PITTSBURGH:

TUESDAY MORNING:.....DECEMBER 28.

☞ No North, no South, no East, no West, under the Constitution; but a sacred Union of the Common Soul, and true devotion to the Common Brotherhood.—FRANKLIN PIERCE.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION.

FOR MAYOR.

JOHN B. GUTHRIE.

☞ Messrs. S. M. PETTENGILL & Co., who are prompt, honest and gentlemanly in their business transactions, are the only authorized agents in the cities of New York and Boston for the Morning Post. They are authorized to receive Advertisements and Subscriptions—for us—at our usual rates. Their receipts are regarded as payments. Their offices are at NEW YORK, 122 Nassau street. BOSTON, 10 State street.

☞ FINE JOB PRINTING.—Having recently made large additions of New and Beautiful Type to our Newand Job Office, we are prepared to do PRINTING OF ALL KINDS, in the neatest style, and upon the most liberal terms. Every size and variety of Type, from fifty lines Pica down to Diamond, will now be found in our extensive Job Office. Give us a call.

CORRECTION.—In our paper of Saturday morning, a number of verbal errors occurred in an article on the Mayoralty. In noticing an article in the Dispatch, we are made to say:

"It is addressed to one of the editors, and in that address we think we see a principle of 'despotism.'"

The word "despotism" was written nepotism.

Again, we are made to say, in regard to Mr. Riddle:

"It is foolish for him to suppose that the people, who have to vote for Mayor, will not investigate his claims, competency and qualification, beyond the doubtful nomination of such a convention from which he claims his potent for the office."

The word "potent" should have been printed patent and was so intended.

THE MAYORALTY.

On Saturday we copied the following ominous paragraph from the American:

"THE MAYORALTY.—We learn that a large number of whigs of the city, indignant at having thrust upon the party by unfairness and fraud, a renegade from all parties, are preparing to call out a candidate of their own—one whose life is a guarantee of his attachment to the party and its principles, and for whom they can conscientiously cast their votes, as for an honest man and a whig."

This paragraph is directed at the whig candidate for Mayor, and intended to enure to the benefit of a worthy whig, who should have had the nomination. This whig we believe to be Mr. SAWYER. He was, most certainly, the favorite of the party. He had a majority in the Fifth ward and in the Eighth ward, but, by a peculiar system, only known to the whig nominee, he has been cheated out of the nomination.

That there were frauds practiced in the nomination of Mr. Riddle, we have not a doubt, and we are confident that the friends of Mr. Sawyer can prove this fact. So fully are they convinced of it that they are not disposed to let it pass unrebuked, and that they intend to call upon their favorite to be a candidate once more for the Mayoralty. They say that these frauds have been tolerated too long, and that under their influence the whig party is growing small and beautifully less. They think that the only way to redeem it is to administer a severe rebuke to the man who obtained his nomination by unfair means, and to abide by the man who has always been a true whig. Whether the "true whig" or the cunning "bolting whig," is most popular with the party, we are unable to say, but we think that the former has the advantage. If he has not, he should have it. The only fault we have to him is his strong whig principles, but beyond this we have no objections to B. C. SAWYER. We have known him from early boyhood, and we would have to forget our esteem for honest men when we would say a word against him as a fellow-citizen.

☞ Mr. Riddle is a trading politician, and has always displayed the talent to shape his course according to the wavering of the political weathercock of his party. In getting the nomination over Mr. Sawyer, he has evinced his usual cunning, and if elected he can of course illustrate in his own case, that fraud is more successful in whig politics than plain honesty.

OLE BULL'S CONCERT.

The Concert given by OLE BULL at Lafayette Hall, on Saturday evening, was attended by a crowded and highly delighted audience. All who were present concur in the opinion that it was altogether one of the best entertainments ever given in this city. To attempt to speak in praise of the performances of OLE BULL, would be like gilding refined gold. He is perfect master of the violin, and under his hand it speaks most eloquent music. The words seem to dance upon the strings! The audience testified to the excellence of the performance at the close of each piece in such a manner as must have been highly gratifying to the feelings of the distinguished violinist.

