A HUMBUG WANTED.

The Whig organs are extremely hard run to bunt up charges against PIERCE and King, and, although they have started many, they have not yet found one that will suit, or can be made use ful. They have been trying the River and Harbor bill, but that don't work well-people won't ville papers have heard that a little steamhast ran upon a susg and damaged her wheel-house, and they forthwith assail Franklin Pierce as the cause of the disaster. They do not say that he put the snag there, with the malicious hope that the boat would run upon it, but they appear to think that, inasmuch as the snag was there, it was highly culpable in him not having removed

The people, however, do not appear to think that Gen. Pierce is responsible for the actions of the snags, or that it is any more compulsory on him to pluck them out of rivers than it is upon those who navigate the streams in which they are found. The Whig organs must hunt up some other charge against Gen. Pierce; they will cer-

This is a piece of folly on their part, and in attempting to practice it they only deceive themselves, but cannot mislead the people. No voter can be deceived by their pleadings for special and sectional privileges, and we would advise them to revive some other humbug which has not been so much used.

Would it not be well for them to give the Whig candidate is in favor of the navy and army forms required to obtain citizenship. We would advise them, by all means, to start another it in the same way. "Standing Army" excitement, and get General Scott to write a letter in favor of it. It cannot they may as well try the experiment suggested by Scott in his letter of acceptance.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD,

We would call the attention of our readers to

Watchman, What of the Night? From every section of our beloved country be joyous words greet our ears, "all is wellall is well." The Democracy are in glorious spirits, and are united, harmonious, and certain victory. There is not a murmur of disapprobation towards the nomination of Pience and King heard throughout our unbroken ranks. On the other hand, the Whig party is in a deserate condition. Many of the most influential members of Congress of that party have openly declared over their own signatures that they will never support Gen. Scorr, and Whig lectors and prominent Whig citizens, in all parts of the country, utterly repudiate the nomnation of Gen. Scorr. In the Democratic ranks all is harmony, good feeling, and a determination to drive the Galphins from the Capitol. In the Whig ranks there is nothing but had feeling, disanion, quarreling, and recrimination.

Such being the state of parties at present, i equires no prophetic vision to foretell the result in November. As sure as the sun gives ight, FRANKLIN PIEBCE will, if he lives, he the ext President of the United States. The folowing estimate made by our friends of the New York Evening Post is as fair a one as can be made for the Whigs, judging from the present ndications:

A MAGNIFICENT PICTURE.—We had the plea-sure yesterday of examining the Garden of Eden, painted and now being exhibited at Philo Hall. by Mr. R. T. Duncanson, the celebrated colored artist of Cincinnati. The subject is from the 3d and 4th books of Paradise Lost, and this noble conception of Mr. Duncanson, stamps him a genius of the highest order. We cannot enter into an elaborate description of the painting. Its grandeur of design—its beautiful carrying out-the richness of foliage, fitness of coloring, absolute faultlessness of expression in every detail, strike us with most pleasing astonishment; yet DAY, the 26th day of August, A. From the Louisville Journal ANGELS. This shadowy forms are hovering. In the sir around is appead.
And we feel their hallowed presence, in the daily paths we trood;
Their soft-eyes are kindly glistening.
Down in many a golden beam;
Theirs the bands that gently scatter Heavenly roses on our dream.

Richest rems of thought they bring us
From their fair and distant home,
Though they often make us sadder,
We are better when they come.
And they weave sweet spells of music
O'er our troubled hears to glide,
And upholding bears almost sinking
Bown in life's cold rapid tide.

They sustain, and cheer, and comfort,
When our spirits fall and shrink,
Save as from the dark abyses
When we tremble on the brink;
Softly they chide, when flery passions
Would our hasty bosoms sit,
Angels and deeply sorrow,
When our human spirits err.

Low they speak in southing whispers,
When in grisf we bend and moan,
And soft they bear us messages.
From the sainted loved one's gone.
They that still the fever burning in our sickened weary heart—
They unclasp the crystal fountain
Whence the cooling tear-drop starts

They that braid the costly pleasures,
That our deeper spirits know
And tune the crushed and braised heart-st
Thrilling with a secret woo,
Of our better thoughts they waken
All that's pure, and high, and true,
They that prompt the kindly impulse
Of the little good we do.

Oh, they bring us daily visions.

(If a world more pure and fair,
While their sweet low voices whisper
"God and love, and home are there."
They that keep a deathless vigil
At the portals of the soul—
They that it read the angry tempest,
When the waves of trouble rolf. Through the vale of gloomy ahadows
Safe our fainting souls they bear,
While their tunefal songs of Heaven
Soothe us in our passage there.
Oh how rich, how high how precious.
We must be in God's pure sight,
That He sends us guardian ungels
From His realms of fadeless light.
