ERROR CORRECTED.

Among our news items of yesterday, was one to the effect that a bill had been passed by the Virginia Senate, declaring it a misdemeanor to conduct or operate any Railroad in that State, used or intended to be used in connection with the Railroad of any foreign corporation.

Upon inquiry we find that this is not the fact. The Wheeling folks prepared such a bill, to be introduced at the commencement of the session, but it found not a single supporter. Other bills relating to Railroads were introduced by the same interest, with similar restrictive provisions in them, and their restrictions were uniformly stricken out.

A bill has been recently passed by the Virginia Senate, incorporating the Brooks and Hancock Railroad Company, with the design to connect with the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad.—This bill contained restrictions such as we have alluded to, but so odious were they to the Legislature of Virginia, that those interested in the bill were obliged to refer the bill back to a committee to have them all stricken out.

It is not the fact, therefore, that any bill with any restrictions whatever, such as we have alluded to, has passed the Virginia Senate, or found any favor whatever with either branch of the Virginia Legislature.

THE "CRYSTAL PALACE."

We yesterday paid a visit to Capt. KOUNTZ's new boat, the "Crystal Palace," which is lying at the Allegheny wharf, immediately below the St. Clair Street Bridge. The painters and gilders are busy at work giving her the "finishing touches." We shall not at present attempt to give a full description of this magnificent steamer, preferring to wait for a few days until she is completely finished and furnished. We will say, however, that for size, beauty, comfort, convenience, and every thing that will render a steamboat attractive, the Crystal Palace takes the lead. She will, unquestionably, be altogether the most splendid steamer on the Western waters. Every thing that money, skill and genius could do to make her surpassingly beautiful, has been done.

The Crystal Palace is intended to take the place of the Cincinnati as the Wednesday packet, to run between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. She will be under the command of Capt. WILLIAM J. KOUNTZ, one of the most popular and accomplished steamboat officers in the West. It is the intention of Capt. K. to take out the Crystal Palace on her first trip next Wednesday week.—May abundant success attend the career of this new Pittsburgh steamer. She is certainly an honor to our city and her mechanics.

J. PORTER BRAWLEY.

As this gentleman seems to be the target at which Whig slanders and abuse are just now aimed, the following extract from an editorial in the last Meadville Democrat, will serve to show what effect it will have, and what his standing is at home amongst those who know him intimately:

"We notice that several Whig papers in this section have already opened their batteries on the nominee for Surveyor General. Judging from some samples before us, the campaign is to be conducted in a spirit of gross calumny and detraction. These are old weapons in the hands of Whig editors; their inefficiency, we supposed, had long since been fully demonstrated. They will be as powerless now as at any former period.

Mr. Brawley has discharged the duties of Surveyor General with marked ability. This is acknowledged by the Whig press at the seat of Government. He has been re-nominated in accordance with the usages of his party, and the Democracy will sustain him against the assaults of their enemies. The course of the Whig press will only have the effect of uniting our ranks.

Postmaster General.

The New York Brother Jonathan, an independent paper, expresses its approbation of Judge CAMPBELL's appointment to the Post Office Department, in the following language:

"Our new Postmaster General, JAMES CAMPBELL, of Pennsylvania, is said to be just such a man as is wanted at the head of the Post Office. We really hope so. After Mr. Hall was pensioned off, we at once began to feel relief from a dead weight which Mr. Fillmore had inflicted on the country. Mr. Hubbard was a very fair Postmaster General; and from what we can learn of Judge Campbell, he will still be a better one. All we want is a good, hard working, common-sense man, free from party trammels and pride of place—one who will neither ask nor grant favors in the faithful discharge of his duties, and who will make his own decisions understandingly, and not trust lazy underlings to think for him."

A BOOK BY MRS. SWISSHELM.

We yesterday received, through the Post Office, a very pretty volume, entitled "Letters to Country Girls," by JANE G. SWISSHELM, which has just been published by J. C. Riker, 129 Fulton street, New York. The book is very neatly printed, and handsomely bound, with two well executed wood engravings, representing rural scenes. These letters originally appeared in the Saturday Visiter of this city, of which, as every body knows, Mrs. Swisshelm is the editor. They were extensively copied and universally read. The book will, of course, have a great run.

Postmaster at Cleveland.

We learn from the True Democrat, of Thursday, that J. W. GRAY, Esq., Editor of the Cleveland Plaindealer, has been appointed Postmaster of the Forest City. Good for GRAY. He has been a capital Editor, and will make a capital Postmaster. We heartily congratulate him upon his success.

MAJ. WESLEY FROST.

