wished to have said that to take trip tolls altogether would have increased the revenues, provided the travel was the same.

Mr. John Harper being called as a witness, he was objected to as incompetent, having been a stockholder. It was contended by defendant's counsel that he having been once sworn in the cause, he was fully competent to give evidence. He was permitted to testify. An treasurer and clerk of the company; have held this office since the spring of '42; John Snyder was my predecessor; Alex. Johnston preceded him; Mr. Johnston died in 1832; since my term of office I have made annual reports to the Auditor General; my first report was in January, 1843; that was of the proceedings of the previous year. The annual dividend of 1850 was 15 per cent., $2 per share, amounting to $12,757 00; receipts of tolls $17,822 16; expenses $6,297 53; State tax $636 17. In 1849 the tolls were $18,014 42; expenses $5,894 25; dividend $12,727 50; State tax $636. In 1848 the tolls were $18,209 12; dividends $12,727 50; State taxes $636 37; contingent fund $27,800 60. In 1847 the tolls were $17,656 94; dividends 15 per cent; State tax $636 37; contingent fund $24,722 55. In 1846 the tolls were $17,299 57; dividends 15 per cent.; State tax $636 37; contingent fund $23,423 30.

Mr. Harper here read the report of 1844 and 1845, the two years for which there were no copies in the Auditor General's office at Harrisburg. The copies of the other years having been procured by relators counsel.

The Court adjourned.

The Central Rail Road.—We are gratified to learn that the Central Rail Road, the great improvement of Pennsylvania, is now completed to Bolivar, ten miles East of Blairsville. The balance of the road is being rapidly pushed to completion, but until its consummation—which is most devoutly wished—the facilities of travel and the accommodation and convenience of the public will not be neglected.

Col. Morehead, the Agent of this road, and the indefatigable Stage Agent of the Good Intent and Telegraph Line, will, on Monday next, put on a line of stages, connecting with the rail road at the point mentioned, whereby passengers from this to Philadelphia will be enabled to pass through with only forty miles staging, and in several hours shorter time than heretofore. We are informed by the Agent that persons will be delivered in Philadelphia in thirty hours from the time they get into the coach here. Office, under the St. Charles Hotel.

☞ John Green, a stage driver, was committed yesterday by Mayor Guthrie, on a charge of larceny and obtaining money under false pretences. Mary L. Reynolds had given him $10 to pay her stage fare, and he kept the money.

Larceny.—Sampson Warfield and John Brown, colored men, were yesterday committed by Mayor Guthrie, charged with stealing corn and potatoes—the latter one on his own confession.

Sale of Furniture.—Friday, at 10 o'clock, the house furniture of Wm. Rhodes, on Fifth street, between Grant and Ross, 191, will be sold at public sale. Here's a chance for speculation.

☞ Andrew Dunn was yesterday sentenced by the Court to pay 6¼ cents fine and costs of prosecution, in a case of assault and battery, to which he pled guilty in the June term. The costs amounted to near $30.

☞ The carriage of which we spoke yesterday as being made by E. C. Gregg & Co., was made by Clark, McGrath & Co.

☞ Esqr. Horner, of East Liberty, yesterday committed John Porterfield for the larceny of a grain cradle.

Killed.—A gentleman named Highlands was yesterday coming in to Allegheny city in a one horse wagon. The horse, in coming down Troy Hill, took fright and ran away. Mr. H. was thrown out and instantly killed.

Dead.—Major Amberson, a boat builder, an old and highly respectable citizen, was stricken down, the day before yesterday, near his residence in the Sixth Ward, by a fit of apoplexy, from the effects of which he died yesterday.

Returning.—Many of our citizens are returning from the watering places. We presume they have found out that there is no better water to be found than that which flows in our beautiful Allegheny.

☞ Wylie street is now beautifully lighted up with gas, and the good people in that portion of the city are much rejoiced thereat.

Death of Dr. Harfort.—News reached the city yesterday by telegraph, that our townsman, Dr. Hartfort, died at Cape May.

☞ Margaret Lassam was yesterday committed by Mayor Guthrie for adultery.

DAILY REVIEW OF THE MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY MORNING POST,
Friday, August 15, 1851.

The weather during part of the past week was changeable, and business in some branches of trade has improved. We notice our dry goods, hardware and shoe merchants are receiving their fall supply, and the stocks are large, and prepared to make it an object for Western merchants to purchase in this market. In the market, we find but little change of consequence to note.

ASHES—The sales are confined to small lots for manufacturing purposes; we quote sales of Soda ash at 2¾ @3¼. Pots we quote at 3¼ to 4¼ Saleratus—Sales are dull at 3½ to 4 in kits and boxes

APPLES—The market is bare; choice article would demand from 2 to 2 50 per bbl.

