Harper & Phillips, Editors & Proprietors.

PITTSBURGH:

THURSDAY MORNING:.....MARCH 24.

☞ North, as South, we East, no West, under the Constitution; but a sacred Union of the Common Weal, and true devotion to the Common Brotherhood. —Francis Pierce.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

FOR CANAL COMMISSIONER:
THOMAS H. FORSYTH,
of Philadelphia County.

FOR AUDITOR-GENERAL,
EPHRAIM BANKS,
of Mifflin County.

FOR SURVEYOR GENERAL,
J. PORTER BRAWLEY,
of Crawford County.

☞ FINE JOB PRINTING. ☜

Having recently made large additions of New and Beautiful Type to our Establishment, we are now prepared to do PRINTING OF EVERY KIND, in the neatest style, and upon the most reasonable terms. Every size and variety of Type, from the smallest Diamond to Double Roll, can be found in our extensive Office. Give us a call!

☞ Subscribers who may change their residences or places of doing business, on the first of April, will do good enough to leave word at the office, so that our carriers may know where to find them.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE WHIGS.

The Whig press has very suddenly changed its tone in regard to the Inaugural Address. When it first appeared, the most of them were disposed to find fault with it, and to sneer at the author. Some wise critics, who could not find fault with the principles laid down, objected to the style.—But the universal approbation of the people, which soon reached their ears, convinced them that they had been acting foolishly, and they came round at once. Now many of them extol every act of the President, and were it not for some minor paragraphs, which appear in their columns, the public might suppose that they were reading Democratic journals.

We do not know rightly how to understand this sudden change of temperment in our opponents. They have nothing more to say about his "fainting;" they never utter the word "coward," in connexion with his name, and to all intents, they appear to consider him a "marvelous proper man." Whether this is cringing sycophony or conscientious compunctions, we cannot tell, but it is evident to all, that there is a most extraordinary change in the tone of the Whig press since the Inauguration.

It may be an honest confession for former misdeeds—which, it is said, is good for the soul—or they may think it a wise stroke of policy to aid the "National Conservative Progressive Whig Party," which was born and christened a few days since. They may think with Gloster, that a little flattery sometimes does well, and that by applying it to President PIERCE, he may be induced to look, with a lenient eye, upon the many mistakes of the preceding administration. In this they will be disappointed: their hollow praise now, cannot banish the remembrance of their former abuse, and they may just as well keep their lip service for some one who requires it more than FRANKLIN PIERCE.

RAILROAD FROM PITTSBURGH TO CHAMBERSBURG.

The Chambersburg Valley Spirit publishes an act to incorporate the Chambersburg and Allegheny Railroad Company, but it does not appear whether the act was recently passed or has been a dead letter on the statute book for a number of years. The first section grants power and authority to build and construct a railroad, beginning at or near the borough of Chambersburg, in the county of Franklin; thence to a point at or near the borough of Bedford, in the county of Bedford; thence by the most expedient and practicable route to any point of connection or intersection with any other railroad now incorporated, leading to or in the direction of Pittsburgh, with the authority to extend the said Chambersburg and Allegheny Railroad to a point or points in or near the city of Pittsburgh or other place in the county of Allegheny—Provided, That the said railroad shall be commenced within five years and completed within ten years from the passage of this act.

The Editor of the Valley Spirit warmly advocates the project, and points out its advantages to the region of country through which the road will pass. He says that Eastern capitalists are disposed to invest their means in this undertaking, and that it will require only a moderate degree of liberality on the part of the citizens of the counties traversed by the road, to secure its construction.

U. S. MARSHAL.

We learn from Washington that Col. WESLEY FROST, of Fayette county, has been appointed U. S. Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania, and that the appointment has been confirmed by the Senate. Mr. FROST is a sterling Democrat of the old school, firm, reliable, and popular.

The compensation of the Marshals has been considerably reduced lately—in fact, to a man who has any other certain employment, the office is not worth seeking after. It is thought, however, that Congress will pass a law restoring the old fee bill, which we think is but right.

