We publish below the eloquent letter address ed by Col. John W. Ponney, clerk of the House Democratio Mass Meeting at Greensburgh. Let it be read by every Democrat. Washington, October 2, 1852. GENTLEMEN: — I regret that my duties here are so pressing as to deprive me of the great pleasure of being with you on the 7th of October. I thank you kindly for your invitation. If ever Pennsylvania was called upon to strike bold and opportune blow-for the country, it is at the present time. She may decide the Presidential Election by giving one of her old Democratic majorities on the 12th of October. All sections of the Union will wait with eager inxiety the result of that election; and the heart and hopes of the great Democratic party wi ise or fall, as you decide for or against you candidates.
