

Daily Morning Post.

MONDAY MORNING, JULY 26, 1852.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES: GEN. FRANKLIN PIERCE, OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT: WILLIAM R. KING, OF ALABAMA.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER: COL. WILLIAM SEARIGHT, OF WYVETTE COUNTY.

DEMOCRATIC LEGISLATIVE TICKET: GEORGE W. WOODWARD, WILSON MCANDREWS, GEN. R. WATSON.

DEMOCRATIC COUNTY TICKET: JOHN SHANNON, PITTSMURGH.

REPRESENTATIVE ELECTORS: JOHN HARRISON, PITTSMURGH.

MEMBERS OF THE STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION: SAMUEL WELLS, GIBBEN, GEORGE E. GILMORE, LAWRENCE, JOHN S. STEWART, PLEASANTON.

COURT COMMISSIONERS: JACOB TOMBS, PITTSMURGH.

ASSOCIATE JUDGES: EDWARD WOOD, INDIANA TOWNSHIP.

RE-ASSASSINATION OF THE STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION: JOHN HARRISON, PITTSMURGH.

PROPOSITION: WE WILL SEND OUR DAILY OR WEEKLY POST TO EVERY RESPONSIBLE WHIG IN WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA.

THE LUNDY'S LANE WANDERER: 1614 numbers of our readers that the whigs can't stand the battle of Lundy's Lane.

THE LUNDY'S LANE WANDERER: 1614 numbers of our readers that the whigs can't stand the battle of Lundy's Lane.

THE LUNDY'S LANE WANDERER: 1614 numbers of our readers that the whigs can't stand the battle of Lundy's Lane.

THE LUNDY'S LANE WANDERER: 1614 numbers of our readers that the whigs can't stand the battle of Lundy's Lane.

GEN. SCOTT IN ALABAMA.

C. C. Langdon, Esq., the able editor of the Mobile Advertiser, and a delegate to the Whig National Convention, has written from the North several letters relating to the nomination of Scott, which have been published in his paper.

These letters, says the Mobile Register, have produced quite a sensation in our community, and are so significant in their developments that we deem it proper to place before our readers all the most striking portions of them bearing upon the nomination and the views of the Whigs.

Mr. Langdon is known to be a regular, systematic, and usually unobtrusive partisan— one who, by nature and long training, is quite certain to give to any party decision ready and implicit obedience. But his present position, as a delegate to the Whig National Convention, is calculated to produce surprise, and the prima facie conclusion, that there must be the most potent reasons for his conduct.

Referring to the course of the southern delegate, succeeding Scott's nomination, he says that "Albany, through one of her delegates, who professed to speak for her associates in the convention, (he had no authority to speak for her), as well as in behalf of the whigs of Alabama," he was pledged to a cordial support of Scott, and on account of which he had been with long-continued efforts.

Mr. Langdon closes his third letter— wherein he gives the history of the negotiations and understandings between the friends of Mr. Webster and President Fillmore— with the following comprehensive statement: "Such is the exciting history of an event, by which statesmanship of the highest order, patriotism and talents the purest and the most tried, have been called into play, and the most party-spirit and talents of eminent and admitted distinction, to the glitter of epigrams and the glare of wares."

The New York Herald, in an article on this subject, states that in 1848, when Gen. Taylor was the whig candidate, and Gen. Cass the democratic candidate, nearly the whole daily journalism of that city—embracing an aggregate of about one hundred and twenty newspapers— spent a day—was, more or less, in favor of Gen. Taylor's election. There was only one solitary journal of any importance, that supported the nomination of Gen. Cass, and that was the "Herald," which, in fact, was generally held in circulation of four, five or six thousand.

Now, however, in 1852, the tenets and tone of New York journalism are exactly the reverse of those which manifested in 1848— there are only two papers of any circulation, which are in favor of Gen. Scott, (the Tribune and Times, which are Seward organs) and one or two other rather oddly assorted in his nomination. The whole of the other portion of the press, of all parties, is opposed to his nomination, and working with more or less vigor for the success of Gen. Pierce, the democratic candidate.

The aggregate circulation of the daily journals of New York, is now nearly a hundred and forty thousand per day, and this number exceeds one hundred thousand sheets per day, or forty or fifty per cent. of Gen. Scott's election and triumph.

SUNDAY WORK. Mr. Stearns, according to the Knoxville, Tenn. Whig, in a late speech at that place, said that the Tennessee delegation to the Whig National Convention met in Caucus on Sunday morning, and sent a special messenger over to Washington to Gen. Scott, and he returned in the evening, bearing a pledge from the General entirely satisfactory and covering every possible ground.

Mr. Stearns, according to the Knoxville, Tenn. Whig, in a late speech at that place, said that the Tennessee delegation to the Whig National Convention met in Caucus on Sunday morning, and sent a special messenger over to Washington to Gen. Scott, and he returned in the evening, bearing a pledge from the General entirely satisfactory and covering every possible ground.

Mr. Stearns, according to the Knoxville, Tenn. Whig, in a late speech at that place, said that the Tennessee delegation to the Whig National Convention met in Caucus on Sunday morning, and sent a special messenger over to Washington to Gen. Scott, and he returned in the evening, bearing a pledge from the General entirely satisfactory and covering every possible ground.

Mr. Stearns, according to the Knoxville, Tenn. Whig, in a late speech at that place, said that the Tennessee delegation to the Whig National Convention met in Caucus on Sunday morning, and sent a special messenger over to Washington to Gen. Scott, and he returned in the evening, bearing a pledge from the General entirely satisfactory and covering every possible ground.

