OUR STATE CONVENTION. Our State Convention is over, and we have with much labor, placed its proceedings before our readers, and we have no doubt but all will ha antisfactory. The proceedings will show that greater unan mity of sentiment never prevailed in any Convention that has ever been held in our State, of government.

than the one that has just adjourned. BUCHANAN was the name that came in thunder tones from an overwhelming majority of the Democracy of the State, and, although a few, for a while, were disposed to struggle against the tide of popular sentiment, they, at last came down, and, like true Democrats, gave in their adhession to the will of the people. By a vote, almost unanimous, give the trifle-say four or five shares-allatted to him-but will avail himself of the privilege of JAMES BUCHANAN has been declared the candiaiding in the construction of this important date of the Democracy of Pennsylvania, and we are certain that his election to the Presidency is work.
