It has been a matter of supprise to some, that any one of respectability and of professional attainments should devote it in attention to diseases which people of every description pretend to cure so early. If, however, but, the one-tiou sandth part of the miseries these people bring upon society were known, a very different opinion would be formed. It is not only the present misery and dejection preying upon the mind as well as the body, that is deplored, but some and of such a nature as to affect posterity, and even to destroy the reproductive faculty altogether. It is a fact that, when not properly treated, they may remain so dormant in the continuous as on appear in no other way than in their effects upon proterity; yet, if properly understood, are most constitution as to appear in no other way than in their ef-fects upon posterity; yet, if properly understood, are most easily and specially removed.
