A friend of Mr. Magill asks us to inform him why neither of the three whig organs of the city have made any effort to relieve Mr. Magill from the scrip difficulty. We cannot answer our enquiring friend, but we suppose the cause of their silence is because Mr. Magill has not inthe best of his knowledge and belief,") and that PIERCE and KINO. they expect Barker will be elected, and they are all smelling after his printing. If Mr. Magill, the Journal or Gazette will make an honest statement about the disappearance of the scrip, we will publish it. But it must be full and explicit. The people will not be satisfied with mere gen eral denials, they want fac s and figures, and desire to know the actual amount of which they have been plundered through the negligence (or something worse) of the Commissioners. They wish to make arrangements to have it paid, and Journal, instead of correcting his deliberate as Mr. Magill, the Journal and Gazette, profess falsehoods, will fabricate some new lie. to humto know all about it, the voters are very anxiou that a full statement should appear immediately. It is said that a report will be forthcoming after the election. We can inform the parties interested that this course will not do: The report must come out before the election, and it must be a full and satisfactory one. The people know they have been robbed, and that they must abide the consequence. They will pay the but few more than that number of voters. It amount of which they have been defrauded, but publishes the following extract of a letter from they want to know who have plundered them, an intelligent and highly respectable gentleman and the amount of the bill they have to foot _ at Harrisburg, on the subject : They think that the editors of the whig organs, with the aid of Mr. Magill, are able to make out a full and clear statement of the whole affair.—

As we have said before, it will not do to postpone this matter until after the election. The whig organs and Mr. Magill must come up to the work at once. The people cannot be fooled by a galleman just from there, that there was no such median promises; and if the explanations do not in the form there, that there was no such median and the magill must come up to the work at once. The people cannot be fooled by a galleman just from there, that there was no such median and the magill must come the south median, and that there are no changes in favor of south median, and that there are no changes in favor of south median, and that there are no changes in favor of south median, and that there are no changes in favor of south median, and that there are no changes in favor of south medians are conscioused? Does the do not come now, wee to the whig candidate for Sheriff

This question is a troublesome one to our whig cotemporaries. They are all alarmed about the fate of their condidate, and if Barker would only show them a chance, they would drop Magill and swear fealty to him without a "why or wherefore." This is whiggery all through.-The Journal made one splurge at Barker, and then quit; the editor of the Gazette wrote an article or two and then started to the Lakes to cool off and get his courage up. He came home again, but when he arrived he found prospects so gloomy that he started right off to Indiana,

The tell-lie-graphic reporters are making this country equal to 40 per cent." It is theredesperate efforts to manufacture some whig news fore to be hoped that hereafter we will not hear from Maine. But it is no go. Notwithstanding from the federal press any more dismal stories the local divisions, growing out of the liquor about "ruin." law, it appears evident that the Democracy have sohieved a glorious triumph in the State of Democrat says the Cleveland, Painesville and Maine. McDonald, the Democratic candidate Ashtabula Railroad is completed and in running Maine. AlcDonald, the Belleval candidate, Crossorder to Conneaut. There are about 30 miles by, by thousands. The result in Maine only staging between Conneaut and Eric. With that the opposite ground is taken. This is whiggism makes Gen: Scorr's chances more dark, cheer- exception the traveler can go from Cleveland to

WHIG TRICKERY AND FALSEHOOD. Just hefore every Presidential election th Whigs make it a rule to resort to the most glaring trickery, fraud, imposture and falsehood, in order that they may inspire a little mock enthusinsm into the ranks of their party. They are sure to publish some wonderful stories about the changes which they allege are taking place from the Democratic to the Whig party. The scenes. of these "changes" are generally located at some remote or unknown place, and Ricuand Ros and "lifty other Democrats," (names not given of course,) are made to figure on paper is converts to whiggery! These stories are so ridiculous, that any man of common sense will ee that they have humbug and falsebood written on their very face. It is seldom, therefore, that the Democrats put themselves to the trouble of refuting the Munchausenisms of Whiggery. Here in Pittsburgh, it has been the annual astom of the whig leaders to get up some marrelous yarns about the changes in Clarien, Venango and Armstrong counties, especially amongst the iron men, who have been "ruined" by the "Locofoco-Free-Trade-British-Tariff-of-1846."_ Judge Myens, his son, and "one hundred other Democrats," figure every year as converts to whiggery; but it so happens that the counties alluded to roll up an increased Democratic me jority at every succeeding election. We respect fully submit that the whigs have used poor Judge Myans as a foot-ball about long enough. We observe that the whigs in the State of New York have commenced playing the Clarion county game, to bolster up their sinking and hopeless cause. The Albany Journal, an old federal antimasonic paper, lately published the following

The Igon Men in Earnest.—When the working in Frais Moyers' Furnaces, Schenectady, had received their dolls and dinies Saturday, afternoon, they run up an ash pole front of the shop, and threw out a Scott and Graham fis to indicate their political receivers. to indicate their political preference. These workers in the very indicate supporting a party which is pleaged to Bissin interests. They go for Protection to home Labor and Tribute to Foreign Workshops. Now mark how the workmen in the employ of Francis Myers nail this whig lie:

We, the undersigned, Mechanics and Laboring Men of the city of Schenectady, and several of us adopted citizens, in he employ of Francis Meyers, one of the most enterpris mechanics in the city, and who carries on an extensive four dry and Machine shop, declare, that the above article, taken from the Ecening Journal under date of the 7th inst., is false in every respect. That there was a poleraised, bearing the January pumant of Pierce and King with a beautif "Rooster" perched upon the tip end of the pole as a faithful watchman, and in November next to "crow' and procint formed them how the scrip disappeared ("to to a now happy and free people the triumphant election of

Could there be a more complete exposure wholesale lying than this? But the Albany og his renders. The Philadelphia Pennsylvanian, in allusion to a story published in the Harrieburg Telegraph, about the conversion of 120 Democrats to Scottism at a pole raising in the township of Hellam, York county, says it is a miserable fabrication. There was no pole raising, and there was not that number of Democrats in the township, and

Have the whigs any consciences? Does the blush of shame over mantle their checks? Oh, what an awful judgment awaits them for their manifold political lies! A LITTLE COMMON SENSE.

The Gazette has a correspondent at Washington City, who writes over the signature of · Junius," who sometimes un wittingly publishes truths and gives atterance to reflections, which are calculated to operate against the Whig party. Take, for example, the following, which we extract from his letter dated Sept. 11th, and puberal State of Vermont, the Scott pyramid may so gloomy that he started right off to Indiana, where he expects to catch the "shakes," which will keep him shivering until after the election. We admire the cunning of our cotemporary, but cannot help pitying the case of his colleague of the Journal, and that of Mr. Magill, during his absence. While he is luxuristing in all the enjoyments of fever and ague in Indiana, the Journal and Mr. Magill have to stand the brunt of Barker's assaults upon the while party, and cannot explain until he comes home.

During his absence, Barker is pitching into Mr. Magill in a most terrible manner. He makes all kinds of charges, and he promises to prove all he makes. The associate of the Garatte has nothing to say in favor of Mr. Magill, which were enaminatured and laid edgely contradicted, and the whig candidate for Sheriff is placed before the people in a most equivocal character, and not one of the organs of his party will utter a word in his defence.