THE "CIRCUMBENDIBUS."

The Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Company are making arrangements to extend a Branch down the Ohio river from Wellsville, through Steubenville, to Bridgeport, opposite Wheeling. The people of Steubenville appear to favor the project. The Councils have granted the "right of way," and at a meeting held on Monday evening, delegates were appointed to attend a convention of the Directors of the C. and P. R. R., at Wellsville on the 23d. It now appears pretty certain that the "Circumbendibus" will be made. The link between Beaver and Wellsville, however, must be supplied. Push on the Railroads!

STEAMBOAT LAW.

A meeting of steamboat officers was held in Cincinnati on Monday evening, at which, strong opposition was expressed to the present law, regulating steamboats. A Captain Maginnis made a short speech strongly condemnatory of the law, and the course of the Inspectors.

This seems to be the season of "strikes."—The Journeymen Carpenters of Reading are moving in one of them with great energy.

☞ In looking over the appropriation bill of the late Congress, we see that honorable members have perpetuated that unjustifiable Gallphinism of appropriating public money to their own pockets in the shape of books. Two of the items are, "Books for members, $13,162;" and "Congressional Globe for members, $20,476."—Thirty-three thousand six hundred dollars make up a nice item for the private uses of already well paid servants.

☞ The General Mining Law having passed the Pennsylvania House of Representatives, a good deal of feeling appears to be aroused against it in the Schuylkill coal region, particularly at Pottsville, where a public meeting has been called to remonstrate against it. It appears to be looked upon there as inimical to the interests of individual coal operators.

ANOTHER VETO.—Governor Bigler has vetoed the bill incorporating the Waynesburg and Washington Plank Road Company, because it contained a section relating to a certain school district in Greene county. The Governor is opposed to all such special legislation, and in this instance he was unanimously sustained by the Senate.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—The following confirmations for Oregon have been made by the Senate:

Joseph Lane, Governor of Oregon.

Geo. L. Curry, of Oregon, Secretary of the Territory of Oregon.

J. W. Nesmith, of Oregon, Marshal of Oregon.

Benjamin F. Harding, of Oregon, District Attorney of Oregon.

Judge Landor, of Indiana, has been appointed Chief Justice of the new Territory of Washington.

Mr. John K. Miller, of Ohio, has been appointed a Judge in the new Territory of Washington, Oregon. He will doubtless be confirmed immediately after his case is taken up for consideration.

It is said that the Consulship at Liverpool is promised to Mr. Hawthorne, the biographer of Gen. Pierce, and that at Glasgow is sought after by a Mr. N. S. Dodge.

J. Rodney Croskey, Esq., the present incumbent, is named for Consul at Southampton, England.

Ex-Senator Benton, the Cato of the West, says that he has no candidates for appointments either in Washington or Missouri.

Secretary Dobbin has taken a fine suite of rooms at Weirman's new building, Fifteenth street, but dines at the public table at Willard's, where Secretary Marcy, Attorney General Cushing, and Postmaster General Campbell also dine.

Col. Campbell, late Consul to Havana, who also came for a foreign mission, received the place of Mexican Boundary Commissioner, without dreaming that the President had the least idea of bestowing it upon him.

There is reason to believe the President will not make any of the important foreign appointments until after the adjournment of the Senate. The President has stated he would be able to get all the necessary nominations before that body by Thursday at farthest, when an adjournment could take place.

DIFFICULTY IN THE CENSUS OFFICE.

By a despatch from Washington, March 21st, we learn that on that day the Census office, on Eighth street, was a scene of considerable excitement. In the first place, one hundred clerks were removed, which reduced the force of the office to seven or eight; and it was proposed to dispense with the Eighth and Seventh street offices altogether; one office and a few picked clerks deemed sufficient to wind up the name. In the next place, Mr. Kennedy, the late Superintendent of the Census, sued out a writ of replevin on Mr. De Bow, his successor, by virtue of which he entered the office with a deputy marshal, and removed two or three cart loads of manuscript and documents, claimed as private property, but embracing a large amount of manuscripts prepared by clerks in the office, the records of the Census Board, numerous publications received from public societies, &c.

