THURSDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 20, 1902

Have Intelligence, etc. The River continued to recede yesterday, but there was still an abundance of water in the channel for all classes of boats.

In taking advantage of the present rise, our merchants have proved themselves worthy of their proverbial character for enterprise and industry. We do not suppose that there is any city in the States that could have shipped off the same amount of goods under the same circumstances, as have let our what since Monday morning.

The steamer Capt. Grant, is this Cincinnati packet for today. The boat is all the more interesting, truly, because it would be a most precious sight to see a most graceful commander, or than the gentlemanly Captain Grant. We can assure all who desire to travel on her, that their comfort will be most satisfactorily attended to by the accommodating officers.

We learn with pleasure that our esteemed friend Capt. Thomas H. Moore, of the steamer Nelson, has purchased the splendid Steaming Ship No. 2, and will run her in the Westinghouse as a regular packet, in place of the James Nelson, which has been withdrawn. The well known captain of Capt. T. Moore is a commander and his courtesy as a gentleman, in every way gives assurance of a pleasant trip to his passengers and safe transit of goods to shipmen.

The Chicago leaves tomorrow morning on her first trip. An advertisement. The steamer of the Allegheny Monarchs, which will sail on Tuesday evening, is of the very best merit; but if the exhibitor expects to be visited by people making any pretensions to decency, he will not only cause better order to be observed during the time of the exhibition; but he will also study to avoid using vulgar language, in the course of his descriptions. Attention to his own interests, is not a regard for the feelings and opinions of others, might prompt him to avoid the frequent blunders that those who are pleased to term "leaves" would make while we were present. We would further remark, that those who expect to make any thing by such exhibitions, would do well to require the observance of better order; for we have noticed in any recent exhibition. There are many persons who are indisposed to attend such places, if ill-bred boys are permitted to set all order at defiance.

Mr. Lutz, the gentleman from Iowa, who has a splendid history walking stick to present to Mr. Buchanan, paid us a visit last evening. We saw the famous cane. It is as straight and firm as "Old Hickory" himself in his palmy days, and as little likely to bend any difficulty it may be encountered. We are certain that he will be well pleased by the gentleman for whom it is intended.

We find the following in the Chronicle of last evening. We hope that the author of friend Vashon will be entirely punished. Mr. J. R. Vashon was robbed the other day at his headquarters, 501 N. 10th street. He was met in the hall by Mrs. Vashon, who had inquired for Mr. Vashon, and had a letter for her. She did not happen to be in, but he politely bowed himself out. Look out for nice young men, inquiring for boards.