The singing of Signorina PATTI, was truly wonderful and charming. This extraordinary child astonished every one by the accuracy of her execution and the perfect volume and melody of her voice. If she continues to improve, in a few years she will rival JENNY LIND.

The performances of MAURICE STRAKOSCH on the piano were very superior, and drew forth rapturous applause. His imitations of the Banjo were admirable.

PHILADELPHIA ART UNION.

It will be a matter of interest to the subscribers to the Philadelphia Art Union to know that the distribution of prizes will take place on Friday next, the 31st inst. The Ledger states that it will embrace about sixty pictures, from the pencils of well-known and accomplished artists. The principal picture is Patrick Henry delivering his speech on the Stamp Act, painted for the Art Union at a cost of $1,000. The others are principally works which have been presented by the artists, nearly all of whom voluntarily came forth to sustain the managers in their efforts to preserve this School of Art in our city. The Art Union of Philadelphia is the only one left in this country. It is based on a plan entirely unobjectionable, being similar to that of the London and Scottish Unions, and deserves to receive the hearty support of every lover of the fine arts.—The engravings which the Union have distributed are of themselves worth more than the cost of subscription. Every subscriber gets one of these each year, independent of the certificate which he may receive by lot, and which will entitle him to any painting he may choose, equal to its value.

FINE LIKENESS OF GEN. PIERCE.

Mr. J. P. BALDWIN, No. 28 Chambers street, New York, has recently issued a splendid likeness of Gen. FRANKLIN PIERCE, President Elect of the United States. It is taken from a Daguerreotype, and engraved in the best style of art by A. H. RITCHIE, Esq. Those who have seen Gen. PIERCE, pronounce the likeness admirable. JOHN VAN BUREN says: "I cheerfully say that Mr. Baldwin's print is a remarkably faithful representation of Gen. PIERCE, and is a very clever work of art." Many other gentlemen of distinction who are personally acquainted with the President Elect, give similar certificates.

Mr. F. E. WILLIS, Ohio street, Allegheny City, near the Diamond, is agent for the sale of the above engraving. He will wait upon our citizens for the purpose of procuring subscribers.

HOW TO ACT.—A letter, from a pretty good source at Washington, jots down the following admonitions:

"In conclusion, a word to office seekers.—Please, gentlemen, be as modest and retiring as you can well afford to be, for Gen. Pierce has a decided distaste for all pushing and scramble. Remember, himself has patiently waited, and he was sought after. The first shall be last, and the last shall be the first. Also, that Gen. Pierce comes from a State where children are born with a slate in their hands, and, that consequently, he is to calculate your exact value, and tret."

American Association for the Advancement of Education.

We have received from some unknown friend the proceedings of the second session of the American Association for the Advancement of Education, held at Newark, New Jersey, August 10th, 11th, 12th and 13th, A. D. 1852. The Rt. Rev. ALONZO POTTER, of Pa., who presided, delivered a beautiful address after the organization.

On motion of Judge DUER, of N. J., a resolution was adopted, calling upon Congress to appropriate the future instalments of the surplus revenue for the benefit of the Common Schools of the several States.

R. C. COOKE, of N. J., from the committee appointed at the last meeting of the Association, read an able report on "the Defects, the Difficulties and Necessities of Female Education." The report was discussed by Bishop POTTER and Geo. B. EMERSON, of Mass.; JOHN KINGSBURY, of R. I.; WM. SMITH, of N. Y.; R. C. COOKE, of N. J.; Rev. Dr. B. SEARS, of Mass.; Dr. A. D. LORD, of N. Y.; C. PLOTTS, of Pa., and several others.

The discussion was continued during the second day's proceedings, when Mr. E. B. HUNTINGTON, of Conn., offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed, to report to the Association next year, on the capabilities and practical extent of existing modes of Female Education.

The following gentlemen were appointed on said committee, viz: E. B. Huntington, Conn.; Geo. B. Emerson, Boston, and Dr. Asa D. Lord, Columbus, Ohio.

A committee was appointed to prepare a report of the present state of Education, both elementary and collegiate, throughout the world, to be read at the next meeting. Another committee was appointed to report on the systems of Education which were prevalent during the Middle Ages, and the periods which preceded and immediately followed. Hon. T. H. BURROWS, of this State, was placed on the first committee, and Prof. C. D. Cleveland on the second.