The documents removed were appraised at $480, and Mr. Kennedy had given $4000 bond for their safety. Mr. De Bow consulted the District Attorney, and no doubt the most prompt measures will be taken for the recovery of such papers as are of a public character.

It is understood that Mr. Kennedy had accumulated a large mass of manuscript preparatory to an extended work on the resources of the country, which he designed publishing on his own account, seeing that Congress declined to publish the Census Returns on the extensive scale proposed.

From another despatch in the Philadelphia North American, we learn that it was expected that Kennedy would probably be arrested on Tuesday, under a late Act of Congress, on a charge of abstracting public records and using them as private property. The government will issue a proclamation to prevent his proposed publication of the census being received as correct.

ANNEXATION TO PENNSYLVANIA.

Many of the residents of the "narrow neck of land" which stretches up between Ohio and Pennsylvania, and in which the great city of Wheeling is situated, are in favor of the annexation of the "pan handle," as it is called, to Pennsylvania.

The Wellsburg Herald, of Friday last, announces a meeting to be held Tuesday evening, at their Court House, "to discuss the feasibility of ANNEXATION TO PENNSYLVANIA." The Herald says this meeting is to be held at "the request of some of our oldest, most intelligent, and most influential citizens, justly incensed at the encroachments on our rights by the city of Wheeling, and alarmed at the failure or refusal of the Virginia Legislature to afford protection, or to do us (them) justice." The sons of Virginia living in Brook and Hancock counties, are deeply attached to the "Old Dominion," but finding that they are mercilessly controlled by a New Dominion, the head quarters of which seem to be about Wheeling, they will, with many regrets, deliberate upon the best method of bringing about a dismemberment—of disenthralling themselves from hostile and withering influences.—"Dismemberment," says the paper aforesaid, "in Wellsburg and vicinity is a popular doctrine."

THE BOURBON CASE.—The N. Y. Herald of the 21st, has the following notice of this case which has created considerable conversation for some time past:

THE ELEAZER WILLIAMS EXPOSED.—We publish this morning the paper which we referred to yesterday, exposing the ridiculous humbug lately published by Putnam, concerning the identity of the Rev. Eleazer Williams, a half-breed of the Iroquois Indians, with the unfortunate son of the unhappy King Louis XVI. of France. After reading this paper, the reader will be at no loss to conclude that the Rev. Mr. Williams has got a Bourbon kink in his head; but how the Rev. Mr. Hanson—a matter of fact Methodist clergyman, we understand, who holds a clerkship of a thousand dollars a year at Washington—how he could be so far duped as to devote the time and labor which he expended in tracking up Mr. Williams, and in tracing out his history, we cannot imagine. Perhaps the clever brochure which he produced from these researches paid all expenses—perhaps not. Perhaps, in the sincere conviction of the identity of Mr. Williams with the murdered dauphin of a murdered father and mother, the Rev. Mr. Hanson may have felt it his duty to vindicate the truth of history and the persecuted Bourbons. But, whatever his motives, let him answer our distinguished respondent if he can. And upon this subject we have nothing more to say.

NEWSPAPERS MAILED FOR CUBA.—The Captain General of Cuba has notified the American Consul at Havana that in obedience to an order of the Spanish government, no transmission will be given in the mails of that Island to any newspaper, unless it be secured with a single band only, in such manner as to admit of its examination without tearing the band or cover; and that if any letter be found therein it will be taken out and properly directed, and the postage charged on it according to the place it comes from. The Captain General further declares that under the name of newspapers (periodicos) all kinds of printed matter will be included. The order went into effect on the 1st inst.

NEW ROLLING MILL.—The new Rolling Mill erected by Messrs. Bailey and Patterson, a short distance above town, between the Pennsylvania canal and Central Railroad, has just been completed, and will commence operations to-day.—The engine which is to drive the works, is from the establishment of Messrs. Neall, Matthews & Moore, Philadelphia. It is a piece of mechanism which, for strength, simplicity and excellence of finish, we have not seen excelled at any other establishment of the kind. The engine is of 90 horse power, and the boilers, two in number, are each 30 feet long, and 4½ feet in diameter.—Harrisburg Bor. Item, 9th.