This gentleman was yesterday sworn in as U. S. Marshal for the Western District of Pennsylvania, and immediately entered upon the discharge of the duties of his office. He is a most worthy man, and will undoubtedly make a good officer.

BEAVER COUNTY NEWS

We learn from the Beaver Star that Col. David Boies has been appointed by the Directors of the Erie Canal Company, Supervisor of Beaver Division and Collector at Bridgewater; W. Newell, Collector at the Junction and Alex. Nowell, Collector at New Castle.

A meeting of the citizens of Beaver county was held on Tuesday evening the 15th inst, for the purpose of taking into consideration the propriety of assisting in the erection of a House of Refuge for Western Pennsylvania. Col. David Boies was called to the chair, and Samuel B. Wilson and M. Weyand were appointed Secretaries. The object of the meeting was stated by Judge Agnew; after which Rev. A. W. Black, of Pittsburgh, delivered an address, in which he eloquently portrayed the advantages to be derived from an establishment of an Institution of this character. The following resolution was then offered for the consideration of the meeting:

Resolved, That the Commissioners of Beaver County be requested to subscribe the sum of $5000 to the fund for the erection of a House of Refuge, in the County of Allegheny, for the Western District of Pennsylvania.

The passage of this resolution was ably advocated by Gen. J. K. Moorhead of Pittsburgh.—Hon. John Allison moved to amend by striking out the sum of $5000, and inserting $2500; which was agreed to. Whereupon the resolution as amended was unanimously adopted.

Agreeable to notice given according to law, the stockholders of the Etna Glass Manufacturing Company of Bridgewater, Beaver County, met on Thursday evening, March 24th, 1853, in the room of J. Logan, Esq., Bridgewater. On motion Dr. H. Hannen was called to the chair, and J. Whisler was appointed Secretary. The meeting then proceeded to the election of a Board of Directors, which resulted in the choice of the following gentlemen: R. W. Poindexter, Hiram Stowe, Thos. Russell, S. H. Darrah, Wm. Lehmer, Jr., Henry Hannen, M. C. Fitch.

☞ In noticing the nominations of the late Whig Convention, the Hollidaysburg Standard says, after giving the names of the nominees:—This is a strong ticket (except probably the dorsal fin) and in no event can it be beaten over fifty thousand, unless an extra 50,000 whigs—not men in buckram—should be engaged in sowing buckwheat on the next election day! The confession may not be any thing to our credit, but, on honor, we never heard of Pownal before —and what is more we doubt whether we shall ever hear of him again next October. Like his illustrious predecessors, Hoffman and Strohm, he will, in the language of the darkey's sermon, "shoot up like hopper grass, and be cut down like sparrow grass, and nebber heard of more."

And Christian Meyers—the old veteran renegade comes in for a nomination for Surveyor General for his fealty to the Whig party. Ah! well, it is all right—renegades must have their price. Old Christian was scurvily treated by the Whig Senate last fall, and he bolted—or kicked in the traces. His wounded feelings had to be mollified, because one vote in the Senate is a consideration. The best and cheapest way to do it was to nominate him to run for an office he can never reach. Good. Staunch whigs who like his treason, cannot support the traitor, while Democrats with whom he formerly voted, would violate the principles of their party by not using the most strenuous exertions to overthrow a demagogue and a renegade.

California, Sierra and Tulare.

These names of the three States which a movement is on foot in the California Legislature to construct out of the present limits of the Pacific State. A majority of the Legislature, it is said, will order a State Convention, and upon that Convention will depend the mode, manner, and boundaries of division.

The suggested boundaries will divide the present territory quite handsomely. "Sierra," the mountain division, has about 23,000 inhabitants, by the last census; "California" has 208,888; and "Tulare," the Southern State, including Los Angelos and San Diego, has 34,160 inhibitants, and about seven and a half millions of taxable property. This Southern State of Tulare, in the division, it is contemplated by many of the occupants to make a slave State of—and one of the objects of pressing the division is to establish slavery there.

The State debt of California is about three millions of dollars; and this debt, divided among the new States, would give California $2,883,333; Tulare $400,000; and Sierra $266,667.

We doubt not that the scheme can pass the Legislature and get to the people, but then it will encounter, in our opinion, an insurmountable difficulty.

OUTRAGEOUS SWINDLING.—One of the most outrageous transactions that has taken place under the late Administration, is the swindling of the Indians in Minnesota, by Governor Ramsey and a horde of leeches under him, out of a very large portion of money entrusted to the parties by the Government, to be paid over to certain tribes, to comply with the treaty stipulations. The Cincinnati Enquirer says the sum is as high as $296,000, which these dishonest officials have pocketed in this instance.