P. P. MORRIS, Esq., of Pa., read an interesting Report on "Schools of Design for Women," accompanied by a Resolution, declaring that schools of this description are important instruments in opening up proper fields for the exercise of female industry and talents, and as laying the foundation of intelligent independence, in the industrial pursuits of the country.

Prof. W. J. WHITAKER, Principal of the Boston School of Design for Women, read a paper on Drawing, as a means of Education, which was discussed by several gentlemen.

On the third day, the Association was addressed by the Rev. D. WASHBURN, of Penna., on "the progress of Civilization as illustrated by History."

The following gentlemen having been recommended by the Standing Committee, were unanimously chosen officers of the Association for the ensuing year, viz:

President—Prof. JOSEPH HENRY, Washington City, D. C.

Recording Secretary—ROBERT L. COOKE, Bloomfield, N. J.

Treasurer—JOHN WHITEHEAD, Newark, N. J.

Standing Committee—Dr. Asa D. Lord, Columbus, O.; Prof. Wm. M. Gillespie, Schenectady, N. Y.; E. C. Biddle, Philadelphia; Wm. D. Swan, Boston; Wm. Travis, New Castle, Pa.; Prof. Caleb Mills, Crawfordsville, Ia.

On the recommendation of the Standing Committee, the City of Pittsburgh, Pa., was selected as the next place of meeting, and the time fixed is the second Tuesday of August, 1853, at 11 o'clock, A. M.

On motion of R. L. COOKE, the President appointed the following Local Committee for this city:

Hon. Wm. F. Johnston, Rev. Wm. D. Howard, " Charles Shaler, " Wm. H. Paddock, D. H. Riddle, D. D., F. R. Brunot, A. W. Black, D. D., D. N. White, Homer J. Clark, D. D., L. Harper, H. D. Sellers, M. D., Prof. James Thompson.

After the transaction of some other important business, the Association adjourned.

Iowa Finances.

Gov. Hempstead, of IOWA, in his late annual message, represents the financial condition of the State in a very favorable light. The receipts of the Treasury for the past year were $189,683 08. The disbursements for the same period are $180,631 49, leaving a balance in the Treasury of $8,051 59.

STATE DEBT.—The funded debt of the State amounts to $81,795 75, of which amount, $26,795 75 are payable at the option of the State. The estimated resources for two years to come, amount to $439,119 47, while the expenditures for the same period are estimated at $103,918

THE NEXT PENNSYLVANIA STATE FAIR.—The competition for premiums for field crops is invited by the officers of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Society till the 15th of January next. The following are the premiums:

For the best five acres of corn $15; best acre of corn $8; ten acres of wheat $15; best acre of wheat $8; best acre of Irish potatoes $10; best half acre do. $6; best five acres of rye $10; best five acres of oats $8; best five acres of barley $8; best five acres of timothy $8; best five acres of clover $8; best quarter acre of carrots $8; best quarter acre of ruta baga $8; best quarter acre of sugar beets $8; best quarter acre mangel wurtzel $6 best acre turnips $8.

☞ The South Carolina Legislature have passed a bill pledging the credit of the State for the bonds of the Blue Ridge Railroad Company to the extent of a million and a quarter of dollars. According to the Charleston Mercury, this road will connect Charleston by the shortest route, with the valley of the Tennessee river and at that point will bring the city into direct communication with every important line of railway, completed or projected, between the Ohio river and the Gulf of Mexico.

SAD CATASTROPHE.—We learn from the Newburyport Herald, that the house of Mr. John Smith, about two miles from that city, was destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon, and that his daughter, aged 28 years, who was blind, was so badly burned that she lived but a few moments. A child three years old, which was boarded in the family, was also badly burned. It is not known how the fire originated.

NEW MANUFACTURING ENTERPRISE.—A company of gentlemen of Berks county, Pa., have purchased property at Leesport, nine miles above Reading, and intend to commence the manufacture of anthracite iron, with a capital of $500,000. They expect to have the furnace ready to "blow in" by the first of May next.

☞ There were shipped from the town of Logansport, Ind., during the present year, 400,000 bushels of wheat, which paid the warehousemen $8,000, the shippers $56,000, and to the State for tolls, $12,000.

