

Important National Statistics—Agriculture, Population and Manufactures

The "Report" of J. G. Kennedy, Sec. of the Department of the Census, is one of the most reliable documents of the day. It abounds with facts and figures on important subjects, derived from the most authentic sources. We present to notice some of the most interesting.

The population of the Union—Assuming the population of California to be 150,000, (which we do partly by estimate and calculation, but which is estimated at 12,000, the total number of inhabitants in the United States was, on the 1st of June, 1850, 23,246,301. The absolute increase from the 1st of June, 1840, has been 6,176,816, and the total increase per cent is 26.54. It has been shown that the probable amount of population acquired by additions of territory should be deducted from the population of the country, as a basis of comparison. These reductions diminish the total population to 22,974,201, and the increase to 6,005,848. The relative increase, after this deduction, is 26.17 per cent. The aggregate number of whites in 1850, was 17,015,566, exhibiting a gain upon the number of the same class in 1840 of 4,255,311, and a relative increase of 38.20 per cent. Not excluding the 125,000 free population of the Territory, the increase in the number of whites is 4,255,311, and the rate per cent is 38.20. The number of slaves, by the present census, is 5,230,735, which shows an increase of 1,000,000, or 20 per cent, over the number of slaves in 1840. The probable population of Texas in 1850, the result of the comparison will be 1,000,000. The absolute increase will be 100,000, and the rate per cent, 37.83.

The number of free colored in 1850, was 428,037, in 1840, 385,243. The increase in this class has been 42,794, or 10.98 per cent. The increase from 1830 to 1840, the increase of the white population was 3,800,000, and of the colored population 1,000,000. At the same rate of advancement, the absolute gain for the ten years last past, would have been 5,230,735, less than that which has been obtained, including the increase consequent upon additions of territory.

The area of the States—The thirty-six States together, their area is 1,485,870 square miles, and the average number of persons per square mile is 15.7. The total area of the United States is 3,220,000 square miles, and the average number of persons per square mile is 7.219 to the square mile. The statistics of mortality for the census year represent the number of deaths occurring within the year as 320,184, the ratio being as one to each 725 of the population. The rate of mortality in this statement is 1.47 per cent, which is less than that of any other country of Europe, that it must, at present, be received with some degree of allowance.

The Manufactures—The entire capital invested in the various manufactures in the United States, on the 1st of June, 1850, is not to include any establishments producing less than the annual value of $500—amounting to 2,200,000,000, number of persons employed, 1,050,000. The value of the products of the various manufactures, $1,812,273,000. Live stock, 562,705,238; hogs, 104,790,230; Indian corn, 691,000,000; wheat, 102,629,094; cotton, 62,425,797; gallons of wine, 141,200; pounds of butter, 212,202,285; pounds of beef, 103,184,255; tons of hay, 18,005,284; tons of sheep, 4,628,181; hams, 32,705,289; hhd. of sugar, 218,411; hhd. of molasses, 248,207,665.

The value of the Union—Capital invested, $1,812,273,000; value of raw materials, 234,830,000; value of manufactured articles, 1,577,443,000; value of the products of the various manufactures, $1,812,273,000. The value of the products of the various manufactures, $1,812,273,000. The value of the products of the various manufactures, $1,812,273,000.
