BLOOMERS IN PHILADELPHIA.—The Philadelphia papers all notice the increase of wearers of the Bloomer dress in that city. The Inquirer, of yesterday morning, says: "On Saturday night last there could not have been less than twenty or thirty Bloomers in Chesnut street, between eight and ten o'clock. They were all recompanied by gentlemen, and attracted much attention. Indeed, the sidewalks were thronged with pedestrians and specators, attracted no doubt, by the fact that the Bloomers are in the habit of promenading on that street almost every evening. They appear to be on the increase, and we are glad to observe that the annoyances to which they were at first