It seems that they robbed them in a double form. They first obtained the money in specie from the Government, and exchanged a large sum of it for spurious paper on the Bank of North America, pretending to be an institution at Washington City. This they took out to Minnesota and palmed upon the unlettered Indians as good money, which they now cannot get rid of at any price—the agents themselves refusing to touch it.

President Pierce's Personal Habits.

The Washington correspondent of the New York Courier says of General PIERCE "that he drinks no wine, and those who enjoy an intimate personal acquaintance with him, say that the bereavements and afflictions of his latter years and the pressure of onerous public duties since his election, have impressed him with a deep sense of religious responsibility, and given a tinge of gravity to his character which forms an observable contrast with the ardor and vivacity of his temperament at earlier periods of his life."

Those papers which charged him before election, with habits of intemperance, committed a cruel act—a crime which was as wicked as it was false and malicious. And what is worse, they have not to this day had the manliness to retract their base and damnable accusations.

THE SUSQUEHANNA RAILROAD.—There has been for some time much excitement in Northumberland county, Pa., in relation to the subscription made by the county commissioners to the stock of the Susquehanna Railroad, and on the 18th inst., the vote of the people was taken on the subject, which resulted as follows: For the subscription, 11; against it, 2,473. No vote was taken in Sunbury or Delaware townships. The objection seems to be to the alleged secret matter in which subscription was made.

Health of Vice President King.

NEW YORK, March 30,—Late advices from Havana represent the health of Vice President King to be without improvement, and that he continues very feeble. He is looking forward with much anxiety to his departure for Mobile, wishing to breathe his last among his friends and neighbors. It is thought that he has derived no benefit from his residence in Cuba, unless it be that the climate has prevented an increase of his complaint.

REAL ESTATE.—The sale of lottere property at New Orleans on the 17th inst., amounted to $716,700. The True Delta says:

Rumor has it that the Queen Mother of Spain was, through her agents here, a purchaser of a goodly quantity of this valuable property.—How true this report is, we are altogether unable to say.

FROM OUR WASHINGTON CORRESPONDENT.

CITY OF WASHINGTON, 30th March, 1853.

Messrs. Harper & Phillips:

GENTLEMEN:—Still hang on many of the applicants for important posts under the Government; and still are they likely to hang in a state of most uncomfortable uncertainty for some time. I am inclined to think, however, that most of those from our section of the country, who are still here, will leave for home about Saturday next at furthest; as the general belief is that matters will be settled, so far as it concerns most of them, by that time.

You will find in the Pennsylvanian of this morning an able editorial on the subject of removals from office. The ground taken in this article is such as has often been taken in the Morning Post; and is such as ought to be taken by every Democratic editor in the country. The fact is, the Press has not spoken out on this subject as it should have done; and as it must do, if we would retain the ascendancy in this country. It is better as the Pennsylvanian says, that, if those who have been in office must be continued there, it should be done fearless, straightforward, open and honest opponents, and not the craven, the abject, the cowardly, who, if they have an opinion, dare not give it expression."

I send you a copy of an address to the Working Men of the United States, by a committee of the "Working Men's National Association, No. 1, of Washington City, D. C.," which you may think worthy of publication. At all events there are points in it which are well worthy the consideration of the working class throughout the country, and to which their serious attention cannot be too soon attracted. The facts, the inroads of capital upon labor are becoming every year more perceptible; and unless the aggregate mind, as well as physical faculties of the operatives of our country shall soon be exerted on behalf of the cause of labor, we shall become as much enslaved, as a People, as are any of those whom some of our politicians term the "pauper nations" of Europe.

This address proposes, among other things, the establishment of associations of workmen, (without regard to their particular avocations,) with a view to concert of action throughout the country. This is an undertaking which can easily be accomplished; at least the operatives of our country have the power to form such associations in every city, county, and State of our country,—they possess the mind, if they will to exert it, for conducting such an association, in a manner calculated to accomplish all that is aimed at by the proposed organization—and they undoubtedly are blessed with a sufficiency of diversified information, to make themselves felt in every ramification of the government.

The operatives of our country do not sufficiently feel their own importance—they are constantly allowing mere political tricksters to wheedle them into the belief that they alone are competent to manage the affairs of the country, and therefore it is that our Legislative halls are almost filled with men who have neither moral honesty nor yet capacity for legislation; but who, from having the politician's great qualifications, impudence and ignorance, and always ready to offer their services to do all the dirty work that is, but too often done under the name of patriotism.