FROM OUR WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT.

CITY OF WASHINGTON, 21st March, 1853.

Messrs. Harper & Phillips:

I have written to you two or three times about the Fair of the Metropolitan Institute, which has been a great point of attraction for the last three weeks; and which was indeed a meritorious exhibition. That interesting collection of works of genius and art is now closed; and the several exhibitors are, on their way, or about to start, for their respective homes. The income from the sale of tickets, &c., I have heard, is estimated at between thirty and forty thousand dollars, and those who speak most confidently, and who ought to have had abundant means for coming to a just conclusion, say that the receipts have been not less than thirty thousand dollars. Much dissatisfaction has been expressed by the contributors from a distance generally, owing to the narrow-minded policy, as they say, of the Managers of the Institute. They claim that a few thousand dollars of the money that has been received should have been devoted to the purchase of gold and silver medals, as well as parchment and paper diplomas; and that all these should have been pretty generally distributed freely, among the meritorious contributors, both of home and abroad. They contend that this would have stimulated to greater emulation, among manufacturers and others, when preparations should be announced as being made for another Fair. On the other hand, the Managers complain that they are poor, that their Society wish to build a suitable Hall, for the purpose of having regular exhibitions in future; and that, therefore they could not spare the money that would be required for medals to all meritorious works, without going far to defeat the aims of the Institute. Whether the Managers have adopted the wisest course possible, is to be proven hereafter. I think, with the foreign contributors, that they have not.

You have seen, from the papers of this city, that a considerable number of important offices have been filled with new incumbents; but none in our State have yet been attended to. This is not to be wondered at, when the large number of offices to be filled, and the immense mass of letters that must be read, are considered. But our turn will come soon enough for most of the present incumbents; and, perhaps, too soon for some of the applicants also.

I find that there is already much said among our political friends of Pennsylvania, in relation to the next State Convention. This may seem strange to some; but it is true, that while the members of the late Convention have scarcely reached their homes, after nominating the State officers to be chosen this year, many of the most active men, in several counties, are becoming quite warm in relation to the most proper nominations to be made by our next Convention. I do not see that any good is to be accomplished by this course; and therefore say nothing in relation to the various speculations that I have heard; but of this I am very sure, that a more honest and faithful man than we now have at the head of affairs in our State, cannot, I think, be found in our country; nor can one be found more able to carry forward the great ends to be accomplished in our State. He has stood by us in the midst of our severest trials, and met and bearded the lion of Whiggery, when in the height of his power,—at a time, too, when sterling patriotism alone could save our country and our State,—and I think that no minor consideration should be sufficient to make any true Democrat find fault with him. The fact is, our State was never in a happier or more prosperous condition; and it devolves upon the Democratic party to keep up the tide of prosperity.

The telegraph keeps you informed of the Gardiner trial here, which "drags its slow length along;" and promising to end in nothing, or next to nothing. Gardiner and lending Whig office holders have lined their pockets pretty well out of the public treasury, and they will keep the money. Without meaning to intimate that any man connected with the present administration could be guilty of such wholesale plunder as has been accomplished under the late Whig administration, I would express the hope, at least, that no such individual may be found in our ranks: for, if there be such a character, he has it in his power, by doing as the Whigs did, not only to secure to himself everlasting infamy, but to prostrate his political associates, more certainly than any political act of theirs could prostrate them. It is to be hoped that there will now be a more rigid surveillance over the Treasury than there has ever been; because the people have been awakened to the abuses and enormities of that department, during the last four years; and the members of the Democratic party will be held, and justly too, to a more rigid accountability than any servants of the people have ever been held before. The indications, thus far, are all of the highest promise. Indeed, I do not think that any administration ever commenced with as high a share of the public confidence, and the prayer of every patriot must surely be, that it may close in glory: for that which reflects dishonor upon the head of our Republic, goes far also to bring into disrepute republican institutions; and consequently to strengthen the hands of tyrants, and bind more tightly the oppressed and suffering nations of the earth.

