Many townships in the State, says the Pennsylvanian, have in past contests laid claim to precedence in the Democratic ranks, on the score of large comparative majorities for the party, and conspicuous amongst these are the noble townships of Codorus and Manheim, in York county, which on several occasions have been very nearly unanimous for the Democratic nominces. ADDRESS OF KOSSUTH To the People of the United States

[CONCLUDED.]

Oh, that Hungary had received has a slight token of mural support from the European powers—from those powers whose dreams are troubled with february in the advance of the Cossack! Had only an English of a French agent come to us during our struggle, what might he not have done! He, too, would have seen and corrected our shillty to sustain ourselves—he estimated our ability to sustain ourselves would have observed the humanity, the love of order, the reverence for liberty, which characterized the Hungarian nation. Had these two powers permitted a few ships to come to Descrit, laden with arms for the noble patriots who had asked in vain for weapons, the Hungarians would ow have stood a more impregnable barrier gainst Russia than all the arts of a miserable and expensive diplomacy.

There was a time when we with the neighboring Poles, saved Christianity in Europe. And now I hesitate not to avow before God, that we now I hesitate not to avow perora your master alone—that my own Hungary—could have saved Europe from Russian denomination. As the war in Hungary advanced, its character became changed. In the end, the results it contemplated that was and far more important—nothing were higher and far more important—nothing less, in fact, than universal freedom, which was not thought of in the beginning. This was not a choise; it was forced upon us by the policy of the European nations, who, disregarding their own interests, suffered Russis to invade and own interests, suffered sussis to invade and provoke us. Yes, we were martyrs to the cause of freedom, and this glorious but painful destiny was imposed upon us.

the only safe policy and guarantee of freedom for them all. The realization of this idea will hurl the power of the haughty despots to the abyss of the past and Hungary free surrounded by free nations, will be great, glorious and independent. At the moment when I hardly hoped for fur-ther consolation on earth, behold the God of Mer-ly freed my wife, and enabled her, through a thousand dangers, to reach me in my place of exile! Like a hunted deer, she could not for ve months find in her own native land a place of rest. The executioners of the beardless Nero placed a reward upon her head, but she has escaped the tyrants. She was to me and to my exiled countrymen like the rainbow to Noah; for she brought intelligence of hope in the unshaken souls of the Hungarian people, and in the affectionate sympathy of the neighboring nations who had fought against us. They had aided the wife of the much slandered governor of Hungary.

Although the sympathy of the world often depends upon the result of actions, and the suc-cessful are applianded, still Hungary, by her noble bearing and trials, has drawn the atten tion of the world. The sympathy which she has excited in both worlds, and the thundering curse which the lips of millions have pronounced against her destroyers, announce, like the roaring of the wind before the storm, the coming bution of Heaven.

The President of the United States, whom the confidence of a free people had elevated to the loftiest station in the world, in his message to Congress, announced that the American govern-ment would have been the first to recognise the dependence of Hungary. And the senators and representatives in Congress marked the de-stroyers of my country's liberty with the stigma number of patent rights; the principal part of ignominy, and expressed, with indignant feelings, their contempt for the conduct of Austria, the carriages disposed of, and many sales of and their wish to break the diplomatic interother property made. Before you I assert that the accusation of the Magyar race was unjust to the other races

It is true, some of the races in Hungary had

Their grievances and ours were the same in the peretual violation of the constitution by the imperial government. But their ces arose from the evils of former times, and from the Austrian system of government, which forcibly placed the Slavonian, Servian, and How often have I, and other leaders with me. said to my countrymen that they must be strictly just, and seek their future greatness, not in the predominance of one race, but in the perfect equality of all! My counsel was adopted and made the basis of government. The same free-dom, the same privileges, without regard to language or religion, the free development of each race under the protection of the law, were accorded to all. We not only guaranteed the right to use any language in the churches and schools, bat we afforded aid for the education and development of each nationality.