Most cordially do I wish those who have moved in the matter alluded to, every success—for I am sure that our country will be greatly benefited by a change in the material that goes to make up legislators and administrators of public affairs.

Yours truly, L. E.

OFFICIAL.

A PROMISING BOY.—The Salem (Mass.) Gazette relates an anecdote of an Irish boy, ten years old, who attends one of the intermediate schools, and whose mother is poor and a widow. He wanted a geography, and not being able to obtain one, went to bed with a heavy heart.—Early in the morning he waked and found that a deep snow had fallen—he got up and ran round among the neighbors, volunteering to clear a path on their premises, until he had obtained enough to buy his book, which he procured, and at 9 o'clock was in his seat at school, with the book in his hand.

LOCOMOTIVE EXPLOSION.—The boiler of the locomotive Oxford, connected with a freight train of the Androscoggin and Kennebec Railroad, exploded on Thursday, shivering the machine to atoms. The engineer was whirled into the air several yards. He was taken up for dead, but on being bathed with cold water, revived. The fireman was blown into the air, and fell upon one of the box cars. A piece of iron was driven by the explosion into the back of his hand. He received no other injury. The conductor escaped without a bruise.

MOST VILLAINOUS.—Philadelphia rascality is in the ascendant. On Sunday afternoon a respectable citizen of Southwark, who was walking down Front street, near the Southwark canal, with two invalid children, who were recovering from the scarlet fever, was assailed by two men, armed with a knife, and robbed of all the change he had about him, his life threatened, and brutally beaten because the amount of plunder obtained was so small.

☞ A German traveler informs the Rev. Dr. Phillips, a missionary in North Africa, that he has discovered a nation of negroes near the kingdom of Barbara, that are Jews in their religious rites and observances. Nearly every family, he says, has among them the laws of Moses, written on parchment, and although they speak of the Prophets, they have none of them in writings.—There are yet unexplored tracts of land in Africa, doubtless, inhabited by negroes who have never looked on the face of a white man. When adventurous travelers penetrate into these regions, much will be discovered and developed to astonish and interest the world.

Advices from Port au Prince of the 12th inst., state that sickness had entirely disappeared.—Business was brisk and American provisions were in good demand at remunerating prices. Coffee was scarce and dear; $8760 currency was paid for 2000 pounds, and logwood was $40 per 1000 pounds.

BARTLETT'S BOUNDARY COMMISSION.—This body is happily defunct, the chief, Mr. Bartlett, having been at last succeeded by Mr. Campbell, of Texas. Some $400,000 have already been expended in the business, and still the work is only begun—probably all that was performed under Bartlett having to be gone over again.

Bartlett was wholly unfitted for such an enterprise, and his outfittings was made manifest as much by the character of a good portion of the company that he organised and took with him, as by the manner in which he managed the survey. It is singular how he could have gathered together such a gang as a good portion of them were. Five were hung at Socorro for lawlessness, under sentence of Lynch law, administered by other members of the commission; one was murdered at San Antonio by a fellow member; one was shot by another member, between San Antonio and El Paso; one committed suicide, and two or three were murdered in broils at or near El Paso.—*Cin. ☞ An Irish half-pay colonel, named Stack, obtained an interview with the Duke of York, seeking promotion to the rank of Major General. On being introduced to the Commander-in-Chief, he was honored with the expression of the Duke's usual politeness, and the customary question, "Well, Colonel, what can I do for you?" "I perceive, sir," replied Stack, "that there is a breveting coming out, in which I hope to be included. I am the senior colonel in his Majesty's service." True, Colonel Stack; but give me leave to ask of what religion are you?" "I am of the religion of a Major General." The Duke bowed, and Stack was gazetted.

A NEW COUNTERFEIT.—We were shown by Mr. Dye, of the Bank Mirror, a new counterfeit, which was put in circulation yesterday. Several were received at one of our banking houses. It is a three dollar note of the Oneida Valley Bank, Oneida, N. Y. Vignette: liberty cap on pole, with shield and steamer; female with scales in one hand and sword in the other, on the right, and Indian on the left; figure three on the right and left of vignette, and is most admirably calculated to deceive the best judges.—*Cin. TENNESSEE COUPONS.—The N. Y. Express, of the 22d, says:

The coupons of Tennessee, payable in New York, have not been met to-day—in consequence, it is said, of a change in the Bank account. As soon as it is ascertained at what Bank the new account has been opened, the coupons will undoubtedly be paid. Tennessee is a State in high credit,—but this difficulty just at this moment creates anxiety.

Santa Anna at Carthagena.

General Antonia Lopez de Santa Anna, since he quitted Jamaica two years ago, has been living about six leagues from Carthagena, at a place called Turbacon.

