WEDNESDAY MORNING

Court of Quarter Sessions. TUETDAY, June 15.

Present-Judges M'Clure and M'Kenna. The case of the Commonwealth vs. Michael very sick at present, was charged with stealing against them. jewelry and various articles of clothing from Jane M'Lelland and Ebenezer Day. The jury found him guilty on two indictments which had been preferred against him. Commonwealth vs William Allen. Indictment. keeping a tippling house. The prisoner was found guilty, and Judge M'Clure sentenced him to pay a fine of $75, and he was committed' in default of payment. No other cases of any interest were taken up vesterday. the total receipts $27,844. Burglary .-- Some villain entered the boarding house of Mrs. Deary, near Isabella street, in Allegheny city, yesterday morning at two o'clock. The burglar took the trunks of the lodgers into the back yard, where be searched them, but was unsuccessful in finding anything of value, other than an accordien and a dollar and a quarter.-He went to the room and again renewed his search, but awakened one of the lodgers, who screamed for help. The robber struck her a blow, and made off, closely followed by the lady of the house, who chased him through the yard with a stick, but he leaped the fence, and was seen no more, leaving the accordien he had stolen in the house of Mrs. D , and also one he had charged with keeping a tippling house. plundered from some other house. The robber was disguised-his face being painted black. Ladies' Festival .- We neglected to mention. yesterday, that the ladies of Lawrenceville and vicinity will hold a Festival, in the United States Park, on Thursday the 17th, from 12 o'clock M. Diamond Alley. to S P. M. The proceeds of the fair are to be applied towards furnishing the new house of worship, building by the Presbyterian Church in the borough of Lawrenceville. The park has been generously given by the commandant of the garrison to the use of the ladies, and is a most beautiful and shady retreat, with buildings, in case the weather should prove disagreable .-Tickets entitling the holders to dine, may be had at the store of Messrs. J. D. Williams & Co., and the music stores of Messrs. Mellor and Kleber.

Theatre .-- Mr. Mulholland makes his first appearance at the Theatre this evening. He is an accomplished and versatile actor, playing all manner of characters, from the tottering and trembling old man to the gay and frolicksome young Irishman. He appears this evening i the charscter of Hardisack, in the beautiful drama of the "Old Guard," and as Lany O'Hooligan in the laughable commeditta of the "Pride of the Bog." The farce of the "Two Bonnycastles" will also be presented. Robbery .-- A woman named Mrs. O'Neal who resides on Bank Lane, near Anderson street, Allegheny City, in the fourth ward, was robbed of seventy-five cents, by some burglar who enadjourned.