For the Board of Public Works—G. W. Manypenny, of Muskingum; and Andrew H. Byers, of Wayne.

Washington City Items.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 24, 1852.

Mr. King continues to improve.

The statement that Senator Hunter has gone to have an interview with Gen. Pierce, is fully confirmed.

It is rumored that a large number of clerks are to be removed from the Census Bureau on the first of January.

In the Supreme Court to-day the telegraph case has been continued. R. H. Gillet commenced his argument on behalf of O'Reilley this morning, and had not concluded at the hour of adjournment.

The Intelligencer republishes the Clay monument appeal this morning, with Mr. Cass' name at the head of the list.

Information has been received at the Department of State, of frauds being committed upon persons going abroad by parties claiming the right to issue passports.

Major James M. Baker took the oath of office as Commissioner of Customs to-day. He enters on his duties on Monday.

Daniel T. Woodward brutally murdered his wife to-day, by shooting her through the head.

Miss Clements was accidentally shot by Lewis Frank, while walking along the street.

Washington and Jackson.

Mr. Bancroft relates the following anecdote of Washington:

"Once, while in New Jersey, coming out to mount his horse, he found a child beside it, attracted by the trappings. He placed the child upon the horse's back, and led it round the yard, pleased with its youthful joyance. It was to Washington's honor that, although heaven did not bless him with offspring, he had a heart to love children, and take them to his bosom."

The historian Hildreth relates an anecdote of Gen. Jackson, which exhibits a similar vein of tenderness in the character of a man whom we have been accustomed to regard as stern and unfeeling. Many like stories are told of Napoleon. The battle-field presents, always, scenes which appeal to the tenderest sympathies of our nature.

After the battle of the Great Horse Shoe, in which nearly a thousand Indians were killed, and two hundred and fifty prisoners were taken, all women and children, the men having been exterminated, the following incident occurred:

"The gallant General, who presided over this bloody scene, which seems to carry us back to the early Indian wars of New England, had still a tender spot in his heart. Moved by the wail of an Indian infant, picked up from the field, whose mother had perished during the battle, Jackson strove to induce some nursing women among the prisoners to suckle it. 'Its mother is dead,' was the cold answer, 'let the child die, too.' The General, himself a childless man, then turned nurse himself. Some brown sugar formed a part of his private stores, and with this he caused the child to be fed. He even took it home with him, and reared it up in his own family. The Indian orphan thus cared for, grew a bright and thriving boy, and when he came of age, having chosen and learned a trade, he was comfortably established as a saddler, at Nashville."

Confessions of the Murderers of Gardner and Miller.

Messrs. Gardner and Smith, of this city, received a letter yesterday from John Gardner, who has been engaged for several weeks in ferreting out the murderers of Messrs. Gardner and Miller. The letter was written at Moore's Hill, Ind., and states, that Robert Kelley had been arrested on the charge of participating in the murder. Shortly after his arrest he made a full confession of the crime of which he and his brothers stand charged.

From Kelley's statement it appears that the boat laid up the afternoon previous to the murder, and two of the hands, "George" and "Kentuck," went ashore to hunt, and not returning in the evening, they shoved off, and left them.—While Alexander Gardner and James Miller were asleep in bed, and Mr. Holt was asleep before the stove, and Robert Kelley asleep below, Moses Kelley came down and awakened him, and they two murdered the other three. He don't know how much money was got by the transaction. Moses gave him three dollars to pay his way home. The Kelley's and others had agreed to rob boats on the river this winter; but before they got shipped, the wife of one of the party was taken sick, and he was compelled to leave, which frustrated their plans for a time. The above was the first opportunity they had of robbing a boat, and they embraced it. A portion of the property stolen has been recovered.

THE LOSS OF THE WESTERN WORLD.—We learn from Captain Montgomery, of the Reindeer, that he met the hull of the Western World, the boat that was sunk below Memphis by coming into collision with the H. R. W. Hill, in Milligan's Bend, turned bottom upwards. The cabin had floated off from the hull, and it was met a few miles below. Passengers that got on the Reindeer at Memphis report the loss of 80 lives by the disaster, but the mate of the boat asserted that but 14 were lost, all deck passengers. The boat and cargo was a total loss; the river for miles and miles was full of the cargo, and the people all along shore were reaping a harvest in floating it out of the river. The Reindeer had on board a man who was on the boat and lost three children. He resides at Paducah.