THE WHIG PRESS AGAINST SCOTT.

Five Whig papers of Alabama have already refused to support Gen. Scott. These are the Montgomery State Register, Chambers' Tribune, Auburn Gazette, Tallapoosa Reporter, and the East Alabama.

The New York Courier, which some papers said had come out for Scott, says: "Was there a more stupendous humbug than the pretense that General Scott was to be preferred to Daniel Webster, because he was more available?"

The Herald of the Union, edited by the Rev. Ed. Lester, counsel to Genoa, under Harrison, says: "The nomination of General Scott by the Whig Convention at Baltimore, was the most flagrant insult ever offered to the public opinion of a civilized nation. Throughout the United States, among all honest men, it is regarded as a sentiment of profound respect and veneration has been expressed. No intelligent man doubts that the Whig party will not only repudiate the original arrangement of which we were the originators, but will also repudiate the Whigs who, for the sake of a few dollars, have consented to the nomination of Scott."

In New York there is great activity in the book and no trade, and goods are selling high. This will give the Whig stock dealers, having bought their stock early will realize a large profit by the advance. Southern merchants have made their appearance there, and are being brightly. This trade never was so active in New York.

The old States of Kentucky are no longer in force. The New Constitution took effect on Thursday morning last, and the laws which have been enacted under it, took effect from that date.

Mr. Francis, the progressive member of Western New York, defines an American to be "a man who takes tobacco juice for three-quarters of his life, and who has a high opinion of his own brains, and for this reason, that people who aim a horse pistol at their heads, have no brains to blow out."

At a period of the year when water prices are through, bathing is much resorted to in the local public houses, who they indulge freely and often in company, wearing, necessarily, bathing dresses. To a good swimmer, even a shallow river in texture, is a serious impediment to free action; while to the ordinary swimmer, it is a hindrance to his pleasure. Such, like is very seldom enjoyed.

Firstly: Beware of bathing in the heat of the day, and do not bathe in shallow water. Secondly: Beware of plunging into water, and do not bathe in shallow water. Thirdly: Beware of bathing in the heat of the day, and do not bathe in shallow water.

THE PHILADELPHIA ARE ON FIRE. On the 25th inst. the following articles were destroyed: The City, Times and Herald; the Tribune, the Whig, and the Standard.

Some of the high sounding terms with which the conductors of the Federal press daily head their articles. We propose to send them, by public subscription, to the great work before them.

The Savannah Republic, (Union) Whig, says that the information received from various parts of the State, in relation to the election of Gen. Scott, is very satisfactory.

Some of the high sounding terms with which the conductors of the Federal press daily head their articles. We propose to send them, by public subscription, to the great work before them.

NEWS ITEMS.

The State Treasury of Louisiana is empty and the members of the State Convention propose to negotiate a loan of $100,000 to defray its own expenses.

State elections took place in August, this year, only in North Carolina, Massachusetts, and Alabama. In several other States which usually voted in August, the elections have been postponed by law.

If the fact that Scott did not fight a duel makes many friends for him, Mr. Clay's grand enemy by fighting one, the General is pretty sure of election.—W. V. Times.

The fact is that General Scott did fight two duels and challenged Duffell Clinton to fight an active in the American party.

It is said to be Mr. Graham's intention to remain in his place for some time yet, probably till after the calling of the Whig Convention, and the original arrangement of which we were the originators, but will also repudiate the Whigs who, for the sake of a few dollars, have consented to the nomination of Scott.

In New York there is great activity in the book and no trade, and goods are selling high. This will give the Whig stock dealers, having bought their stock early will realize a large profit by the advance.

The old States of Kentucky are no longer in force. The New Constitution took effect on Thursday morning last, and the laws which have been enacted under it, took effect from that date.

Mr. Francis, the progressive member of Western New York, defines an American to be "a man who takes tobacco juice for three-quarters of his life, and who has a high opinion of his own brains, and for this reason, that people who aim a horse pistol at their heads, have no brains to blow out."

At a period of the year when water prices are through, bathing is much resorted to in the local public houses, who they indulge freely and often in company, wearing, necessarily, bathing dresses.

Firstly: Beware of bathing in the heat of the day, and do not bathe in shallow water. Secondly: Beware of plunging into water, and do not bathe in shallow water. Thirdly: Beware of bathing in the heat of the day, and do not bathe in shallow water.

THE PHILADELPHIA ARE ON FIRE. On the 25th inst. the following articles were destroyed: The City, Times and Herald; the Tribune, the Whig, and the Standard.

Some of the high sounding terms with which the conductors of the Federal press daily head their articles. We propose to send them, by public subscription, to the great work before them.

FROM THE N. Y. BRASSING POST.

A SINGLE QUESTION. General Scott will appear at the Convention, and will not be allowed to utter any words which will excite the whole country.

Who was he? "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

When he was in his private parlour— "I was fired with indignation" and who was "him" while in that condition. If we only knew the names of those two fortunate individuals, we feel that our curiosity upon the subject would be gratified.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

BLAND TINS—For the best quality of tin ware, call on the proprietors at No. 107 West Third Street.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMERICAN LIVERY CO.—We have a large stock of carriages and harnesses, and are prepared to receive orders for any quantity of the same.

AMUSEMENTS.

AT WILKINS HALL! THE SYLVANIANS will commence their charming and amusing theatricals on Monday evening next at Wilkins Hall.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.

JOHN SON & CO'S Great Musical and Harmonic Establishment. Under the direction of the ESTIMABLE CHIEF, with a double string of performers, and a full orchestra.