The Senate is getting forward with the appointments as fast as could be expected; and we may therefore look for a complete organization of the Government within the next few weeks.

It is reported that my old friend, Robert Dale Owen, of Indiana, will undoubtedly receive the appointment of Charge d'Affairs to Naples, and that Col. Gorman, who has been spoken of, heretofore, in connection with the General Land Office, will receive an important appointment in South America; it being regarded as proper to make no change in the General Land Office for two or three months to come. But as the venerable Mr. Ritchie used to write, nous verrons.

Yours, truly, L. E.

Allegheny Mountain Tunnel, Pennsylvania Railroad.

The miners at this tunnel holed through on January 31st. The length of the tunnel is 3570 feet. The heading at the west end was commenced on October 14th, 1851; at the western shaft, November 10th, 1851; at the middle shaft, November 1st, 1851; and at the east end, November 14th, 1851. The headings at the shafts, on account of the quantity of water at first encountered, were worked only a part of the time. The engine at the middle shaft was insufficient, and was replaced by a powerful pumping-engine, in the spring of 1852; taking these delays into account, the workings would not be equal to more than at three different points. The time, from the commencement of the work at the west end until daylight was through, is 15½ months, much the shortest time ever occupied in doing the same amount of work in this country. Ringwood Tunnel, on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, 4120 feet long, was commenced in September, 1849, and was holed through on January 22d, 1852, 2 years and 4½ months after the commencement. This tunnel was worked at three shafts and the ends. It is 550 feet longer than the Allegheny Mountain Tunnel, but the excavation was remarkably easy, in the main being through fine clay, and the tunnel very dry, which advantage would be more than an equivalent for the additional length.

Great credit is due Thomas Seabrook, Esq., P. A. Engineer, and the contractors of the Allegheny Tunnel, Messrs. John Rutter & Son, for their persevering exertions in the vigorous prosecution of this work. The early difficulty was water, which poured into the tunnel almost every seam, which was cut at the shafts, requiring almost an equal amount of power to dispose of it, that was calculated for removing the material. After provision was made for disposing of the water and driving the headings a short distance, the roof proved bad, requiring timbering; heavy falls frequently occurred, and delayed the work. A steady perseverance, however, overcame these difficulties, and daylight is now through the mountain. This work has proved the capacity of the contractors, and places them at the head of superintendents of mining operations in this or any other country. The work is now under the direction of Thomas Rutter, Esq., surviving partner.

Items of News and Miscellany.

The fishermen on the Susquehanna are making arrangements for the spring fishing, which will commence early in April. Some branch herrings have been already caught.

A strong association has been formed in Charleston, S. C., for the purpose of erecting a monument to John C. Calhoun, it is composed of committees from the military and fire companies of the city.

Rev. Dr. Richard Bond, agent of the American Bible Society for Missouri, died near Danville, in that State, on the 5th inst., from injuries received by the accidental discharge of a gun in his own hands.

Lieut. Gibson, who was sent out about two years ago, with Lieut. Herndon, United States Navy, to explore the Amazon from its sources to its mouth, has arrived at Washington.

The Harpers, it is said, have become partners in the New York Daily Times. They put $50,000 into the establishment.

Rev. Thos. L. Harris, of Mountain Cove, Va., is lecturing in St. Louis in favor of spiritual manifestations.

Mr. Meagher lectured in Charleston, on Thursday evening before a large audience, including the Catholic Bishop.

A report has been made in the Pennsylvania Senate against the passage of the bill to authorize the banks of that State to issue notes of a less denomination than five dollars.

The New York Churchman has recently enlarged its sheet, put on an entirely new dress, and is one of the most elegant, as it certainly is one of the ablest and most interesting, religious newspapers in the United States.

