The Capture of the Gurriere by the Con.

The following account of the capture of the British frigate Gurriers by the American frigate Constitution, is communicated to us by a valued constitution, is communicated to us by symbol correspondent, who was a prisoner on board the Garriers during the combat. It is a paper which, deserves a place among the historical archives of the country. From the New York Evening Post.

Having been an American Prisoner on board the Gurriere, during the famous battle between that frigate and the United States frigate. Constitution, I propose giving you an account of that important action, which took place in June,

About 1w3 weeks previous to the engagement I left Boston in a ship, which was coptured b the Gurriero some five days before she fell i with the Constitution. It was about ten o'clock in the morning when the Constitution was discovered. The Gurrier, hove too to enable her to come up. As the Constitution neared us, Caprain Datres handed me his glass, and asked what I took her to be me nis ginss, and diske when afrighte." Very My reply was - "She looks like afrighte." Very soon she came within reach of the long guns of Aly reful was came within reach of the long guns of soon she came within reach of the long guns of the Garriere which were fired with no effect, as the sea run so high. The Constitution made no reply, but, as I saw was maincenvering for a po-sition, during which Captain Dacres said to me, "do you think she is going to strike without fir-ing?" I refuled, "I think not, set." At this moment, seeing a severo contest was about commending, in which I could not take a part, being only a prisoner, I raised my, bat to Gapt. Dacres, and said to him—"with your per-mission, sir, I will go below, as I can take no part." "O, certainly," said he, and you had bet-ter go into the cock-pit, and should any of our ter go into the cock-pit, and should any of our map chance to get wounded. I shall feel obliged if you will assist the surgeons in dressing them." "Certainly sir," said I, and then descended in-to the order of the surgeons and them descended into the cock pit. There were surgeons and sur-geons' mates, and attendants, sitting around a long table, covered with instruments, and all will be interesting to a numerous class of our saries for dressing the wounded, as still as a funeral. Within one moment after my foo left the lower round of the ladder, the Constitution gave that double broadside, which three all in the cock-pit over in a heap on the oppo-site side of the ship. For a moment it appeared as if heaven and earth, had struck together; a more terrife shock cannot be imagined. Before those in the cock-pit had adjusted themselves, the blood ran down from the deck as freely as if a wash tub full had been turned over; and instantly the dead, wounded, and-dying, were handed down as ropidly as men could pasthem, till the cock-pit was filed with hadjy room for the surgeons to work. Midshipmen were handed down with to work. Midshipmen were handed down with one set on a some with one arm, and others wounded in almost every shape and condition. An officer who was on the table having his arm imputated would sing out to one coming down wounded-. Well shipmate, how goes the battle ?? Another would niter some joke that would make even the duine smile and so constant and freely were the oneleg, some with one arm, and others woun that I almost doubted my own senses.

The Constitution looked perfectly fresh-and even at this time those on board the Gurriere did | neatly qualified to adorn.

not know what ship had fought them. On the other hand the Garriere was a mere rolling log.

PASSING AWAY.

With the return of every spring, the old landmarks of the "Borough of Pittsburgh," disappear in a gradual manner, and are forced to give place to the march of modern improvements. The humble log cabin, which in early days was merely to pass a day with my valued friend considered a kind of palace, has to give way to gorgeous private residences or stately warehouses. The latest attack we have seen, is the demolition of "Lccky Blacksmith Shop," in ever esteem the invitation from so many of Vir-Virgin Alley, below Wood street. The vandals ginia's most distinguished and estimable sons as
