FEARFUL ADVENTURE WITH A There lived not many years ago, on the east ern shore of Mt. Desert, a large island off the coast of Maine, an old fisherman by the name of Jedediah Spinuct, who owned a schooner of some hundred tons burden, in which, together with four stout sons, was wont to go, about once a year to the Grand Banks for the purpose of caching codfish. The old man had five things, upon the peculiar merits of which he loved to boasthis schooler "Betsey Jenkins," and his four sons were all that their father represented them to be, and no one ever doubted his word when h said their like are not to be found for fifty mile around. The oldest was thirty-two, while the youngest had just completed his twenty-sixth Andrew, John and Samuel.

One morning a stranger called upon Jedediah to engage him to take to Havana some iron maplantations. The terms was soon agreed upon, and the old man and his sons immediately set about putting the machinery on board; that accomplished, they set sail for Havana, with a fair wind, and for several days proceeded on their ree without an adventure of any kind. One agreeable whitzing of an eighteen pound shot just under their stern.

Dyspepsia, or Indigestion, is that kind derangement of the stomach which interferes with the conversion of the food into chyle. the conversion of the food into chyle.

The Symptons of Dyspersia are: loss of appetite, nausea, heart-burn, fiatulency, acid, fæld or inodorous eructations, a gnawing sensation in the stomach when empty, great costiveness, childiness, palencas of the countenance, langour, lassitude, unwillingness to move about, lowness of spirits, palpitations of the heart, and disturbed sleep. These symptoms vary in different individuals and constitutions and in many cases bring on kidney disease, drops, liver complaint, and a debilinated condition of the whole body and a shattered state of the nervous system, that renders life burdensome.

Dr. Radeiffe's Alkalins Digitative Butters are peculiarly adapted to the deranged condition of the stomach above alluded to, and if taken perseveringly, will restore it to a healthy condition. These Bitters are made of some of the most valuable mate lais of the Mestria Medica, and are prepared in a peculiar manner, known only to of the most valuable mate-ints of the Materia Medica, and are prepared in a peculiar manner, known only to the proprietor. They do not contain any particle of alcohol, and are perfectly safe in their operation on the human system. The most inactive and deprayed condition of the stomach is other refleved by one bottle—all sources, wind, pair, and depression of spirits, are entirely removed. How can a man be in lealth when that great reservoir is diseased. Correct the morbid state of the stomach by taking these Bitters, and Dyspepsia, with all its grim hortors, will fly from you.

The Theory and the Practice.

The cures from this medicine have been, and will be

The cures from this medicine have been, and will be, just in proportion to the number of cases in which it is used. Its only mirroulous powers, are those which it possesses from and in common with nature, whose operations it can only assist and hasten. Its action is immediate, and, though calta, energette. It allays irritation, while it promotes recretion and excretion. It can never fail to palliate, and where a care is possible, it will cure. This was the theory of the medicine, as in vertical, and experience, in ampropulation.