His mode of life is calm and uniform. He does not even make any change for visitors in established rules. In the morning, after taking coffee, he mounts his horse and rides for a couple of hours. On his return, he takes a bath.—Breakfast is served at ten. At noon, the Republican capitalist goes into his cabinet, and like a banker or broker with us, receives the men who may wish to have transactions with him. Well posted up in his department of finance, it is said that like my uncle Matthew, he can tell what a crown will amount to in a quarter of an hour.

After the siesta, five times a week, the trainers of game cocks come with victims. The pit is opened. Santa Anna occupies the place of honor in the midst of his aviary, which is rich in a most beautiful collection of the biped gladiators. Generally the pride of the feathers leads the Lord Governor to take bad bets. Thus, it is said, the greater part of the profits of his usury is given back to the chances of the spur.

Before dining at 6 o'clock, the General takes another bath. He dresses in full military uniform when he has guests to whom he wishes to do honor. This is no slight sacrifice to politeness, I might say to vanity, in such a hot country. The table is most sumptuously served, and Santa Anna knows how to eat. Cards and music and dancing, drinking and smoking are prolonged till midnight. Then you are shown to your chamber by graceful mulattoes, where under good musquito nets, you may choose between a bed or a hammock, and sleep till sunrise. As soon as it is light, attentive waiters bring you a basket of fruit and a cup of coffee.

General Santa Anna, who speaks French correctly, is very reserved on politics. Still, it is easy to see that he has yet an ardent ambition concealed under this appearance of coldness.—His partisans understand the matter, and the diplomatic service is in request. The time is approaching when the financial crisis will finish the dissolution of the present organization of the Mexican Republic. It has been put off thus far only by the annual instalments of the Americans to pay for California.

M'Lane's Vermifuge.

☞ The effects of this truly extraordinary medicine are most satisfactory in all cases in which it has been tried. No other medicine has ever produced such effects so instantaneously. It has only to be administered, and relief follows as a matter of course. It has been used in the practice of the best physicians of our country, and by them been pronounced equal, if not superior to any medicine ever offered for the expulsion of worms. Read the following:—

George Maxwell, Augusta, O., has used it with great effect in his family, and has sold large quantities, which have given the highest satisfaction.

J. H. Cutter, merchant, Louisville, administered a dose to his child, which discharged a quart of worms. He has tried other Vermifuges in vain.

D. J. & J. W. Cotton, Winchester, Ind., happened to get a lot from an agent, which was soon sold out, and proving highly efficacious, became very popular, and sold more rapidly than any other Vermifuge.

☞ Low Spirits, Hypochondriac, want of energy and capacity for business or disposition to enjoy life and happiness, are wretched complaints which silently prey upon the constitution of the unhappy object. They are usually brought on through troubles and afflictions of the mind, sedentary habits, confined air and close application to study. They are sometimes attended with loss of appetite, indigestion, dyspepsia, nervous debility, frightful dreams, and a pallid, unhealthy, downcast countenance. Now, while these melancholy disorders exist, the bright sparkling eye loses its wonted lustre—the mind is prostrate and vivacity—the body its manly courage and vigor, and the noblest feelings of our nature gradually dwindle away to a fearful perish temper, until life becomes a burden, and other diseases arise to shorten the existence of the wretched victim.

A balm for these horrible disorders will be found in that excellent article, HALSEY'S FOREST WINE!

☞ Scrofula.—It is due to Kier's Petroleum to say that it has been known to completely eradicate every vestage of this dreadful disease in less time than any other remedy, and at less cost or inconvenience to the patient.

The thousands of certificates in the hands of the proprietor, many of which are from well known citizens of the city of Pittsburgh and its immediate vicinity, go to show clearly and beyond all doubt, that Kier's Petroleum is a medicine of no common value, not only as a local remedy in Pimples, Blotches, Dullness, loss of Sight, but as a valuable internal remedy, inviting the investigating physicians, as well as the suffering patient, to become acquainted with its merits.

Those having a dread of mixtures are assured that this medicine is purely natural, and is bottled as it flows from the bosom of the earth.

The following certificate is copied from a recent publication in Syracuse, N. Y., and bears date August 7, 1852, to which is also appended the certificate of the celebrated D. P. Fool, M. D., of Syracuse:

This may in truth certify, that I have been so badly afflicted with Scrofula for the last seven years that most of the time I have been unable to attend to any kind of business, and much of the time unable to walk and confined to my bed, and have been treated nearly all the time by the best Physicians our country affords; I occasionally got some relief, but no cure, and