ALE—There continues a regular brisk demand for this article. We quote Manufacturers' prices—regular discount off for cash.

Imperial Bev., per bbl	$6 00
Common, per bbl	4 00

BROOMS—The stock is large and prices nominal—We quote from 2,50 @ 3,00 per doz.

BEESWAX—There is but little offering; good lots of Yellow we quote at 21@22c.

Among the sales we note 5000 lb Hams at 9c; 3000 do at 9½c; 800 do St. Louis cured at 10c; 3152 do Hams at 9½c; 2000 do do at 9c; 1200 do do at 9½c; 5000 do Shoulders at 5½c; 2000 do at 9c; 1200 do do at 9½c; 1000 do Sides, rib and clear at 8½c; 2000 do Cured Hams 10½c to 11c. We were shown a letter by a House in this city, from an Eastern House, offering 9½c, cash, for 60 bbls bulk shoulders, which we refused.

BUTTER AND EGGS—The market for Butter is dull. We quote barrels nominally at 16@18c. Kegs at 12@c. Eggs—sales by the barrel at 9@9½c.

WOOL—Receipts during the past week has been limited; we quote at 30 to 40c. It will be seen by the following statement from the "Commercial List" that the amount shipped from this port, this season, falls far short of last:

Wool—The receipts have been to a fair extent since our last report, but the demand continues limited, as the manufacturers purchase only for the supply of their immediate wants. The bulk of the supplies from the west have now been received and sold. The shipments from Pittsburgh by canal from the opening of the navigation to the 1st inst., show a falling off of 550,000 lbs as compared with the same time last year. The week's sales comprise 40 000 lbs in small lots at our quotations—Among the sales we notice 30,000 lbs fleece at 40@42c; 5000 lbs tub washed at 39c; 3000 Lambs 3000 extra tub at 41c, and 5000 quarter and half blood at 37@40c ₱ lb, 6 months.

The Detroit Advertiser says:—We were always advocates of the farmers of Michigan going into the wool business more extensively, and within the last fifteen years have written much on the subject. The number of sheep in this state, according to the first census in 1840, was 211,560. In the census of 1845 they had increased to 39 984. In the recent census of the state and General Government, we have the pre-eminent number of 1,050,000. Let us see how much capital there is invested in the wool growing business by the farmers of Michigan. It is a sum exceeding the whole capital of the banks of the state.

1,050,000 sheep will average $1,50 each.....$1,500,000
2 000,000 acres of land to keep them on, 2½ each 4,000,000

Invested in sheep and land.....$5,500,000

Here it is easily seen that the farmers of this state alone have a large interest in enhancing the duties on foreign woolens and wool. The price of sheep from each sheep would be increased At present, we are importing manufactured woolens to the amount of $16,000,000 a year, and also importing wool to the amount of 3,000,000 the amount of its own Not withstanding, all this, wool has borne an excellent price, and gives the most favorable encouragement for new sheep to be raised.

The Cincinnati Price Current says:—The wool market, since our last, has continued moderately active, and demand being fully equal to the receipts at previous quotations, which we continue, viz:—Full Blood 32@40c; Three-quarter do 37@40c; Half do 30@35c; quarter do 31@33c; Common 29@32c; Unwashed one-third less; Fab washed 29@30c; Pulled 31@32c; Extra fine fleece 42@43c.

FROM BOSTON.

BOSTON, August 14.

Mr. John Stevens, a real estate broker, committed suicide this morning by cutting the main artery of his right leg. He died sitting in his chair. He had only been married since Saturday last.

We were visited, yesterday at noon, by a very severe storm of wind and hail, which caused much damage to the fruit and crops.

By an arrival at Boston this morning, we have dates from the Cape of Good Hope to the 21st. The existing troubles were no nearer settlement. Papers of Capetown say the Caffres and Hottentots, if successful, intend to establish their own government. Several traitors have been discovered in the Hottentot camp.

Theopolus, one of the oldest missionary stations among the Hottentots, had been burnt, and a number of Fingoes murdered. The depredations still continue, and the opinion prevailed that Caffre power was yet unbroken. Business was in a dilapidated state.

The advices from the Cape of Good Hope represent affairs there as assuming a much more serious aspect. Thousands of cattle belonging to settlers had been driven off. Keeli, a powerful chief, had gone over to the rebels and murdered the missionaries out of his territory.

Overpowering forces of Caffres and Hottentots are gathering in the mountains. Fears are entertained that the enemy would kill the farmers and their children by wholesale. The natives, in a recent attack on the settlement, had captured 3000 sheep and 700 head of cattle.

The Frontier Times says that Sir Henry Smith is endeavoring to negotiate peace with the rebel chief, on condition that they give up their arms, and restore the captured cattle; but there is no prospect of his