Experiments have lately been made at Berlin with cannon having rifle bores, and loaded at the breech with a conical missile, which is hollow, and contains powder. These experiments are said to have been very successful.—With fourteen pounds of powder a missile was thrown more than 6000 feet.

The number of persons actually engaged in digging gold in California, does not exceed 100,000. During the month of January just passed, the export of gold from California amounted to $4,577,118, which give a monthly yield of $45 70 to each man engaged in mining.

The Maryland House of Delegates have passed the bill for an Eastern Shore or New York straight line railroad. Also, the bill authorizing the Philadelphia and Baltimore Railroad Company to bridge the Susquehanna river at or near Havre de Grace.

It is stated that the whole number of books published in the United States during the year 1852, was 1288. Of those 322 were reprints of English books and translations, leaving the 966 as the number of American works.

It is stated that the annual cost of the army and navy of the United States per head for the population, is sixty-seven cents. The expense of the same establishments to Great Britain and Ireland per head, is $2,62; to France, $2,10; to Germany, $2,28.

The Gardiner trial was resumed at Washington on Saturday. Mr. Bowers, Wm. Angus and Benjamin E. Green were examined to show the whereabouts at different times of Dr. Gardiner.

The Troy Whig says that Lake Champlain was frozen over last week, so that teams crossed for the first time.

The New Orleans Picayune denies the report, lately originated in New York, that another expedition against Cuba is being organized in New Orleans.

How Labor Lives in England.

In the course of a long letter from London, published in the Boston Post, occurs this paragraph, showing how labor is rewarded in the agricultural districts of England. Thus:

May I beg you (writes an "Essex Vicar" to the Times) to spare room for the following statement of a laboring man's gains and expenditure in this neighborhood? I am stating the case of a person with a wife and six children under 12 years—the youngest just born:

| | s. | d. |
|---|---|---|
| Earnings per week | 8 | 0 |
| Father, thrashing with small beer | 1 | 6 |
| One boy, odd boy at a farmer's | 1 | 0 |
| One boy | | |
| Total earnings per week | 10 | 6 |

Father earns in harvest month £4 4s., making the total earnings of about £30 per annum.—Mother gleans about £1 value of corn.

| Expenses per week. | £ | s. | d. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Rent of four-roomed cottage with garden | 4 | 0 | 0 |
| Fifty-two bushels of flour at 8s. | 18 | 4 | 0 |
| Yeast and faggots for baking at 9d. | 1 | 19 | 0 |
| Shoes for family | 3 | 0 | 0 |
| Clothes for self and two boys at work | 1 | 17 | 0 |
| | £29 | 0 | 0 |

Leaving £2 to clothe the mother and smaller children, and buy firing, tea, sugar, soap, candles and contingencies.

QUALIFICATION OF THE VICE PRESIDENT.—A letter from Matanzas, published in the New Orleans Picayune, gives an account of the swearing in of the Vice President of the United States, Hon. William R. King, on the 4th inst., at La Cumbre, about three miles from Matanzas. The writer says:

"The oath was administered by Consul Rodney to the Vice President, who was ready and waiting our arrival. The volante was brought up to the door, and Mr. King stepped into it, in order to ride into Matanzas before the sun should be too high to make it pleasant. The whole cavalcade, consisting of some twelve or fifteen American gentlemen, immediately mounting and forming an escort around the carriage, conducted the Vice President to town."

Mr. King left Matanzas on the same day for the estate of Mr. Chartrain, in the partido of Limonar, about eighteen miles from Matanzas. His health is very poor, and no one accustomed to see patients with pulmonary disease in this climate but knows he cannot survive very long. He may live for months in this mild climate, but he can never be better. The old statesman views his coming fate with calmness, as one who has fought the good fight, and will lay hold of eternal life."

