GEN. SCOTT'S NATIVISM.

That Gen. Scorr is a Nativist of the most ultra character, no longer admits of a doubt. Indeed, the more sensible portion of the whig papers do not pretend to deny the facts. His celebrated letter written to George Washington Reed, Esq., and others, of Philadelphia, on the 10th of November, 1841, in which he declared himself to be in favor of a "total repeal of the naturalization laws," thus forever disfranchising all foreigners who seek an asylum upon our shores. has been placed on record against him. Recently, a communication has been brought to light, written by Gen. Scorr for the National Intelligencer, of Dec. 17, 1844, over the signature of "Americus," in which the Native doctrine in regard to citizenship, in the most odious form, was at seeing the "Loco advocated by the Whig nominee for the Presidency. That communication to the Intelligencer we have had on file for some days past, but thought it advisable to hold it over to see if any respectable whig editor would deny its authenticity.-Although the Washington Union has published the communication, the Intelligencer remains quiet as a church mouse on the subject, thus admitting that Gen. Scorr was the author. We shall in a day or two present to our readers Gen. Scorr's views at length in favor of the disfranchisement of foreigners, and hope they will be extensively circulated. The whig editors are parading a letter said to have been written by Gen. Scorr to one W. E. ROBINSON, which they claim contains a retraction of his obnoxious Native sentiments; but it does no such thing. Besides, this Robinson letter is a mere electioneering epistle, written after Gen. Scorr determined to be a candidate for the Presidency, to gull and deceive our Irish and German friends; whereas his letter to the Churchburners of Philadelphia, and his communication in the Intelligencer, were written coolly and deliberately, and contain his honest sentiment.

The difficulty among our Whig friends to find out where they shall go to celebrate Scott's early exploits in Canada, is increasing. Some say that Queenstown is the place, others are determined to walk through Lundy Lane, but the more romantic portion of them have fixed upon Ningara. There appears to be a good deal of feeling on the subject, but they may just as well agree to go all together, for it don't make much odds now where they go. The party is gond already, and the members of it have a rence had no idea of returning. Col. Craig, accompanied by a sergeant of the Third infantry, and by Sergeant Bales of the First Artillery, who was detailed by Col. Magruder with a party to act under the orders of Col. Craig, as an additional escort to the boundary commission from San Diego to Camp Yuma, met on the desert the two deserters, on the 6th of June, at about one third of the distance across from this side. They were on foot and armed with percussion muscless. The Colonel, taking with him the two sergeants, pursued them for The Albany Journal, is delighted with the

The comparison of our citizen soldiers to the Austrian conscripts, is not very complimentary, but the allusion to the likeness between Ger.