We are informed that the collision was caused by the pilots misunderstanding the signals of each other. The loss of life was occasioned by the fear of passengers on deck, who would not go to the bow of the boat to get on the other boat, because she rocked about too much, and they remained on the deck and were drowned.—Louisville Courier.

MURDERS AND AFFRAYS IN MISSISSIPPI.—The DeKalb (Miss.) Gazette, of the 11th inst., contains a sad chronicle of crime in that vicinity. The first is an affray between two brothers-in-law, named Wright and Turner, during which one was dreadfully wounded. The next is the murder of Samuel Aiken, by a youth named John Edwards, aged 18 years; and the third is the assassination of Col. James H. Sims, by John J. Edwards, who, it is alleged was at the time engaged in carrying his nephew, charged with killing Aiken, beyond the reach of the officers of the law.

THREE CHILDREN DEAD.—A promising son, aged four years, of Joseph White, of Medley's District, Montgomery county, Md., on Friday last set out, in company with two colored children of about the same age, to visit a near neighbor's house, and missing their way, became bewildered, and were finally lost in the darkness of night. They were not found until Sunday morning, and when discovered, were five miles from home, lying within a few feet of each other, dead.

During the four weeks ending the 27th ult., 158 deaths from cholera, and 165 from yellow fever, occurred at New Orleans.

COMMERCIAL SUMMARY.

PHILADELPHIA, December 23.

CATTLE.—The offerings at Washington Drove Yard during the week comprised 1400 head of beef cattle, 350 cows and calves, 1000 hogs and 2000 sheep and lambs. Prices—The demand for beef cattle is limited, but prices have undergone no change. Sales were made at $5 to 5.50 ₩ 100 lbs. Good hogs the sales were in larger than those of the preceding week, but prices of live hogs are unchanged. Killed hogs are selling more freely. Sales at $7.50@7.75. Prices of sheep and lambs range from $1.50 to $4.50.

WOOL.—The demand has been very active this week and the sales large at a further improvement in price, some 400,000 lbs domestic having changed hands, mostly fine fleece, within the range of $34@35, on the usual terms.—Among the sales we notice 100,000 lbs fine at 50@55c; 80,000 lbs ½ and ½ blood at 50, and 60,000 lbs unwashed at 34@35 cash prices.

FISH.—The market is firm, but there is very little doing in the way of sales; mackerel are moving off in small lots from store at $2 25 ₩ box for No. 3, $12,00@13 for No. 2, $13 and $10 for 2's, and $8 25 and $8 ₩ bbl for 3's, of large and small size. Herring are 100@c per box for gibbed; and Dry Cod $3 75 to the trade.

FLOUR.—Prices are firm, but there is not much doing, sales being confined to small lots from store at $2 85 ₩ box for Mackerel Branch Shakers, and smaller parcels at prices in proportion. 2000 drums Figs have been sold at 8½@11c ₩ lb. Dried Apples and Peaches continue scarce and in demand, further sales of the former have been made at 4c, and of the latter, pared, at 12½c ₩ lb; unpared are selling at 6@7c; quarters and ₩ lb; Peaches for halves.

FLOUR AND MEAL.—The market for Flour opened quite excited under the Africa's advices, and with an increased demand both for export and on speculation, prices are fully 25c ₩ bbl better than at the close of last week, the transactions which are large reaching in all some 18@20,000 bbls at $5 22½@5 25, and since at $5 31½@5 37½ for mixed and straight brands, including sales; and better brands at $5 50 @5 56½ extra at $5 69@5 87½, and fancy brands at $6@6 25 ₩ bbl. To-day inquiry for shipping brands are in demand and scarce at $5 87½; most holders asking $5 50 ₩ bbl. Rye Flour is scarce, but steady in price with limited receipts, and sales at $4 25 ₩ bbl. Corn Meal is also without alteration, and further sales of 1500 bbls Pennsylvania and Jersey have been made in lots on arrival at $3 50 ₩ bbl. The inspections for the week ending the 23d inst. are 24,503 bbls wheat flour, 66 bbls Rye do. 14,280 bbls Corn meal, and 731 puncheons do.