EXTRAVAGANT PROFITS OF LEAD MINING.—The Grant County Herald remarks as follows, under this head: "We learn that smelters of Franklin, (Iowa county,) are paying $40 @ 1000 lbs., for mineral. We fear that this rate is the result of competition, or else over estimated demand. That mineral will fluctuate the coming season between $30 and $40, we have no doubt; but that its steady value, based upon the eastern and St. Louis price of lead, will be $40, we doubt very much. Be that as it may, miners may rely upon a very high compensation for their labors henceforth." We fully agree in the above opinion. The price of our staple, for some time to come, must mainly depend on the prices asked by the owners of Spanish and English lead, for it is plain that our own mines cannot supply the market. If foreign dealers choose to keep the price to near its present limit, we think they can do so; but this cannot be a safe reliance in the transaction of a heavy business.—Galena Advocate, 16th.

Operations of the Steamboat Law.

The license of JAMES CARROLL, pilot of the steamer Charleston, was suspended, last week, by the Steamboat Inspectors, for not complying with the "Rules and Regulations" governing pilots.

The pilot of the steamer Simon Kenton was on last week found to be running in violation of the law without license, and fined $100, which he paid. It should be understood that a steamboat is liable to a fine for employing a pilot without license, and also that an unlicensed pilot is liable to be fined for offering his services to a boat.—Cin. Commercial.

☞ The Boston Journal learns, from a highly respectable resident of South Boston, who knew Arthur Spring, (supposed connected with the recent double murder in Philadelphia,) when in Newfoundland, in the year 1833, and that he there, in connection with a woman, caused the death of a person named Snow. Spring and the woman were arrested, the latter executed, and Spring, after being reprieved for a time, was finally banished to the United States. The woman proved to be the wife of the murdered man Snow.

A Domestic Duett,

AS PERFORMED AT BREAKFAST TIME.

Romantic Husband—
"Then art thy love!—I have none other
But only thee!—but only thee!"

Sensible Wife—
"Now Charles do stop this silly bother,
And drink your tea,—your cooling tea!"

Romantic Husband—
"Your eyes are diamonds,—gems refined—
Your teeth are pearl,—your hair is gold,"

Sensible Wife—
"O nonsense now!—I know you'll find
Your cuticle cold,—exceeding cold!"

Romantic Husband—
"Where'er thou art my passions burn;—
I envy not the monarch's crown!"

Sensible Wife—
"Put some hot water in the urn,
And toast this bread, and toast it brown!"

Romantic Husband—
Had I Golconda's wealth, Lucy—
There thine art will, 'twere thine at will!"

Sensible Wife—
"Then let me have a check to pay
The butcher's bill,—the bakers bill!"

Romantic Husband—
"Oh hoot thine hat, my trembling flower!—
I want absent grass us, let it come!"

Sensible Wife—
And oppose, the bill for flour
It is quite a sum,—an unpaid sum."

Romantic Husband—
"So rich in love,—so rich in joy—
No change our cup of bliss can spill"—

Sensible Wife—
"Now do be quiet;—you destroy
My cambric frill,—my well starched frill."

Romantic Husband—
"Ha! senseless, soulless, loveless girl,
To sentiment and passion dead!"

Sensible Wife—
"A moment mind I read your 'pearl,'
Your only love'—at least you said."

Romantic Husband (gravely)—
I spoke it in the bitter jest
Of one his own deep sadness scorning."

Sensible Wife (rather foolishly)—
"Well candor is at all times best—
I wish you, sir, a fair good morning!"

The Demand Still Increases!

☞ As the public becomes better acquainted with the sterling qualities of M'Lane's Liver Pills, the demand continues to increase. So certain is this great medicine in restoring a diseased Liver to the exercise of its proper functions, that it is now looked upon as the greatest Specific for Hepatis; and many physicians use it in their regular practice. Among others, Dr. Oliver Morgan, a distinguished physician of Virginia, with a very extensive practice, has used these Pills in cases of Liver Complaint, and of Dyspepsia, with complete success. Recommended as it is by physicians, as well as others, who have witnessed the happy effects of this medicine, it is not surprising that we are daily in receipt of such missives as the following:—

CAMARGO, Ohio, January 25, 1851.

Messrs. J. Kidd & Co.—We are nearly out of M'Lane's Pills. It would be well to keep us supplied, as there is a great demand for them in our place.—Ochil & Clark.
