THURSDAY MORNING.....JUNE 8 WHIG COUNTY CONVENTION. The Court House rotunds was crowded at an early hour yesterday morning, by a miscellaneous collection of politicians, office seekers, delegates and spectators. The "chosen" of the Whig party were there; office seekers with their pleasant looks were also there, and they grasped the hands of the "masses" with the most fraternal affection; -here was a Senator-that would be-in earnest conversation with a coal heavera Congressman bearing his head proudly over the crowd, soliciting support in such a "vinning vay" that it required a strong exercise of common sense to withhold it.

The Convention met in the Supreme Court Room, and was called to order by a member, who moved the appointment of Josian King. Esq., of Allegbeny city, as President of the Convention. Another member sprang up and nominated Mr. Rowland, of Upper St. Clair, to preside over their deliberations: these moves were made by the heads of the two wings of the party, which was closely divided on the Sheriffality. Great confusion ensued, and the whole house was in disorder. At length Mr. King was chosen President of the Convention, and, taking the chair, he announced his willingness to retire, if any members should wish it, which, as none expressed it in a very audible manner, he held on to his post of honor.

The Vice Presidents next claimed the attention of the body, and the following persons were chosen:-E J Brooke, R Palmer, Benjamin Kelley, E. P. Jones, Francis Karns, and Aaron Brawdy.

For Secretaries, Messrs. Voltz, McKee, Eaki and Bruce, were nominated and elected. Mr. Davis, of Allegheny City, presented series of resolutions, one of which instructed the nominees of the Convention, for Assembly and Senate, to support the Maine Liquor Law, which prohibited the sale or storage of liquor, in the State; also, two other resolutions, reguting the manner of holding the delegate elections These resolutions were laid on the table until after the nominations should be made.

The credentials of the different delegates were then received, and the Convention was permanently organized.

A communication was presented from the Allegheny City Temperance Society, requesting that those only should receive the nomination of the Convention, for Senate and Assembly, who were firm friends of the Temperance cause, and would use their influence in support of the passage of a prohibitory Liquor Law, such as the Maine Law.

This communication gave rise to a debate;-it was moved to lay it on the table, to publish it Convention. as a part of the proceedings of the Convention, or to refer it to a committee. After considerlish it as part of the proceedings.

Mr. Davis, of Alleghany city, called up his resolution, instructing the nominees of the Con- meet hererafter in Allegheny City. vention, for Assembly and Senate, to use their influence to procure the passage of the prohibitary Liquor Law. This caused a great deal of favor of the Liquor Law. This question was put in a dozen different shapes, and at last the original resolution passed by a small majority. It was then moved that the Convention proceed to the nomination of Prothonotary and Sheriff, which was agreed to. Edward Campbell and John Caldwell, were nominated for Prothonotary, and Ephraim Jones, William Magill, David Irvin and Wm. Forsyth were nominated for the office of Sheriff. The Convention ballotted for Prothonotary, with the following result, on the first ballot: Campbell, 82; Caldwell, 28; and EDWARD CAMP-BELL, jr., of Pittsburg, was declared the choice of the Whig party for the office of Prothonc-

The balloting was then read, and the result was as follows: Jones, 52, Magill, 58. This announcement was received with feeble cheers by the friends of Magill, and most hearty groans and hisses by other persons present: A motion was made to make the nomination unanimous, to adjourn, to proceed with the balloting. The motion to nominate Magill by acclamation, was supported by a few feeble voices.

The Convention adjourned until 21 P. M.