GRAIN.—The market for Wheat with moderate receipts and a good steady demand, both for shipment and milling, has also improved 3@7c ₩ bushel since the receipt of the foreign news at the close of last week; and 35@10,000 bushels offloat and in store have found buyers at $1 13@1 20 ₩ bushel, for prime Penna. and Southern red; $1 20 for mixed lots, and $1 20@$1 25 for Southern and Penna. white. Rye has also been in active request, and prices are 2@3c better, with further small sales at $2@$66 for Penna. Corn continues in steady demand, and the receipts some 33,000@35,000 bushels have been disposed of, mostly for shipment at 64c for white. Oats—but few Southern offering. we quote at 40@ 43@46c, mostly at 44c.

NEW YORK, December 24.

PROVISIONS.—Our Pork market is unsettled, the demand is more active and the tendency improved; sales of old mess are made at $19,50; new do $19,50; old prime $15,75@16; and new $16,25 for country mess; $15,25@15,50 for Chicago Beef; and $14,25@14,50 for extra do. Prime is firm at $8,25@8,20.

CINCINNATI, December 24.

The river is rebeding, but there is an ample stage of water hence to the Mississippi for all boating purposes, and the heavy rains of the last twelve hours will cause another rise.

FLOUR.—The market exhibited an improved feeling as compared with previous prices. The sales comprised 5,000 bbls Brooked, Long and Square Shawls, every description, from H. R. at $4,00; 500 and 1 at $4,25; 1,000 at $4,35, and 230 extra at $4,50. Received during the last 24 hours 2000 bbls; exported the same time 550 do.

PROVISIONS.—The market has not undergone any change. THE DAY OF REST.

Rest, rest! it is the Day of Rest—there needs no book to tell
The truth that every thoughtful eye, each heart can read so well:
Rest, rest! it is the Sabbath morn, a quiet like the sky,
Whose whispered voice of peace repeats that rest is every where.

Oh, weary heart! oh, heart of woe! raise up thy toil-worn brow;
The fields, the trees, the very breeze—they all are resting now:
The air is still—there is no sound, save that unceasing hum,
That insect song of summer time, that from the woods doth come.

And even that seems fainter now, like voices far away,
As though they only sang of rest, and labored not to-day;
The hum of bees, seems softer too from out the clear blue heaven,
As if the lowliest creature knew this day for rest was given.

The spacious tracks of meadow-land, of bean-fields and of wheat,
And all the globe are undisturbed by sound of laborer's feet;
The cotter in his Sunday garb, with peace within his breast,
Roams idly by the garden side, and feels himself at rest.

The streams, the trees, the woods, the breeze, the bird, the roving bee,
Seem all to breathe a softer sound, a holier melody;
Yon little church,' too, tells of rest, to all the summer air,
Like music heard in dreams of heaven, that sacred sound doth steal
From where the old church aisles repeat the organ's solemn peal.

Now Heaven be praised! a gracious boon is this sweet rest to me—
How many shall this truth repeat to-day on bended knee!
How many a weary heart it cheers, how many an aching breast!
Now Heaven be praised, a precious boon is this sweet Day of Rest!

"It Gives General Satisfaction."

☞ So say all the Dealers in M'Lane's Vermifuge, and so also may the proprietors say, as they are daily receiving certificates so numerous, that to print them would fill a volume. But what is the use of further certificates to a medicine that has become so universal? Let the names of a few of its approvers suffice:—

Mr. George Maxwell, of Augusta, Carroll county, has used it in his family with the best effects.

J. H. Cutter, a respectable merchant of Louisville, after having used others, without effect, administered a dose of M'Lane's Vermifuge, which completely removed the worms.

It has also been used with success in the families of the following persons:—

Pittsburgh and vicinity—James Stratton, Penna. Avenue; Mary J. Stratton, Mary Stratton; Sarah Harshberger, Manchester; Margaret Lindsay, do; James Burke and Agnes Burke, Kentucky Hill.

For sale by most of the Druggists and Merchants, and by the sole proprietors. J. KIDD & CO.,
